BERLIN, May 2.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler and his retinue of Germany's leaders left today for his state visit to Italy. His special train pulled out for Rome at 4:45 p. m. [10:45 a. m. Chicago daylight saving time.]

Berlin's population gave the Fuehrer a tremendous sendoff. Thousands jammed the Anhalter railway station, which was decorated with bunting and greenery.

The city's Italian colony appeared in full force as the ruler of Germany departed to make with Premier Mussolini an inventory of their common alignment confronting Europe's changing political conditions.

Reviews Guard of Honor.

Hitler arrived at the station half an hour before the train was to start and reviewed a guard of honor.

"Deutschland Ueber Alles," the national anthem, broke out when he entered the station, which reverberated with "Heils" and shouts of "Happy journey."

Speaking in the name of the German people, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering said good-by to his chief, declaring the hearts of all Germans were with him on this momentous journey. Goering, No. 2 Nazi, will remain in Berlin as acting head of the government.

His face radiant and his arms filled with boquets, Hitler waved to the dense throngs of admirers as the train pulled out.

Retinue in Another Train.

Another special carrying Nazi officials followed Hitler's train a few minutes later.

The Fuehrer, whose route is through Munich, Innsbruck, and Brenner pass, historic gateway to Italy from the north, will stop a few hours at Munich tonight.

His train will nose through Brenner pass shortly after 6 a. m. tomorrow [midnight Monday, Chicago time]. It will follow a tightly guarded route and arrive in Rome at 8:30 p. m. [2:30 p. m. Chicago time].

Visit Symbol of Unity.

ROME, May 2.—(AP)—Italy's square jawed Duce and greater Germany's determined Fuehrer will meet tomorrow to symbolize their unity.

It will be the third meeting of these European pace setters in their eventful working partnership.

While Italy prepared a spectacular welcome for the Nazi leader, attention was focused on what new events in Europe Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler might plan in the few hours for private talks they will have in the crowded program.

Repays Mussolini's Trip.

Hitler's state trip to Italy, repaying Mussolini's visit to Germany Sept. 25-29, 1937, will end May 10. Before their meeting last year the Fascist and Nazi leaders conferred June 14-16, 1934, in Venice.

Officially Hitler's visit among the ruins of imperial Rome, dressed up in his honor, is heralded as a demonstration that Fascism and National Socialism [Naziism] are united in effort and that attempts to becloud this unity are destined to fail.

It follows Hitler's annexation of Austria, the British-Italian agreement of April 16 for settling Mediterranean, African and Spanish issues between Britain and Italy, France's move for a similar accord with Mussolini, and the defensive alliance of Britain and France.

Topic of Parley Secret.

Many reports circulated as to what Mussolini and Hitler would discuss but authoritative information was lacking.

Some circles said a military alliance would be developed, but others said they doubted that Fascist-Nazi collaboration would go that far.

The authoritative commentator, Virginio Gayda, declared the Fuehrer's coming had a three-fold significance:

"First, it will affect the course of the Fascist-Nazi rejuvenating revolution.

"Second, it will affect the combined protection of Italian and German interests.

"Third, it will affect the development of world foreign policy to which Italy and Germany now are such inspiring, collaborating parties."

Public comment ignored the greatest factor in Italo-German relations since Mussolini visited Germany—the Nazi absorption of Austria.

This move found little sympathy

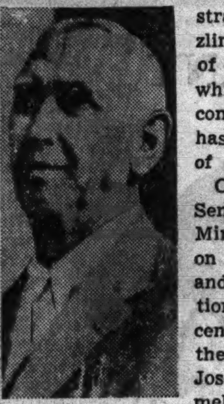
Case Rouses Fears for Free Press.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., May 2.—[Special.]—In old Vincennes today Indiana had a demonstration of a muzzling of freedom of the press which has led to comment that it has the earmarks of dictatorship.



Walter A. Ewing.

On the heels of Senator Sherman Minton's attack on newspapers and his introduction of a press censorship bill in the senate, Mayor Joseph W. Kimmel of Vincennes today sat as judge in the case of three men whose arrest he had caused in connection with a campaign circular criticizing his administration.

Two of them were released from jail late this afternoon on bonds of $1,000 each. The third, Walter A. Ewing, was let off after submitting an apology saying he did not know the contents of the circular prepared by the mayor's political opponents.

Raid Ordered by Mayor.

Ewing's large printing plant, where ballots are printed for seven counties, was raided Saturday night by police. They confiscated type used in printing campaign literature. Orders for the raid were given by Mayor Kimmel, an adherent of the McNutt-Minton-Townsend state house machine, which charged criminal libel against Ewing.

Mayor Kimmel is a candidate for state senator. By virtue of his office as mayor he is also judge of the Vincennes police court.

As mayor he had the police raid the printing shop and as judge sat in judgment upon the men against whom he had brought charges. Critics here in the state capital say it was a perfect dictatorship setup, as far as dissemination of the printed word goes, and that the method would throttle critics of a public administration and choke off the arguments of political opponents.

Factor in Primaries Campaign.

The happenings at Vincennes were viewed here as perhaps the most significant thing which has occurred in the campaign for the Indiana primaries, which will be held tomorrow.

Kimmel is opposed in tomorrow's primaries by a group of Vincennes Democrats known as the Kimmel Machine Busters. Ewing, the printer, belongs to the group.

The two men freed on bonds were arrested for distributing a four page leaflet written by the Machine Busters and printed by Ewing.

The leaflet criticized Kimmel's administration as mayor of Vincennes on the ground that the tax rate has gone up, that a road was built passing his orchard when other streets needed repair, and that he failed to contract for sufficient street lighting.

The circular said Vincennes is the poorest lighted city of its size between Chicago and Florida, and that this darkness enabled robbers recently to carry off a large safe from

Simone Tells of Gold Keys to Secret Friend

Los Angeles, Cal., May 2.—(AP)—Two solid gold keys to the home of Simone Simon, French film actress, which she had engraved and gave to an unnamed friend, were exhibited today at the preliminary hearing for her former secretary, Sandra Martin, on charges of pilfering $11,000 from the actress' bank account.

Simone Simon on witness stand.

Cross-examining Miss Simon on details of her expenditures, the defense lawyer, William E. Simpson, brought out that the actress also gave her unnamed friend:

1. A pair of solid gold hairbrushes, costing $295.
2. A gold watch fashioned in the form of a golf ball.
3. A $180 dressing gown and slippers.
4. A pair of pajamas.

Pouts and Refuses to Tell.

Asked later by newsmen to identify the friend, she deepened her famous pout and replied: "You'll never know."

Questioning the actress about a $735 check which Miss Martin cashed, Simpson asked: "Do you recall directing Miss Martin in December, 1937, to purchase and have engraved with certain initials two solid gold keys?"

"Yes," replied Simone faintly.

"Didn't you order her to have the engraved blank keys made to fit the door of your house, and order her to pay the bill?"

"No," replied Simone heatedly. "I wrote a check for all those things."

Pajamas Wouldn't Fit.

"Didn't you also tell Miss Martin to buy a dressing gown for $180, also some good pajamas and slippers?" asked Simpson. "And weren't they also gifts for the same person?"

"Yes, but I took the pajamas back," said Simone, adding with a demure smile that they didn't fit.

PAJAMA CLAD BABY TRAFIC COP GIVES POLICE A MYSTERY

Motorists rubbed their eyes at 11:45 last night when they saw a little blond boy in outing flannel pajamas trying to direct trafic at Ashland avenue and Grace street.

Miss Helen McLaughlin of 3800 Greenview avenue ran after him, picked him up, and tried to get him to tell her who he was and where he lived and what he was doing out at that time of night. But he didn't know and so she took him to the Town Hall police station, where Sergts. John Walsh and John Nick decided he was 18 months old and that he'd climbed out of bed while his parents slept to go for a walk.

They waited two hours for some one to claim him. Then they sent him off to St. Vincent's orphanage for a night's sleep, although he preferred to stay where he could play with telephones.

IDLE, CASH LOW, HE REPAYS $100 TO U. S. FOR AID

Washington, D. C., May 2.—[Special.]—Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, today turned over to the treasury department a postal money order for $100, made out to the treasurer of the United States from Fred Hohner, an unemployed mechanic of Newark, N. J., sent to repay the government for shelter given to him in 1935. Hopkins was informed by New Jersey WPA officials, whom he asked to investigate, that when Hohner sent the money on April 18 he had only $12 left and that he was without a job. Hohner told the investigator that he had not intended to send the money until he found a job, but his money was getting so low that if he didn't pay at once there wouldn't be any money left. "The government did its best to me and I wanted to do my best to the government," he said.

Coogan Wins First Round in Fight for Film Fortune

Los Angeles, Cal., May 2.—(AP)—Jackie Coogan emerged the victor today in the preliminary battle to regain his childhood earnings when Judge Emmet H. Wilson overruled demurrers to his accounting suit against his mother and his stepfather and confirmed the appointment of a receiver. He also enjoined Arthur L. Bernstein, Jackie's mother and stepfather from disposing of asets.

Sluggers Kill Sports Writer on U. of C. Staf

The murder early yesterday of Paul Davidson Maclean, 32 years old, a sports writer in the press relations bureau of the University of Chicago, grew more mysterious last night as Woodlawn police gathered evidence concerning his last known movements.

Maclean, a graduate of Dartmouth college, former football player, and brother of Norman Maclean, an English instructor on the Midway, was found beaten about the head at 5:30 a. m. yesterday in the alley between Eberhart and Rhodes avenues, just south of 62d street. He died a few hours later.

Seen 4 Hours Before Murder.

Robbers may have been the murderers. Police said last night that circumstances indicated other possibilities.

Maclean was seen alive a short distance from the alley as late as 1:15 o'clock yesterday morning, only a little more than four hours before he was found dying in the alley.

Sidney Corenson, 6239 Eberhart avenue, told police he saw a man, whom he later identified as Maclean, standing across the street from his home at 12:55 a. m. At one time the man threw himself flat on the ground. Then he rose and in what Corenson described as a pretended stagger, walked to the corner of 63d street and Eberhart avenue.

On that corner, a few minutes earlier, Corenson had seen two colored women and a Negro. They moved away as the man approached the corner. Corenson last saw the man be believes was Maclean at 1:15 a. m.

Hears Scuffle in Alley.

Shortly before 5 a. m. Edward Miller, 6234 Rhodes avenue, heard cursing and sounds of scuffling in the alley behind his home. Nearly an hour later he found Maclean unconscious in the alley. This is also behind 6231 Eberhart avenue, not far from where Corensen said he had seen Maclean.

Another witness, H. D. Adkinson, 1451 East 65th place, told police he saw a young man scuffling with two others at 63d street and Drexel boulevard Sunday night. The man walked away and the others drove off in a car. Police took Adkinson to the Indiana Felons Put Youth Out of Auto in Ill.

BULLETIN.

Search for the escaped Michigan City convicts was concentrated on the section about Roberts, Ill., forty miles southwest of Kankakee, when an abandoned car believed to be the one in which the felons fled was found there early today.

Four long-term convicts escaped from the Indiana state prison at Michigan City last night by hiding in a freight car until it was shunted through the prison gates.

Kidnaping a young motorist six blocks from the prison in his own car, they zigzagged about the country until almost midnight, when they pushed him from the car on a lonely road two miles west of Kankakee, Ill., six hours later. He made his way to the office of Sherif John Stack of Kankakee county in Kankakee, where he told his story.

Illinois highway police were as a result blockading all roads in the northern part of the state early today. Because the convicts seemed unfamiliar with the roads it was believed they soon would be trapped.

All Serving Long Terms.

The convicts are Ernest Powell, 35 years old, serving a ten year robbery sentence from Marion county; Ernest Grigsby, 38, serving a five to twenty-one year robbery term from Vigo county; Wilbur Dawson, 38, serving a ten year robbery sentence from Grant county, and Frank Mears, 34, who was sentenced to ten to twenty-five years for robbery in Randolph county.

Three of the convicts had been filling a box car with empty metal barrels. With an auger they bored holes in the bottom of the car until they had almost cut away a section large enough for a man to crawl through.

They waited until the car had been inspected and sealed and with the fourth felon crawled beneath and pounded out the section they had prepared. Then they crawled in and waited until the car had been pushed outside, where it was to be added to a freight train.

Sees Convicts Approaching.

Once outside they raced off. As they neared the Frederick H. Burnham Glove company factory they saw Melvin Breining, 22 years old, sitting in his gray sedan. Breining, a bookkeeper and bass viol player, was waiting to meet Miss Marie Louise Flotow, 22 years old, when she quit work at the factory at 5 p. m. He saw the convicts approaching, but believed they were workmen until they leaped into the car.

"You're going with us," one of them told him. "We just got out of prison."

Although the felons had no guns, Breining said he knew he dared not resist. One pushed him out of the driver's seat and drove off, with Breining beside him and the others in the back seat.

West of Michigan City the outlaws forced Breining into the rear seat between two of their number, while the other two rode in front. For six and one-half hours they zigzagged over country roads, avoiding towns and often doubling back on their tracks.

"They were all very pleasant," Breining said. "They told me they

LABOR BOARD ASKS COURT TO DROP FORD CASE

Improper Influence Issue Raised.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—[Special.]—Assailed by new charges of acting as the tool of John L. Lewis and other C. I. O. leaders in harassing employers, the National Labor Relations board moved quickly today to avert a judicial investigation of its acts and procedure.

Charles Fahy.

Charles Fahy, general counsel of the board, petitioned the federal Circuit Court of Appeals at Covington, Ky., for leave to withdraw its citation of the Ford Motor company on charges of violation of the Wagner act.

The board stated that this action was taken in this case and will be taken in other cases in order to revise its procedure and bring it into line with the decision of the Supreme court last week in the Kansas City stockyards case. In this decision the Supreme court held that commission men had not been given a fair hearing by the secretary of agriculture in the fixing of rates. The labor board procedure has been similar to that condemned by the Supreme court in the stockyards case.

Procedure Questioned.

If the court permits the labor board to withdraw its petition for enforcement of its order against the Ford Motor company the board will succeed in averting the judicial investigation of its procedure sought by the Ford company in a petition filed with the court before receipt of the board's request to withdraw the case.

Some of the charges indicated by the fifty-seven interrogatories propounded by the Ford counsel for investigation by the court were exceedingly sensational. One of them was whether the board in arriving at its decision accusing the Ford company of violation of the Wagner act had consulted John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization; Homer Martin, president of the C. I. O. union of automobile employés; Benjamin V. Cohen, and Thomas Corcoran, members of the Roosevelt brain trust.

Lewis Declines to Talk.

Inquiries regarding the truth of the implied charges met with denials or refusal to talk on the part of Mr. Lewis and the other persons involved. Members of the labor board flatly declined to discuss the accusations on the ground that the question is still in the hands of the court.

The Ford case goes back to last Dec. 23 when the labor board found the motor company guilty of violating the Wagner labor act, and ordered the company to reinstate twenty-nine employés allegedly discharged for union activities.

The board also ordered the Ford company to stop discouraging membership in the U. A. W. A. or any other union, and to post notices in its Dearborn and Highland Park, Mich., plants stating it would comply with the board's order. The complaints against the Ford organization were filed by the United Automobile Workers of America, a C. I. O. affiliate headed by Martin. At the time Ford officials charged that the labor board's findings were based on prejudice.

Asks for Documents.

The company announced it would appeal, but gave no hint of the nature of its appeal until yesterday when its lawyers appeared in the Circuit Court of Appeals here. Without equivocation their petition implied that President Roosevelt's legal aids, Corcoran and Cohen, Lewis and Martin had a hand in framing the labor board's guilty finding against the company. The suspicions were raised inferentially.

The petition wanted to know whether the men named—with Corcoron and Cohen named first—were consulted by the board prior to the board's order of Dec. 23, or whether any other officer or employé of the government, or any officer, representative, or attorney for the United Automobile Workers of America had been consulted.

The company demanded copies or duplicates of any communications, advices or recommendations accepted by the labor board from Corcoran, Cohen or the C. I. O. chieftains. It insisted upon being given—if they exist—any memorandums which may have passed between labor board members and labor board employés who helped to prepare the record against the Ford company.

Then the Ford petition went into the question of whether the board had granted a full and impartial hearing, or one more or less ex parte in which the company, as defendant, was not accorded its rights under due process of law.

Did the board or any single member, the company asked, read all or any part of the stenographic transcript of the testimony before the trial examiner? Did any board member, employé or other person prepare any summary, analysis or synopsis of the testimony?

Did any member of the board read or inspect each exhibit?

Did the board or any member make use of any material, oral or written, other than presented at the hearing?

Did the board consider the propriety of the trial examiner's rulings on company objections to certain testimony or exhibits?

And, finally, did the board read the company's petition for a rehearing?

Court's Ruling Withheld.

If the court accedes to the Fahy petition to withdraw the proceedings against the Ford company the board will be spared the threatened judicial inquiry into its procedure. If the court refuses the Fahy plea it will then determine whether to inquire into the charges made by the Ford counsel.

Even if the board should escape a judicial inquisition there still remains the possibility of an investigation by congress. Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.] is the author of a resolution of investigation of the board which was shelved by the senate judiciary committee several weeks ago. The senator said today that he has by no means abandoned his demand for an investigation.

In his arraignment of the board before the judiciary committee, Senator Burke cited numerous acts of the agency which he asserted were dictated by Mr. Lewis or other C. I. O. leaders. He characterized the board as an adjunct of the C. I. O. President William Green of the American Federation of Labor indicted the board to the same effect.

Green Opposes Board Rule.

It was because of his experience of the discrimination of the board against the federation in favor of the C. I. O. that Mr. Green eventually rejected the provision of the wage and hour bill committing the administration of the proposed law to a board.

The labor board is not the only government agency that Mr. Lewis is said to dominate. Throughout the C. I. O. strikes against the automobile factories and the steel mills his influence was discernible at the department of labor. His domination of the bituminous coal commission has been well established. In that agency his power was superior to that of the President himself.

Indications that the labor board may be planning a fairer policy in its dealings with employé-employer relations were hailed by the National Association of Manufacturers as "a crum of encouragement" in relieving some of "the uncertainty surrounding the nation's business." But, said the statement, it fails to reach into the fundamental issues which are doing the most damage from the viewpoint of employer-employé relations. "These issues can only be reached by an amendment of the Wagner act and marked improvement in its administration," the statement stated.

Herb Doctor Sent to Jail on Charge of Nonsupport

Lester Killips, 918 Eastwood avenue, an herb doctor and pharmacist, was sentenced to the House of Correction for 30 days yesterday by Judge John T. His wife, Elizabeth, 1122 North Richmond street, mother of four children, said he left her in January and that she had received only a postcard from him since.

didn't want to hurt my car and drove slowly.

"But they said they needed my clothes and so made me change with one of them. I had $5 and a watch, but they said they didn't want them. I'd need the money, they said, to get in touch with my folks and get back home.

'Finally they said they'd have to have the car and put me out. But they told me not to worry because they'd be careful of it and leave it within fifty miles of the place they pushed me out."

State police said early today that they were receiving calls from farmers between Kankakee and Decatur that the convicts were stopping at their homes and demanding weapons. So far as was known no guns were obtained.

The prison break was the second at Michigan City within the last three months and the latest of many in the last five years. On Feb. 10 five convicts sawed their way to freedom. It was from the Michigan City prison that ten felons escaped in 1933 under a break engineered from the outside by the late John Dillinger to form the nucleus of the killer gang that Dillinger led until he was shot to death in a G-man trap here in the summer of 1934.

WPA TIMEKEEPER GETS 60 DAYS FOR FAKING RECORDS

Joseph McCue, a WPA timekeeper at Worth, was sentenced yesterday to 60 days in the County jail by Judge Philip L. Sullivan in the United States District court on charges of falsifying WPA records.

According to Assistant District Attorney John J. Moreschi, McCue, who is 40 years old, obtained $54.50 by failing to report employés who were absent from work, then dividing with them the extra pay their received. Roland W. Koeppe, 4554 North Springfield avenue, was sentenced last month to 30 days for obtaining $47 by a similar scheme. Koeppe was also employed as a timekeeper.

RAID ON INDIANA PRINTER VIEWED AS DICTATOR ACT

Vincennes Case Rouses Fears for Free Press.

a business place almost across from the city hall.

Kimmel has said all this is untrue.

Denies Knowing of Contents.

When Printer Ewing was brought before Mayor Kimmel sitting as Judge Kimmel today, he had a written apology, saying he was just a printer and did not know the contents of the leaflet, which was brought to him to print by Floyd L. Young, Democratic county attorney and prominent in the American Legion. So the case against Ewing was dismissed. The two circular peddlers pleaded not guilty. They were charged with criminal libel.

What Kimmel may seek to do against Young is a matter of conjecture in Vincennes.

In his muzzling action, Kimmel invoked a section of the corrupt practices act which seldom has been used. Opinion here today was that the Vincennes mayor exceeded the law, which does not empower confiscation.

Some contended that Printer Ewing had a good cause of action against the mayor and the Vincennes chief of police, Noel Swayze, who invaded the plant with two armed police for confiscation of property.

Lawyers who have long been in politics say the law was directed merely against scurrilous literature in a campaign.

Tense Fight in Indianapolis.

Tensest battle of the lot in tomorrow's primary election is over the Indianapolis mayoralty nomination. On the Democratic side, Sherif Otto Ray is battling Reginald H. Sullivan, former mayor and candidate of the organization tied up with the McNutt-Minton-Townsend state house machine.

The sherif has denounced organization members as beer barons and racketeers. He has built a barbed wire stockade in the county jail yard in which he says he will impound election cheaters he will arrest at the polls tomorrow. Ray is supported by a group known as Machine Busters, Inc. A third candidate is Edward Snethen, a lawyer.

The four Republican candidates for mayor are Herman C. Wolff, former head of a school committee; George A. Henry, an attorney; Earl Teckemeyer, and Ward B. Hiner.

No state-wide offices are on the ticket tomorrow, since nominations for these will be made at state conventions.

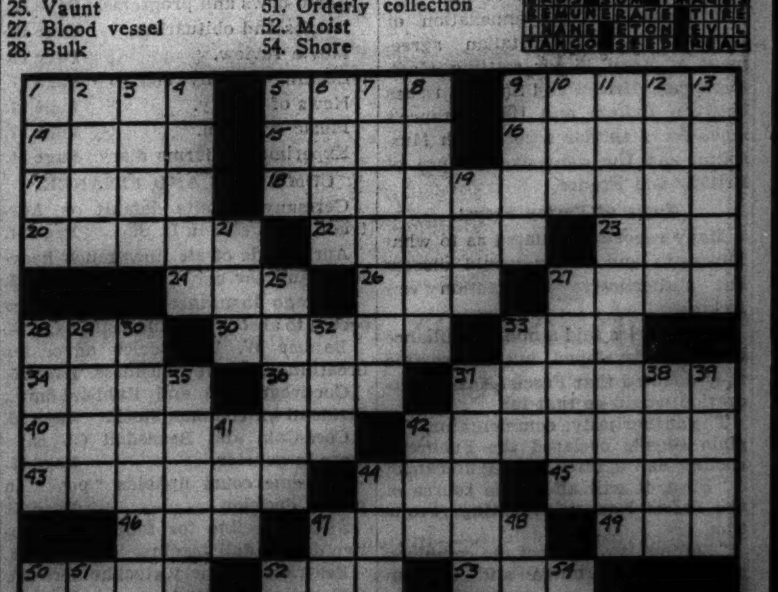
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



58 TRAINS WILL BRING LILACS TO CITY TOMORROW

Same Schedule Is to Be Followed Friday.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Time schedules of the fifty-eight lilac trains that will carry blossoms to Chicago shutins and invalids over six suburban lines tomorrow and again on Friday were announced yesterday. The blossoms are being given by thousands of home gardeners in the tenth annual "share your lilacs" campaign, sponsored jointly by the Chicago Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

This is the tenth year that the railroads have furnished free transportation from the suburban stations along their lines to the downtown terminals. Trucks used in hauling newspapers are furnished by THE TRIBUNE to take the flowers from the terminal stations to hospitals, settlement houses, old people's homes, and other institutions.

Take to Nearest Station.

Lilac growers are advised to take their bouquets to their nearest steam or electric suburban station. The train schedules follow:

ILLINOIS CENTRAL — Any suburban train, but lilacs must reach the Randolph street station not later than 10 a. m.

ROCK ISLAND—One train which leaves Blue Island at 9:51 a. m., arriving at the La Salle street station at 10:36 a. m.

AURORA AND ELGIN—Any train, but lilacs must reach Chicago terminal not later than 10:02 a. m.

NORTH SHORE LINE [Skokie Valley route]—Train No. 708, leaving Libertyville at 8:17 a. m. and Briargate at 8:37 a. m. [Shore Line route]—Train No. 614, leaving Lake Bluff at 8:26 a. m. and Lake Forest at 8:29 a. m.

BURLINGTON—Only on train No. 32, leaving Aurora at 8:02 a. m. and arriving in Union station at 9:10 a. m.

NORTH WESTERN [All divisions]—Any train, but the lilacs must reach the North Western station in Chicago by 10 a. m.

These schedules will be followed tomorrow, May 4, and repeated Friday, May 6.

The beaming sun that flooded the Chicago area yesterday caused the lilac buds to swell. Most of the flowers are expected to be in ideal condition for cutting late this afternoon.

Thousands On the Job.

Before the sun goes down tonight thousands of gardeners around homes, estates, club grounds and parks will have cut and packed their flowers in cartons ready for delivery to the suburban trains tomorrow morning.

Lilac growers throughout the Chicago region will share their blossoms with patients in more than 130 of the city's hospitals and institutions. Farmers as well as growers in the suburban towns for 40 or 50 miles around have been giving lilacs in the guild-Tribune campaign started in 1929.

The goal of the campaign workers this year is to equal the record set when individual bouquets from an unusually heavy crop of lilacs were placed at the bedside of 21,000 persons last year.

SNAKES IN IOWA ARE GARTER, NOT BOTTLE VARIETY

Fort Dodge, Ia., May 2.—[Special.]—However harmless they may be, garter snakes are not welcome in Fort Dodge, where residents feel they are getting more than their share of the spring snake crop. Schoolboys armed with sticks set out to rid the town of the reptiles and killed dozens of them.

The snakes have appeared in such numbers that householders last week appealed to the city council for aid. They found the snakes in attics, basements, and coiled on windowsills in a district about a block square.

Housewives were terrified, although officials assured them there was absolutely no danger from the snakes. They are not poisonous and they do no harm whatever, except to the nerves of beholders.

DISPERSE RELIEF REBELS.

The Des Plaines street police yesterday dispersed nineteen men who had refused to leave the front of a relief shelter at 740 West Harrison street after being told the shelter was full.

Woodlawn hospital. There he identified Maclean's body as that of the man scuffling.

Maclean was taken to the Woodlawn hospital. Examination disclosed a basal skull fracture, probably caused by a club. There were other injuries. The victim's body and clothing showed he had fought his assailants.

In Maclean's pockets was $4. This seemed to refute robbery. Yet his co-workers later said he had cashed his pay check Saturday and should have had at least $50 left from his salary. None of it was found in his room at 6234 Ingleside avenue.

Vice Investigation Denied.

Detectives, headed by Sergt. Ignatius Sheehan, were interested in Corenson's story placing Maclean at 63d street and Eberhart avenue. Police said Maclean had been drinking and in regard to Corenson's presumption that the man he saw was a detective, police suggested Maclean may have been working on an independent investigation. Maclean's superiors denied this. Police said the university occasionally sends in private reports of vice in the district.

Maclean's home was in Helena, Mont. He was graduated from Dartmouth in 1928. He was a member of the honorary Sphinx and Pleiade societies there, and an editor of several college publications. He came to the University press bureau a year ago. He was a champion handball player.

FRENCH DICTATOR INCREASES TAXES TO PAY FOR ARMS

All National Levies Raised 8 Per Cent.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 2.—Premier Edouard Daladier tonight presented France with the price for part of the bill for rearming and for years of reckless spending in the form of an 8 per cent increase in all national taxes.

The tax increases were included in a series of decrees which were approved by the cabinet. They will take effect immediately. This is the first use Daladier has made of the dictatorial powers vested in him by parliament.

The greatest shock to the average Frenchman was the 8 per cent increase in income and other direct taxes. The increase, however, strikes hidden taxes as well. The boost came on the heels of last week's hike in departmental and municipal taxes all over France.

Taxes on Radios Boosted.

Under the new decrees, taxes on radios, dogs, bond and stock transactions, banking operations, unfurnished apartments, and a long list of other items were raised a flat 8 per cent.

A surtax was placed on the profits of factories working for national defense and allied industries. On the other hand certain taxes on business and industry were lowered slightly in the hope of increasing production.

Included in the series of decrees was one designed to encourage France's tourist trade. It included a special reduction in railroad fares, the price of gasoline and other advantages to tourists spending more than a week in France.

Identity Card for Tourists.

A special identity card will be issued to tourists. It was announced that a penalty of one year in prison will be inflicted upon foreigners who return to the country illegally after their expulsion as undesirables.

Another decree was reported to have abrogated what remains of the 40 hour week. It was expected that the government would promulgate a decree aimed to prevent abuse of the strike weapon by political agitators and also to take drastic steps to revive national economy.

Apparently, however, the cabinet has not yet been able to agree on these vital matters nor on the size and condition of the new national defense loan. Thus the main points of Daladier's recovery program still remain a mystery.

HEAR MOTORMAN TELL STORY OF N. SHORE WRECK

A coroner's jury in North Chicago yesterday returned an open verdict in the killing Sunday of Mrs. Amanda Oglesby, colored, by a North Shore electric line train at the 15th street crossing in that city.

Motorman B. T. Burke of Milwaukee testified that he sounded his whistle as he saw her approaching in an automobile. Burke's train, south bound, was derailed. It tore down an overhead arch used to support trolley wires, and the arch scraped the roof of a north bound train, causing injuries to eight persons in the latter train. The two trains did not sidewipe, he testified.

There are no protections at the 15th street crossing, which is close to the Commonwealth public school. Ald. Guy Lunn and Police Chief Jacob Novak said they would insist on crossing gates or a watchman.

Files for Divorce

MRS. EZRA J. WARNER.

A divorce on grounds of desertion is asked in a suit filed yesterday in the Superior court by Mrs. Rosamond M. Warner, 1338 North Dearborn street, against her husband, Ezra J. Warner, son of the late E. J. Warner of Sprague, Warner & Co. Their wedding was a social event of 1932 in New York, where Mrs. Warner's parents are socially prominent.

Ernest J. Schein, attorney for Mrs. Warner, stated that a property settlement is being worked out and that the husband, who is in New Mexico, will not contest the suit. Mrs. Warner's unwillingness to follow her husband to the southwest, where he has interests, was the cause of their separation, he indicated. The Warners have a son, Ezra J. Warner IV.

1936 'L' TRAGEDY MOTORMAN HELD AS DRUNK DRIVER

The arrest of Van R. Grooms, the motorman in an elevated tragedy in 1936, on a charge of driving an automobile while drunk, was revealed last night with his release from the Lake county jail in Waukegan on bail of $300.

Grooms, who is 36 years old and lives at 401 McDaniels avenue, Highland Park, was arrested in Belvidere street, Waukegan, Saturday night, after he drove his car into one driven by Rigenal Park, 2327 Kenmore avenue. Police booked him for drunken driving, causing an accident, and violating the dram shop act. It is charged that Grooms had a partly filled bottle of liquor in the car. He will appear May 12 before Magistrate Clarence Brown.

On Nov. 24, 1936, Grooms, motorman of a North Shore electric train, crashed the train into a rapid transit train at the Granville avenue station. Eleven persons were killed and nearly sixty others hurt. A coroner's jury freed, but censured him. Grooms is now a salesman.

POLISH AMNESTY FOR EXILES ASKED BY PADEREWSKI

Nation Is Gripped with Political Unrest.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, May 2.—Mysterious developments in Poland's internal politics today attracted much attention.

Foreign Minister Josef Beck left Warsaw for an unrevealed destination Friday. Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, chief of the army, disappeared from public view.

Another development causing discussion is publication of an interview with former Premier Ignace Paderewski. In it he suggested that opposition parties open negotiations with the present rulers to form a national consolidation government.

Interview Causes Sensation.

The interview, untouched by Polish censorship which during the past twelve years prevented Paderewski from addressing the nation, caused a sensation.

Paderewski discussed the recent speech of Eugene Kwiatkowski, vice premier and finance minister, who informed the nation over the radio that the rulers of Poland considered the composition of the cabinet, parliament, and the electoral law open to change. The vice premier said the leaders would not agree to a change in the constitution nor would they ease their grip on foreign affairs.

Paderewski, whose enormous influence and prestige among the Poles both at home and abroad, has proved the greatest obstacle of the government from obtaining a popular following, retorted that one of the chief conditions for a truce between the opposition and the government is full amnesty for Wincenty Witos, leader of the People's party and former premier, Adalbert Korfanty, and other political exiles living abroad.

Peasants Organize Boycott.

Communist elements meanwhile are coöperating with the Peasant party which is organizing another boycott directed against supplying towns with foodstuffs. The movement is widespread in southern Poland, especially in the Cracow district where large detachments of police and militia are concentrated. The government's conflict with the peasantry last year resulted in riots in which eighty farmers were killed.

Large troops movements from the Lithuanian frontier into the Polish Ukraine also caused excitement in Warsaw. It is believed that Smigly-Rydz' secret departure from Warsaw is connected with mobilization of the army at Poland's frontiers with the Soviet Ukraine and Czechoslovakia.

Eighteen Quit Government Party.

Eighteen senators and deputies in parliament announced their resignations from the government's National Unity party after protesting against the dictatorial methods of party leaders.

Wiktor Swiwski, Polish foreign office press chief, who has ordered the expulsion of a correspondent representing a newspaper in the Netherlands. The writer's articles about pogroms connected with the recent anti-Lithuanian demonstrations incurred the government's wrath.

300,000 Unlisted Galaxies of Stars Revealed by Photos

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., May 2.—[Special.]—The universe was expanded infinitly, at least in thought, at a symposium on its physical nature from primordial particles like cosmic rays to super galaxies, which was opened by world noted physicists at the University of Notre Dame today.

Dr. Harlow Shapley.

Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of Harvard observatory, reported for the first time on a new census of the heavens which reveals 300,000 unpublished galaxies of stars. When this survey is completed it is definitly known now that this number will be doubled. Until now the catalogs have had less than 50,000 galaxies.

Our home galaxy is the Milky Way system. There is a group of super galaxies around this, but this group makes a very small sub-system. With the unaided eye only two or three of the outside galaxies can be seen in the northern hemisphere and from the whole earth only about a half dozen are visible. The majority of the 300,000 new ones are so faint that they cannot be seen with a telescope, but they can be photographed.

The Virgo super galaxy, Dr. Shapley said, is the most important because it is the nearest one to our own. It is less than ten million light years away. It is an oval shaped cluster which contains about 300 smaller galaxies.

It is not necessary on the basis of existing observations, Dr. Shapley said, to abandon the expanding universe theory. The author of this theory, Canon Georges LeMaitre of the University of Louvain, visiting professor at Notre Dame, was one of those at the symposium today.

Another important conclusion was reached from this Harvard survey. It has been assumed generally that galaxies have no destiny gradient—that is, a distribution that might be compared with a human population distribution per square mile. It has been found that the population of the galaxies in the southern skies is five times more than the population in the northern skies.

The significance of this discovery Dr. Shapley explained, is that we no longer can accept the hypothesis of a uniform distribution of galaxies.

HEY, POP, HERE'S A ROCKER THAT WILL NOT CREEP

All the satisfaction which used to go with the old fashioned rocking chair is guaranteed in a new chair called a platform rocker, which stays in one spot, buyers at the Merchandise Mart furniture show learned yesterday. Meanwhile at the American Furniture Mart, where another midseason market opened yesterday for a week's duration, wholesale buyers found a modern version of the old fashioned Tester bed intriguing.

With canopy and ruffles and four slim posters hinting of romance in old mansions with high ceilings and crystal chandeliers, the modern version nevertheless is small enough for an apartment bedroom with low ceilings.

To make up for the rocker his wife will occupy, the man of the house next season may loll in what is called a siesta chair. Shown at the Merchandise Mart, the chair contains two concealed cushions which the after-dinner napper may pull out to fit his entire length.

Baby Swallows Pills Left on Floor in Moving; Dies

Jack Wilmot, 2 years old, died yesterday in St. Bernard's hospital after having swallowed pills he found on the kitchen floor in his home at 337 West 59th place. The child's mother, Mrs. Verna Wilmot, said she had accidentally left the pills on the floor in the confusion of moving into the apartment last Friday.

ROYALTY GLOWS; HOHENZOLLERN WEDS ROMANOFF

Houses of Imperial Russia and Germany United.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 2.—Prince Louis Ferdinand, the heir apparent of the throneless Hohenzollerns, and Grand Duchess Kira of the throneless Romanoffs, the daughter of Grand Duke Cyril, the self-styled "Czar of all the Russias," were married in Potsdam today. The civil and Russian [Greek] Orthodox ceremonies were held in Cecilienhof castle, the former German imperial residence.

The glamor and splendor of bygone days were apparent when a hundred royal and titled relatives of the couple gathered in their dazzling uniforms and jewels to witness the religious ceremonies performed by three Russian church dignitaries in bejeweled robes. Eleven commoners attended, but no high Nazi officials.

The reality of the present was evident when the registrar at the civil ceremony presented Reichsfuehrer Hitler's book, "My Struggle," to the bridegroom who wore the parade uniform of a reserve lieutenant in the German air force. The couple signed the register with their fathers, the former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Germany and Grand Duke Cyril. The bridegroom is 30 years old and his bride is 29.

Leave for Kaiser's Castle.

The newlyweds, their parents, brothers and sisters, entrained tonight for Doorn, The Netherlands, where Protestant services, supervised by former Kaiser Wilhelm II. of Germany—Louis Ferdinand's grandfather—will be held on Wednesday.

The great hall of Cecilienhof castle was turned into a chapel with an altar in front of a huge bay window for religious ceremony. The bride wore a gown of richly embroidered silver brocade, nearly 100 years old—a court dress of her grandmother, the duchess of Coburg, who was the only daughter of the Russian emperor Alexander II. Her headdress was a diamond studded tiara. Her bracelet and neck piece were made with diamonds presented to her by the ex-kaiser.

The groom's mother, Crown Princess Cecile, was a regal figure in gray. She wore the famous collar and diadem of rubies known as the "imperial Russian rubies." Friedrich Wilhelm wore a black Death's Head Hussars' uniform, heavily trapped with silver cord, his chest glittering with decorations, and a stiff plume rising from his busby.

Prince To Be "Boss."

The ritual was read both in German and Slavonic and lasted nearly an hour ending with the presentation of rings to the bride and groom by the priests, the sipping of wine and kissing of the cross.

An old Russian superstition played a part when a pinkish cloth was spread on the floor before the couple. Tradition has it that the one who first places a foot on the cloth during the service will rule the household. Louis carefully managed to be the first to touch the cloth.

After the Russian ritual, the Rev. Bruno Doehring, who will officiate at Doorn, read parts of the Hohenzollern house prayer, "Lord show us thy path that we may walk therein."

At the wedding breakfast, held in three large rooms, Friedrich Wilhelm said:

"The old traditional ties between the Russian imperial house and the Prussian royal house once again have been tied. Unfortunately they have been rent asunder by the world war, but you have brought us together again."

HITLER SPEEDS FOR ROME AMID GERMAN CHEERS

Thousands Bid Him Fond Farewell.

among many Italians, as it brought German troops to Brenner pass, but everything has been done to assure Hitler a rousing welcome. Streets will be overflowing with flag-waving, cheering crowds when the Fuehrer rides from the railway station to the Quirinal palace with King Victor Emmanuel.

University students who demonstrated against Germany after the annexation of Austria March 13 will not appear as units during the visit. They have been scattered among the armed forces.

For weeks detectives from all over Italy have been alert for persons who might cause trouble, investigating foreigners particularly. A squad of German secret police has aided them in investigating German refugees and other anti-Nazis.

Some have been rounded up and others ordered to leave Rome, Naples, and Florence—the three places Hitler will visit—until after he has departed. Unofficial estimates fixed the number involved at between 6,000 and 7,000.

BRITISH DRAG U. S. INTO THEIR PACT WITH MUSSOLINI

Premier Argues Roosevelt Put His O. K. on It.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 2.—The facility with which the British are able to drag America into European politics was illustrated in the house of commons today. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain cited President Roosevelt's expression of approval of the new British-Italian agreement as an argument why the house of commons should also approve it.

He was asking parliament to approve the treaty which was signed April 15.

The house of commons by a vote of 322 to 110 gave its approval by rejecting a Labor motion to renounce the pact.

Points to Roosevelt's Words.

"France is not alone in approving this agreement," Chamberlain said before the vote was taken. "We have had congratulations from the Balkan entente. The President of the United States also has signified his sympathetic interest because he considers these efforts proof of the value of peaceful negotiations."

This brought a rejoinder from Herbert Morrison, Laborite, who has just returned from the United States. He told Chamberlain he had no right to quote President Roosevelt as approving the agreement, and that he knew very well that Mr. Roosevelt did not pass judgment on the treaty as such. Morrison indicated that he believed Chamberlain was trying to get the United States mixed up in European politics.

"I am surprised that the prime minister should have made a statement which was really a misstatement of what President Roosevelt said," Morrison said. "The prime minister has taken liberty with the head of a very great nation with whom it is important that Great Britain has no misunderstanding."

Lloyd George Joins Attack.

David Lloyd George, wartime premier, said the President had refrained from passing any judgment on the political aspects of the pact.

"The prime minister should really not claim President Roosevelt approved it," he cried. "Some one has misled him."

The attacks brought Chamberlain to his feet. He protested that he had quoted the exact words used by Mr. Roosevelt.

[On April 19 President Roosevelt said the United States government "does not attempt to pass upon the political features of accords such as that recently reached between Great Britain and Italy, but this government has seen the conclusion of an agreement with sympathetic interest because it is proof of the value of peaceful negotiations."]

Chamberlain, in asking for approval of the pact, reviewed the negotiations since he and Mussolini exchanged letters last year.

Called Step Toward Peace.

He said his purpose was to restore confidence that peace can and will be maintained. To do that, he argued, grievances had to be removed. He said one of the danger spots to peace had been the British position with regard to Italy. He said his pact paved the way for "future coöperation with Italy in those areas in which our interests were mutual."

Mussolini has given oral assurance to the British that the Italians will abstain from creating difficulties or embarrassment for Great Britain in the administration of Palestine, Chamberlain told his critics. The prime minister said that "signing this agreement already has effected a radical change in relations between our two countries."

"Clouds of mistrust and suspicion have been cleared away," he added. "The people now regard one another with determination to promote mutual friendship instead of hostility. I believe that between Italy and ourselves the agreement marks the beginning of a new era."

Laborites and Liberals attacked the agreement on the grounds that Mussolini could not be trusted, and because his troops were still helping the rebels in the Spanish civil war.

CZECHS MODIFY DRAFT OF MINORITIES LAW TO SOOTHE GERMANS

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, May 2.—(AP)—Premier Milan Hodza, guided by advice from London and Paris, was understood tonight to be planning modification of his minorities statute drafted to meet demands of Czechoslovakia's German population.

Authoritative sources said government action probably would be forthcoming within two weeks. It was said that negotiations with Czechoslovakia's 3,500,000 Germans would precede the final draft of the premier's statute, but only on the condition that Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German Nazi leader, would be willing to consider his demands as the maximum and not the minimum wanted by his followers.

His demands include revision of the nation's foreign policy and self-government with Nazi principles for the German minority.

LOW HUNG PIPES COMFORT DAWES IN N. Y. HOSPITAL

When Charles G. Dawes, former Vice President of the United States, who is convalescing from an appendix operation in New York, isn't sleeping, he's smoking. And he still smokes those upside-down pipes which he made famous a decade ago. An attendant in the Roosevelt hospital, where Dawes is recovering, said yesterday that the general has seven underslung pipes at his bedside, and he lights one the minute he awakens. "He thinks sleep is just a nuisance between smokes," said the attendant.

CHINESE TIGHTEN GRIP ON JAPANESE HELD IN POCKET

Send Fresh Troops Around 3 Sides of Tancheng.

SHANGHAI, May 2.—(AP)—Three Chinese columns were reported encircling Tancheng, strategic walled town twenty miles north of the Lunghai railway, today while 10,000 fresh Chinese troops were being rushed to that sector.

In a desperate effort to halt the reënforcements, Japanese warplanes subjected them to almost continuous bombardment. The Chinese attack on Tancheng, however, already had developed into a battle of major proportions, threatening communication lines of the Japanese advance guard near the Lunghai.

The question of whether the Japanese were approaching their second major military disaster in Shantung was being discussed by foreign military experts, who expected decisive action within a week.

Deadlock Favors Chinese.

If the Chinese can hold their lines a week longer, these experts declared, the Japanese—already wearied and battered—will need heavy reënforcements both in men and guns to prevent a complete stalemate which would be tantamount to defeat.

Such reënforcements necessarily must come from Japan since further denudement of other provinces in North and Central China is judged impossible. Withdrawals of Japanese troops from Shansi and Honan provinces already have enabled the Chinese to establish a buffer zone fifty miles wide on the north bank of the Yellow river, halting the Japanese threat on that front.

The significance of the present deadlock, foreign military experts pointed out, is the constant drain of Japanese munitions which must be transported hundreds of miles.

While not minimizing the possibility the Japanese may yet break through, these experts regard each day of deadlock as a new gain for the Chinese.

British-Jap Tension Rises.

Meanwhile, Japanese efforts to combat Shanghai terrorists brought friction between the Japanese and authorities of the International Settlement.

The friction developed when Japanese gendarmes moved into the Louza police station in the heart of the International Settlement after an attempt had been made to bomb a Japanese troop truck. British troops marched in and began patroling the Nanking road area, but returned to their barracks after the Japanese gendarmes were withdrawn.

Tension in Shanghai also was increased by reports that thousands of Chinese guerrillas had slipped into the city secretly to harrass the Japanese. One report said 5,000 of these guerrillas were in Shanghai.

The Japanese dominated "reformed government of China" at Nanking named Li Chien-nan superintendent of customs at Shanghai, where before the war approximately half of China's customs were collected. This was in line with Japan's efforts to control the customs service here, which has been opposed by British and other foreign authorities.

JAMAICA POLICE KILL FOUR SUGAR WORKERS IN RIOT

KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 2.—(AP)—Four persons were killed and seven wounded today when police fired into a crowd of 700 rioting laborers on the Tate and Lyle estate near here.

Fifty arrests were made. The rioters were disarmed of guns, sticks, and cutting tools. Disturbances started Saturday with a strike of 600 workers building a sugar refinery. While police reënforcements hurried to the scene the strike spread to another Tate and Lyle estate, ten miles away. There a fifteen acre cane field was set on fire and overseers were attacked.

The laborers walked out Saturday demanding their pay be raised from 50 cents to $1 a day and improvement in housing conditions.

LOYALISTS HURL BACK REBEL PUSH ON TERUEL FRONT

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish Frontier], May 2.—(AP)—Spanish rebel Generalissimo Francisco Franco hurled his Teruel army against the loyalist lines south of Aliaga today. Successive mechanized attacks were made. At one time tanks and infantry made their way to advance government machine gun nests on the peak of San Anton only to meet fire which left the slopes strewn with dead.

The government said all attacks were repulsed. Aliaga is about 30 miles northeast of Teruel and 70 miles inland from the Mediterranean. San Anton peak is near a road from Aliaga south to Mora de Rubielos in the Gudar mountains. The road connects with the Teruel-Sagunto highway to the sea.

Clearer weather permitted rebel aircraft and artillery to bombard government positions. These had been so well camouflaged, however, that few of the explosives found important objectives.

SIX MORE C. I. O. UNITS EXPELLED FROM A. F. OF L.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—(AP)—Chances for peace between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization virtually vanished tonight after the federation's executive council expelled six more C. I. O. units.

The International Ladies' Garment Workers now is the only C. I. O. unit to retain its A. F. of L. charter. The garment workers are merely under suspension from the federation.

The council severed the last connection today between the federation and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers of North America, the United Rubber Workers, the United Automobile Workers, the United Textile Workers, and the Oil Field, Gas Well, and Refinery Workers.

Three months ago the council expelled the United Mine Workers, the Mine, Mill, and Smelter Workers, and the Federation of Flat Glass Workers.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, refused to explain why the council skipped the garment workers in the expulsion order. It is known, however, that the council has high hopes that they will return to the A. F. of L. under guidance of David Dubinsky, who has advocated unity of all organized labor.

A. F. OF L. MINERS TO OPEN OFFICES IN LOOP TODAY

The Progressive Miners of America, newly internationalized union of the American Federation of Labor, will open national headquarters at 53 West Jackson street today, Joe Ozanic, president, said yesterday. The union, under A. F. of L. sponsorship, is about to open a campaign to convert members of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers back to the federation. The federation chartered the Progressive union last week as the first step in a move to shut off miner's dues and assessments which furnish Lewis with his war chest for C. I. O. and political activities.

JAPAN RESTRICTS USE OF GASOLINE NEEDED FOR WAR

Citizens Urged to Make Sacrifices for Nation.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, May 2.—Facing an unprecedented crisis as a result of the prolonged hostilities in China, the Japanese people were implored today by Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe to buck up and face their difficulties with renewed vigor.

A war measure designed to check the flow of money abroad for the purchase of petroleum hit all car users. Private drivers were restricted to a gallon of gasoline a day and taxi drivers to seven gallons. Fares were hiked from 25 cents to about 55 cents for a five mile trip, but the government warned against profiteering. High officials are riding trams and subways rather than automobiles to promote the economy measure.

Other Measures to Follow.

The government will begin enforcing other parts of the war mobilization bill on May 5 to effect stricter control of industries and national economy. The bill was passed recently by parliament along with the electric power control bill and a budget of 8 billion yen [$2,320,000,000]. The war office is distributing pamphlets declaring citizens should make greater sacrifices for the nation in the present emergency.

Premier Konoe, speaking at a conference of provincial governors, declared that the war measures will have to be enforced effectively and with caution. He urged the public to increase savings and added that for the harmony of the whole people individual desires will have to be repressed.

Japan cannot withdraw from the campaign in China until Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's régime is crushed, Konoe said. This policy must remain unchanged at all costs, he added.

Disregard Russian Demand.

The government has disregarded Moscow's demand to close its consulates at Khabarovsk and Blagoveschensk by April 15. Russia took no steps until yesterday when the Japanese consul at Blagoveschensk was informed that he would no longer be allowed to transmit code telegrams.

Tokio holds that existing treaties give the soviet union no right to establish the principle that Japan may have only the same number of consulates as Russia and declares that the Japanese interest requires that maintenance of consulates in these two Siberian cities. Negotiations are being conducted in Moscow.

1,500 CHURCHMEN ARE BENEFITED BY HITLER AMNESTY

BERLIN, May 2.—(AP)—Church circles tonight estimated 1,500 Protestant pastors and church officials benefited by the May day amnesty Adolf Hitler proclaimed for violators of Nazi party laws.

Charges against these churchmen had been pending but now come under the heading of "political" offenses, liable to six months' jail terms or fines, which will not be prosecuted.

Only the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, militant leader of the Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] synod, will not benefit by the amnesty since his case is in the hands of the secret police and not the courts. Church circles said the amnesty would save churchmen about $600,000 in court fees.

STRIKES LAWYER IN COURT; GETS 3 DAYS IN JAIL

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday sentenced Theodore Hynda, 55 years old, 1424 North Artesian avenue, to three days in the county jail for slugging Attorney George Delbert Gray in court.

Hynda was present during a hearing on reorganization of a building at 1000 Loyola avenue, in which he and his wife have an equity. Attorney Gray appeared to secure a $1,200 lien for a client who had previously foreclosed another building of Hynda's.

Soon after Gray began his arguments, Hynda walked up to him and struck him in the face. Judge Sullivan immediately imposed sentence for contempt of court.

REPORTS PERNICIOUS ANEMIA CASES HALTED BY USING BEER YEAST

Atlantic City, N. J., May 2.—(AP)—Dr. Maxwell M. Wintrobe of Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md., reported today that six persons suffering from pernicious anemia had been restored to health during the last year by feeding them a yeast powder such as that used in making Carlsburg beer. He told the American Society of Clinical Investigation that every person treated with the yeast cells had rallied and that a dozen other cases now being treated were expected to recover.

20,000 BACKWARD PUPILS WILL GET SPECIAL TESTS

Approximately 20,000 elementary school pupils, reported by their teachers to be exceptionally backward in their studies, will be given psychological examinations before schools close in June. Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, said those pupils found to need special teaching will be transferred to one of the ungraded classes for slow learners in thirteen schools.

"In our special classes for slow pupils we try principally to teach them to read," Dr. Johnson said. "Slow pupils in the regular classroom injure themselves because they don't get the necessary special attention and also slow up the progress of the normal pupils."

COUNCIL SPEEDS TEMPORARY CODE ON SMALL HOMES

Draft Ordinances to Be Submitted This Week.

The city council subcommittee which is working on the new Chicago building code will receive one, and probably two, draft ordinances setting up a temporary code for small residences by the end of the week.

At the request of Mayor Kelly, F. J. Thielbar, chairman of the committee of sixty-eight experts which drafted the general code, Joseph McCarthy, a member of that committee, and Robert Knight, deputy building commissioner, are working on one draft. Provisions covering small dwellings are contained in a number of chapters of the proposed code which still await council action.

Lifted Out of General Code.

It will require only a few days' work, Mr. Thielbar said, to lift these provisions out, embody them in a temporary code, and present them to the council. This ordinance would be superseded, when the council finishes passage of chapters of the general code.

Another draft is being prepared by Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th]. Ald. Lindell yesterday criticized the organization of the expert committee's code as it applies to small homes. Provisions are scattered through so many chapters, he contended, that the home builder, lacking the services of an architect or engineer familiar with the code, would have difficulty finding what he could and could not do. For this type of construction, he maintained, all of the relevant provisions should be collected in one chapter.

"I also have a conviction," said Ald. Lindell, "that the code should permit at least protected frame construction—brick veneer—inside the present fire limits. Mr. Thielbar has told us that with proper spacing in relation to lot lines, even frame buildings might not be objectionable.

Same Insurance Rates.

"I understand that if frame dwellings were kept at least five feet from the lot line on both sides, making a space of ten feet between adjacent dwellings of this type, the fire underwriters would give the same insurance rate, or nearly the same rate, that they charge on brick residences.

"We have to make it possible for people to build homes for $5,000, or homes to rent for $35 a month, if we are going to have much building. That is where the present market lies."

The limitations on building nonfireproof structures within a certain distance of the lot line have been suggested before, and on a previous occasion met objections from Ald. James J. McDermott [14th], chairman of the subcommittee on the building code. He pointed out that 25 foot lots are prevalent in Chicago, and that a five or six foot restriction would mean buildings only 15 or 13 feet wide.

Upholds Ruling on Code.

The Appellate court yesterday upheld a ruling by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher, who held that the present building code does not prevent use of steel casement windows of a new type in which the sash swings on a pivot somewhat as a French window does.

Everett R. Brewer, 6320 Harvard avenue, was refused a building permit on the ground that windows of this type fail to comply with a provision in the code requiring that windows open seven feet from the floor. His attorney, Fred I. Simon, argued that that provision was meant to apply only to windows with sliding sash, and the court upheld the argument.

PUSH TWO PLANS FOR QUICK RELIEF OF WEST TRAFIC

Park Chief Backs Pair of One-Way Streets.

BY HAL FOUST.

(Maps and diagram on back page.)

The Chicago park district is preparing alternative plans for a pair of one-way boulevards between the outer drive or Michigan avenue and the city limits on the west. Robert J. Dunham, president, yesterday directed his engineers to complete their studies before next Tuesday's meeting of the park board. At this meeting, he said, he will ask the commissioners for formal authorization to present the proposals to the city council.

Plan No. 1 would use Jackson boulevard for east bound trafic between the lake front and the city limits at Austin boulevard. Westbound trafic would use Monroe street to 5th avenue and thence on 5th avenue, and Adams and Quincy streets to the city limits.

The Second Plan.

Plan No. 2 would use Washington and Warren boulevards for eastbound trafic between Michigan avenue and Austin boulevard. West bound trafic would use Randolph street as far west as Union park, thence in Washington to Garfield park, and thence west in West End avenue.

The Washington and Randolph street system would involve a transformation in the Randolph street market where vegetable trucks and illegal all day parkers now clutter a pavement 117.5 feet wide, preventing this wide street from being of any value to through trafic. Otto K. Jelinek, park district trafic engineer, has evolved a scheme whereby four express lanes, all west bound, would occupy the center of the street, segregated by curbs from street cars, with parking and local trafic on 37 feet of pavement on each side of the express lanes.

"These proposals," said Mr. Dunham, "have no relation to any of several expensive west side superhighway projects, such as elevated highways or the Congress street development. We are trying to get prompt relief from trafic hazards and congestion on the west side by some means within our present purse limitations.

Cost Less than Million.

"The Jackson and Monroe job would cost about $300,000, including $125,000 of park funds, and the Randolph and Washington job would cost about $750,000, including about $550,000 of park funds. At present we lack the $350,000 that would be needed to buy real estate for a right of way for West End avenue."

Mr. Dunham also announced that the progressive timing of west side boulevard trafic lights will be completed by June 1. Mr. Jelinek said that the average driving time on west side boulevards is being stepped up 50 per cent by the adjustment of the lights to eliminate stops when driving at designated speeds. These speeds are to be posted. They will range from 20 to 25 miles an hour. The park district is spending $50,000 on this reform.

"TALL STORIES"—No. 2

"For years fishermen had pursued Big Oswald, the phantom of Dogtooth Lake. Never was there such a fish for getting away with your bait! One day I became disgusted. Abandoning hope of catching Big Oswald, I tied a Blatz Old Heidelberg beer bottle to my line for a bobber and sat down to fish for lesser fry. Suddenly I felt a terrific pull! Big Oswald, irresistibly drawn by the prospect of a cool bottle of Blatz Old Heidelberg beer, had disdained the bait and swallowed my bobber! (That's where he got hooked—I'd already gotten away with the Old Heidelberg!)"

TEN MOTORISTS SENT TO JAIL AS ERRATIC DRIVERS

Five Others Are Fined by Safety Judge.

Judge J. M. Braude in the Safety court yesterday sentenced ten motorists to the county jail, fined five others, and placed one on probation.

Thomas Alcock, 2509 North Halsted street, was sentenced to 35 days in jail on charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. Driving in Irving Park boulevard near Kilpatrick avenue Sunday he struck two automobiles. The second contained Policeman Claus F. Noelck, who pursued Alcock and caught him.

These Sent to Jail.

Defendants jailed for reckless driving, and their sentences:

CARL LINDAHL of 5828 Washington boulevard, 60 days.

JAMES STEPHENS, colored, 4104 South State street, 10 days.

ALFRED JOHNSON of Markham, Ill., 5 days.

RAY HILKIN of St. Charles, 5 days.

WILLIAM ANDREWS, 1643 West Monroe street, 20 days.

ROY JONES, Whiting, Ind., 20 days.

JOHN KWESTER, 1532 South 49th avenue, Cicero, 5 days.

WILLIAM GREENLEE, colored, of 9354 South Ashland avenue, 5 days and a $10 fine for driving without the owners' consent.

Frank Cassidy of 1307 North Dearborn street was sentenced to five days in jail for leaving the scene of an accident. Those fined were: William Buhal Jr., 945 Gordon terrace, $50; John Ostrand, 10453 South State street, $10; Charles Adair, 517 Melrose street, $25, and Arthur Smith, 6227 Blackstone avenue, all for reckless driving, and Robert Lampson, 237 North Menard avenue, $100 for drunken driving.

Jack May, 21, of 24 North Austin boulevard, was placed on one year's probation for driving while intoxicated. All sixteen defendants were deprived of their driving privileges for varying periods.

Love at 50 Miles an Hour.

Even in the spring, said Police Magistrate Frank Pavek of Berwyn yesterday, it is improper to make love while trying to drive an automobile at 50 miles an hour. Arthur Schauer, 25, of 1939 South Christiana avenue, who admitted driving with one arm around his girl, was fined $15, but said it was worth it.

Because James Cook, 21, 618 West 18th street, wrote a theme setting forth the merits of a bicycle over an automobile for young drivers, Magistrate Pavek dismissed him on a charge of driving through a stoplight.

BOY AUTO DRIVER HITS CHILDREN; TWO ARE INJURED

A girl and a boy were injured last night when they were struck by an automobile driven by William De Franz, 14 years old, 5820 Melrose street, at Dickens avenue and Clifton street. The girl, Mario Carlino, 5 years old, 2101 Clifton street, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital where her injuries were reported to be serious. The boy, Vincent Geraci, 4 years old, 1041 Dickens avenue, was treated at the Children's Memorial hospital. Young De Franz said he was driving the automobile on an errand for his father, Cecil De Franz, a bakery salesman. He was held by Hudson avenue police.

Louis Gamache, 45 years old, secretary and vice president of the Service Printers, Inc., 701 South La Salle street, was charged with manslaughter and leaving the scene of an accident yesterday after an inquest into the death of Thomas Smith was opened and continued until May 17.

Smith, who was 70 years old, was killed early Sunday near his hotel at 661 West Madison street by a hit and run driver.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 290 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 229 were killed in Chicago, where 5,674 were injured in the same period.

MILWAUKEE BAR TO PASSING OUT HANDBILL UPHELD

Judge Nohl Also Fines Anti-Japanese Pickets.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., May 2.—[Special.]—A city ordinance forbidding the distributing of handbills and circulars was upheld today by Municipal Judge Max W. Nohl as being no interference with the constitutional guarantee of the freedom of the press.

Judge Nohl reversed District Judge Harvey L. Neelen, who, sitting as a magistrate, had dismissed pickets arrested for the distribution of literature advocating a Japanese boycott. Judge Nohl fined three defendants $1 each on appeal. Judge Neelen also had dismissed twenty-one pickets whom the police arrested for distributing handbills at the E. G. Shinner Company, Inc., markets, where members of the meat cutters and butchers' union are on strike.

Similar to Georgia Case.

Judge Neelen held that although the Milwaukee ordinance does not provide for licensing distribution of bills, the cases were similar to the Griffin, Ga., case, where the United States Supreme court recently held it was a restriction of the freedom of the press to interfere with the distribution of bills.

Judge Nohl decided the purpose of the local ordinance was to prevent littering the streets and clogging areaways, which he found a proper police power of the city. He suggested that the ordinance be amended to define this plainly as its purpose "in order to avoid objections that may be made to the ordinance from time to time."

Plans Appeal to Supreme Court.

Arthur W. Richter, counsel for the defense, said there would be an appeal from Judge Nohl's decision to the state Supreme court.

"There is nothing in the ordinance about littering up the streets," he declared. "It simply forbids circulation or distribution of handbills." He said the police discriminated in their enforcement. They paid no attention to distributors of commercial handbills, he declared, but arrested them for passing out pamphlets.

The Milwaukee Community forum praised Judge Neelen for dismissal of the cases. The Forum said he was quick to "apply the United States Supreme court decision protecting and safeguarding a fundamental and civil right of the American people."

"The Milwaukee ordinance," Judge Nohl's decision said, "being without the restraint of a licensor or a censor as to the text of the handbills or to who may or may not peddle the bills and having in its terms nothing to indicate an attempt to restrain the freedom of the press, but indicating the purpose among other things of having our public places kept clean and tidy, the court finds the ordinance valid and not within the condemnation of the Griffin, Ga., case."

MALONE WILL MAKE PROBATION PLEA IN U. S. COURT TODAY

William H. Malone, former chairman of the Illinois tax commission, will appear this morning before Federal Judge William H. Holly with a motion for probation from his sentence of two years in prison for evading income tax payments.

The United States Supreme court recently refused to review a decision of the Appellate court which affirmed the conviction. Judge Holly ruled yesterday that the high court mittimus could not be served until he decides the matter of probation.

Malone's attorneys, Albert Fink and Sylvester J. Konekamp, declared they would present a petition signed by 2,000 leading citizens and most of the jurors who convicted Malone, recommending probation. They also will cite his advanced age and frail health, they said.

SAVE BUSINESS BLOCK.

Carbondale, Ill., May 2.—(AP)—A block of business buildings was threatened by fire at noon today which caused an estimated $15,000 damage to only one building. The Murhpysboro fire department joined Carbondale firemen and had the flames under control within an hour.

"Now a man would approach

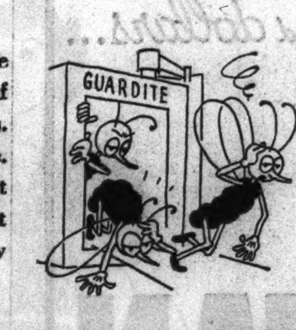
Fur Storage like this,"

said Mr. Casper Potts

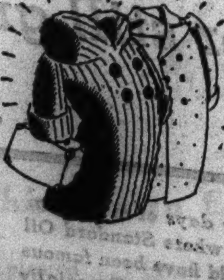
And, striding up and down the living room, he talked of superior intellects, the fruits of business training, the respect due an investment like Mrs. Potts' mink, the need of finding the one place in Chicago worthy of its storage. "A man would find it, if he had to sift all the data," he said.

"Take my business—Tobacco," Mr. Potts orated to his bride of 20 long years. "We use Guardite, the absolute method of destroying insect life. Government uses it for archives. Costly scientific equipment. All Greek to you, of course. Give you women a gilt edge asset like mink and you wrap it up in moth balls or send it any old place for storage. What do you know about moth prevention? What do you know of the benefits of cold, dry, circulat . . ."



"One moment, Casper," said Mrs. Potts in a quiet voice. "Let me sift some data. Field's has Guardite. Every garment stored there automatically spends 90 minutes in the Guardite chamber and no form of insect life can survive. Then it's stored in Field's own frigid cold vaults to protect the natural oils and luster. It's complete storage protection—and only at Field's in Chicago."

Mr. Potts wilted visibly. "Very commendable, my dear," he said. "Evidently association——." He cleared his throat. "Then by all means send the mink, and my overcoats, to Field's this year, if rates are not excessive."



"You're a year late, Casper," said Mrs. Potts, a little wearily. "The mink and your overcoats went to Field's last year, when they put Guardite in. They came home in beautiful shape. And the storage rates are the same as elsewhere—3% up to $400 valuation, 2% above. I've just telephoned Field's to call for them tomorrow. Women know how to approach Fur Storage, Casper. You see, women know Field's."

If Mrs. Potts hadn't been tired of talk, she'd have told Casper about Hollanderizing, too. It's more than cleaning . . . more than glazing. A regular tonic for your coat. Process was originated by A. BANDIT SUSPECT SLAIN; SON, TWO OFFICERS HURT

Wife and Children in Bullet Torn Shack.

Danville, Ill., May 2.—[Special.]—A paroled convict suspected of bank robbery was killed in a gun battle today that left his young son, a federal agent, and a deputy sherif wounded after a raid upon his river bank hideout near Armstrong, Ill., twenty-five miles northwest of here.

Joe Earlywine.

The suspect was Joe Earlywine, who had been hunted for questioning about a series of bank robberies in Illinois and Indiana. Officers said they found him in bed and that he opened fire without warning when two federal agents entered his home.

Federal Agent William Ramsey from Peoria, Ill., fell with bullet wounds in his abdomen and both arms. His partner, W. A. Stammuth was wounded slightly in his shoulder.

Wife and Baby Endangered.

Bullets whizzed about the little shack, passing through walls in all directions. Earlywine's wife, hugging her baby, 11 months old, crouched in a corner terror stricken by the shooting. A random bullet found their son Virgil, 7 years old, and pierced his chest shortly before his father's gun was silenced.

A posse that went to the Earlywine home included the two federal agents, Sherif Harry C. George, three deputies, and Illinois and Indiana police.

While the two federal agents went inside, the others surrounded the house with the expectation of seizing two accomplices of Earlywine. They arrested John Huellett, who was plowing in a field. Fred Steffler was found later at his home.

Suspected of Many Robberies.

Ramsey had been working on the case for two weeks, having entered the matter through the government's insurance of bank deposits. Earlywine was suspected of participating in robberies in Vermillion and Champaign counties in Illinois and a bank near Sheridan, Ind.

Records of the federal department of justice show that Earlywine had a long criminal record. In 1921 he was given a one to eight year suspended sentence at Frankfort, Ind., fcr chicken theft. The following year he was charged with rape, but was acquitted at Noblesville, Ind.

He was sent to the state reformatory at Pendleton, Ind., in 1926 to serve a one to fourteen year sentence fcr grand larceny. Following his release he was sentenced to the Indiana state prison at Michigan City in 1934 to serve from two to fourteen years for conspiring to commit a felony. He was paroled Dec. 21, 1936.

POLICE BELIEVE THEY HAVE CLEW TO GEM BANDITS

Chicago avenue police indicated yesterday that they were close on the trail of at least one of the three bandits who daringly kidnaped and robbed Bror G. Dahlberg, president of the Celotex company, and five other persons on Lake Shore drive Sunday night.

"We have an idea as to one of the robbers," admitted Capt. Thomas Harrison,

Those robbed with Mr. Dahlberg were his wife, Attorney and Mrs. Leonard B. Ettelson of 179 Lake Shore drive, and Attorney and Mrs. Andrew J. Dallstream of Barrington. The Dahlbergs live at 999 Lake Shore drive. The three couples were kidnaped in a cab in front of 179 Lake Shore drive, driven several blocks south, and robbed of jewelry valued at more than $20,000, and some cash.

DELAY HEARING UNTIL MAY 23 ON POLICE SCANDAL

Judge Rudolph F. Desort of the Criminal court yesterday continued until May 23 charges against Detectives Earl Flannery and Frank McKune, who were suspended as a result of a Town Hall police station scandal in February.

First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley said the principal witness, James Burke, chauffeur for a north side handbook operator, is missing. The detectives were accused of releasing two men arrested by two other policemen while robbing Burke.

ADMITS SLAYING FORMER HUSBAND DURING QUARREL

Mrs. Adelaide Chesney, 38 years old, confessed yesterday to Assistant State's Attorney Howard Christensen that she shot and killed her former husband, Frank Kolar, 43, an ex-convict. Kolar was found fatally wounded early yesterday near her tavern at 1708 North Ashland avenue.

Mrs. Chesney, who uses her maiden name, said Kolar had been attempting a reconciliation, but always became abusive. In her tavern, Mrs. Chesney said, she showed him a gun she carried for protection, and said that some day he would pay for his abuse.

When Kolar replied that if that was the way she felt she could go ahead and shoot, Mrs. Chesney said she did, but did not intend to kill him. Kolar was released last July from Joliet penitentiary whence he once escaped while serving six years for larceny.

579 LISTED AS SEX OFFENDERS IN STATE PRISONS

Dr. Paul L. Schroeder, state criminologist, anonunced at a meeting in Stateville prison yesterday that 579 convicts in the four state prisons are classed as sex offenders and as such are subject to segregation under a state law passed at the last session of the legislature. He was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Association of Illinois State Welfare Institutions, of which Joseph E. Ragen, superintendent of prisons, is president.

Others who might be classed as sex criminals, although convicted of other crimes, would bring the total to about 1,100, Schroeder said. There is no definite trend, up or down, in statistics on sex crimes, he added. In 1900 4 per cent of the prison population consisted of sex offenders, in 1920 the figure was 12 per cent, in 1930 it was 6.7 per cent, and in 1937 10.8 per cent, he said.

Don't Keep on Having Constipation!

If constipation's got you down—so you feel heavy, tired and dopey—it's time you did something about it. And something more than taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat only the things most people do, the chances are that a very simple fact causes your constipation—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, eat crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. All-Bran is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains the natural intestinal tonic, vitamin B_1.

FARM REBELLION ON CROP QUOTAS ROILS WALLACE

Mobilizes His Agents to Crush Uprising.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—Special]—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace is mobilizing his agents to crush the revolt of corn, cotton, and tobacco farmers against regulations which they protest are ruinous, congress was told today.

Representative Arthur H. Andresen [R., Minn.] charged that Wallace had dispatched several secret service operatives to attend the Macomb, Ill., mass meeting held April 27 by farmers from the corn area.

Among Wallace's agents at Macomb was Guy Bush, sent there from the AAA offices here.

Complete reports have been received by the secretary of agriculture concerning the objections of farmers to the compulsory control features of the agricultural adjustment act of 1937, Andresen said.

Predicts Farmers Will Rebel.

"Apparently Secretary Wallace does not like these obstacles coming from the farmers in his home territory to obstruct his long cherished dream of control over American farmers," Andresen said, "therefore he has ordered his assistants to crack down by saying, 'We will not give an inch and you can take it or leave it.'

"The secretary will find that he is not dealing with puppets or pawns when he orders the corn belt farmers to 'take it or leave it.' They know what they want when they want it and I am willing to trust the final answer to their judgment as honest and hard working, liberty loving American citizens."

Andresen declared that a "harsh and dictatorial" attitude toward the protesting farmers had been taken by Claude R. Wickard, a division director and spokesman for Wallace. Wickard told the corn belt farmers that the administration would not yield an inch.

"The allotments have been made according to law; the farmers can take them or leave them." Wickard said, Andresen informed the house.

Wickard also accused the corn belt organization of farmers of inspiring dissatisfaction and misrepresenting the facts, Andresen said.

Try to Halt Uprising.

"He indicated that the department would begin an immediate drive to quash the revolt of midwest farmers," he continued. "This aroused sentiment on the part of hundreds of thousands of farmers is not a revolt against government, but rather a spontaneous uprising on the part of honest and patriotic citizens in defense of constitutional freedom to live and operate as American citizens under guarantees set forth in the bill of rights."

Andresen pointed out that the uprising was not confined to the middle west.

"The first revolt came from hundreds of thousands of cotton farmers in the south," he declared. "These farmers voted to place themselves under compulsory control of Washington on March 12 but they did so under coercion and lack of understanding as to the meaning of compulsory control.

"They were told by government agents that if they did not vote for compulsory control they would not receive their 1937 adjustment payments of 3 cents per pound on cotton, which amounted to 130 million dollars."

Allotment Protests Pour In.

These cotton farmers and those in the tobacco regions are now bitterly protesting to Washington against acreage allotments which will not permit them to make a living, Andresen declared. Thousands of letters, telegrams, and telephone calls have poured into Washington during the last ten days from farmers in the corn area alone, he said, objecting to the individual corn acreage allotments made by the secretary of agriculture.

"When Secretary Wallace and his associates in the department of agriculture presented their control scheme for the production of corn," Andresen said, "members of congress and farmers in the controled area were led to believe that the secretary would not impose cuts in individual corn farm acreage greater than 20 per cent.

"The corn farmers in the control have found that instead of being cut from 15 to 20 per cent in corn acreage, under the acreage assigned to the individual farms, the reductions amounted to between 25 and 70 per cent less than normal production.

Complaints by Thousands.

"Wickard, who is north central division AAA director, has stated:

"'Complaints against reductions in corn acreage allotments have been as high as 1,100 per county.'

"If we can rely upon the statement made by Wickard, we will find that more than 500,000 farmers in the corn area are registering strenuous objections over the unjust corn acreage allotments made by the secretary of agriculture for their individual farms."

Divorces Producer

MARGARET RAWLINGS.

LONDON, May 2.—(AP)—Margaret Rawlings, dramatic actress, was granted a probationary divorce [decree nisi] today from Gabriel Toyne, the actor-producer, on grounds of adultery. [The decree nisi may be made final in six months.]

Miss Rawlings, who last summer became involved in a dispute with the Oxford league because of remarks she made at a luncheon, said her domestic trouble started when she returned from the United States in March, 1936.

The Oxford incident occurred when several members of the Oxford group spoke about what they called "sharing" based on the idea that sincere public testimonials were an aid in ridding themselves of inhibitions and fears. The actress, daughter of a clergyman, said she considered "such public confessions" to be exhibitionism.

"To me it is as shocking in the Victorian sense, as indecent and as indelicate, as if some one were to take off all his clothes in Piccadilly circus," she declared.

ARMY RECRUITING OFFICE WILL FILL POSTS IN PANAMA

Young men in the central west who desire a life of travel and adventure, or wish training in the defense of their country, now have their first opportunity since 1931 to see army service in foreign possessions of the United States. The army recruiting service announced yesterday that 150 vacancies exist in the engineering corps, coast artillery, field artillery, and infantry, for duty at Panama. Applicants should apply at the recruiting station in the United States courthouse.

HOPE FOR WAGE AND HOUR BILL APPEARS SLIGHT

Roosevelt Slaps House Labor Committee.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—[Special.]--Despite President Roosevelt's intervention today on behalf of wage-hour legislation at this session of congress, his leaders expressed much doubt that the measure can be brought to a vote in the house.

The President, noting that the house rules committee had pigeonholed the bill by a vote of 8 to 6 last Friday, dispatched a telegram to Mary T. Norton [D., N. J.], chairman of the house labor committee just before he left on a fishing cruise Saturday.

Tells Hope for Vote.

The message, made public today, told his hope that the house could vote at this session on the bill which imposes a nationwide minimum wage of 25 cents an hour and a forty-four hour week the first year after enactment. A 40 cent hour and forty hour week would be in effect at the end of three years.

Encouraged by the President's views, Mrs. Norton went ahead with plans to present a petition to the house next Friday, the earliest possible day. If this petition receives 218 signatures, it can be brought before the house by May 23. Whether the bill will be lost in the adjournment rush was a question. Most congressmen believed this would be the case. Others doubted that the necessary signatures could be obtained.

Would Meet Filibuster.

In any event there was almost unanimous agreement that southern senators would filibuster against the measure if it reached the upper house. A filibuster in the closing days of the session almost always is successful.

Mr. Roosevelt said he was not criticizing the rules committee for its action. The wage-hour bill was of such national importance, however, he said, that it should not be killed by a small committee, but should be brought to the floor. He wired in response to a letter sent to him by Mrs. Norton telling him of the rules committee's action.

SENATE TURNS DOWN PROPOSAL FOR LIMIT ON NAVY OPERATIONS

Washington, D. C., May 2.—(AP)—The senate rejected today a proposal by Sentor Homer T. Bone [D., Wash.] to limit operations of the navy to a defensive area. Without a record vote, it turned down an amendment to the naval expansion bill restricting the navy's operations in wartime to an area bounded in the Pacific by a line from the Aleutian Islands to Midway Island to Hawaii and to the Panama canal. From the Panama canal it would run in the Atlantic to the Virgin Islands and thence to the eastern extremity of Maine.

Earlier an amendment was adopted to the $1,156,000,000 bill which would prevent the construction of battleships larger than 35,000 tons unless the President determines that other nations are building larger warships. The amendment was proposed by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.].

MR. HENRY SHOWS HIS BICYCLE WHO IS IN THE SADDLE

Joseph Henry had the drinks. But it was his bicycle that showed the effects. If it didn't actually stick out its tongue at Mr. Henry, it flatly refused to go in the same direction with him and, when he insisted, it threw him last night at Belmont avenue and Clark street.

When Policemen Fred Kelly and John Quinn arrived Mr. Henry told them he'd been skippering a bicycle about the Town Hall police district for 50 years, man and boy, and that mutiny was mutiny. Mr. Henry, who is 66 years old, insisted that the bicycle be locked up, and the police took it to the station and put it right above his cell, because they'd planned to take him to the station all the time instead of to his home at 3724 North Troy street.

MONOPOLY NOTE FROM PRESIDENT BRINGS RETORT

Asks About Monopoly on Spending.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt's message tr congress on monopolies was attacked on the floor of the house today. Representative Leo E. Allen [R., Ill]. called it a "demagogic appeal to class hatred intended to distract the nation's mind from the continued delegation of extreme power to the chief executive."

"The question of industrial monopoly pales into insignificance when weighed against the increasing monopoly of legal power now vested in the executive department of the government and especially in the President," Allen told the house. "This concentration in Mr. Roosevelt is seriously impairing the effectiveness of private enterprise as a way of providing employment for labor and capital.

Monopoly of Spending.

"Coupled with these excessive powers is the knowledge that we are now to embark on a spending campaign that contemplates the wanton expenditure of approximately 10 billions of dollars to satisfy the recommendations and demands made to congress by Mr. Roosevelt. He demands that when, where and how this money is to be spent will be according to the whims of the President himself or that of his appointed officers.

"Mr. Speaker, the records show that in his messages to congress the past two months alone, the President has recommended the appropriation of more money to be spent the current year than the total combined incomes of 32 million men, women and children who in their sweat and their toil produced on American farms, all the fat, food and fiber, not alone to feed all the people of this country, but the export market, of which the secretary of state is so proud to boast.

"This precedental message to congress on monopoly makes many of us believe that instead of having a constitutional government of representative democracy based on certain fundamental and sound principles we have a government of demagoguery based on prejudice, class hatred and sensationalism.

Appeals to Misguided.

"The sensationalism constituting appeals to the misguided, that some mythical and hidden force or corporation is the only thing standing between them and their achievement of the much hoped for Utopia. Assurances still emanate from the White House, promising everything, but delivering nothing, calculated to instill into the minds of a forgotten people that it won't be long now until they will come to the pot of gold, providing we deliver these so-called blackguards of industry into the hand of the Philistines.

"If the President will cease his attacks on private enterprise, abate the fears caused by his ceaseless mouthings, I am certain that frozen bank deposits will become liquid, private investments will then come out of hiding and the American farmers and industrial workers will march down a highway to a normal American prosperity.

"His preachment of class distinction, class hatred and class bitterness is the very height of demagoguery and smirks of the cheap political practice of the rabble rousing politician."

MOTHER SLAYER WILL NOT APPEAL, SAYS HIS LAWYER

Attorney Leonard C. Reid announced yesterday that Theodore Danielsen Jr., 16 years old, will not appeal from the sentence of fourteen years imprisonment for the knife murder of his mother.

After a conference with the boy's father, Attorney Reid said it was decided not to ask a new trial before a jury or to appeal to a higher court. Both father and son feel it is best for Theodore to begin serving his sentence as soon as possible, the attorney said.

Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court, who heard the trial without a jury, will be asked to sign the commitment papers Monday upon his return from a brief vacation. Young Danielsen probably will be started for prison by Tuesday.

RECOMPENSE

By CALEB

WE KNOW a little boy who has a lot of fun singing to a big glass bowl. The bowl is quite thin, of crystal clear glass without a mark or scratch to mar its gleaming symmetry. It rings like a bell at the slightest touch. The boy is fascinated by its rounded perfection of line and melodious response to touch.

But most of all he likes to make the bowl sing. Somehow he discovered that the bowl responds to a certain tone of his voice as he sings. When the proper note is struck it joins in with a lively hum so long as the vibrations remain the same. He must have discovered it by accident, but the result pleased him, and from time to time he can be heard experimenting.

He starts far down the scale, with his voice in his throat. He ends each note suddenly—to pause and listen. If there is no response from the bowl, he tries a half step higher. Finally, he strikes the right note—and the bowl sings back to him. He puts his hand out to touch the bowl and stop its song in midflight. He tries notes loud and soft. He varies the pitch slightly; he starts below the bowl's note and swings up to it like a steel guitar. He is fascinated and pleased by the unfailing response.

We know something of the thrill he gets from the singing response of the bowl to his song. Sometimes with this column we strike a note that draws an immediate response. Somewhere we hit a vibration point that gives us back a reply in pleasing harmony.

Because we try to strike notes that run life's whole gamut, we find responses from an endless variety of quarters. From dozens of states, from hundreds of communities come letters—and each is an added inspiration to us. Letters about a single column may come from a dean of men in a Southern university, a young bride, a shut-in who hasn't walked for years, a man out of work, a sales executive in a major industry, an orchestra leader, and a mother with four growing sons.

There is no way of telling in advance where the note we strike will find its response. It is no exaggeration to say that our greatest reward for these efforts is in the knowledge that somewhere, almost every day, we strike a note that finds response and makes someone else feel like singing.

SEEK STATE AID TO SPEED CITY'S AIRPORT PROJECT

Hope to Unravel New Legal Tangle.

State aviation authorities and Gov. Horner were asked yesterday to aid Chicago in obtaining an adequate airport. The call for state assistance came after Mayor Kelly disclosed earlier in the day that legal obstacles have arisen which might prevent the city from procuring certain strips of land that must be purchased or condemned to enlarge the flying field.

The land is needed to provide a new right of way for the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad. The railroad's present right of way bisects the airport tract, which is bounded by 55th and 63d streets and Cicero and Central avenues. The company has agreed to shift its tracks from the field if it can trade its present site for a new one with a clear title.

Explains the Difficulty.

"Our difficulty is that we cannot obtain clear title to the strip of land for the new track site," explained Mayor Kelly. "Search of titles to various parcels of land over which this new right of way would pass has convinced us that we cannot, in many instances, find the heirs to the land and to certain reversionary rights they would hold.

"The best way to clear up the situation is for the legislature to order the railroad off the airport and specifically to grant the city authority to condemn land for relocation of the trackage."

Rights Retained.

The airport plan is to route the Chicago and Western Indiana to a site alongside the tracks of the Indiana Harbor Belt line, which are north of the airport tract. The land on which the Indiana Harbor Belt line tracks were laid was purchased with the sellers retaining reversionary rights which would require the railroad to return the land to them if the right of way property should be disposed of.

The problem of getting title of the land that is owned by private parties is not difficult, but getting waivers on their reversionary rights to small plots not part of the Indiana Harbor Belt line right of way would be a difficult task for two reasons: First, the reversionary rights are not subject to condemnation proceedings; second, title searches show that many of the owners of 140 parcels of land that would be crossed by the new tracks also own reversionary rights in property the Indiana Harbor Belt line would have to relinquish.

Largest Stumbling Block.

The largest plot of land sought by the city, owned by Raymond E. Herman, has been a stumbling block to negotiations because of the reversionary rights he holds. After months of controversy, Herman and the city have agreed to let Judge Evan A. Evans of the federal Circuit Court of Appeals set a price on Herman's property and rights. Judge Evans is to hold a hearing and arrive at a decision which both sides in the controversy have agreed to accept as binding.

The position of most of the owners of the smaller parcels is similar to that of Herman, in respect to reversionary rights; but their titles to the rights are, in many cases, clouded by litigation which would complicate any attempt at negotiations.

Seeks Unassailable Title.

Joseph F. Grossman, acting corporation counsel, explained that the city now has no clear authority to condemn land for a railroad right of way. "A legislative order to the railroad to get off the airport would be a friendly one," he said, "done merely to insure the city the right to condemn and to obtain an absolutely unassailable title."

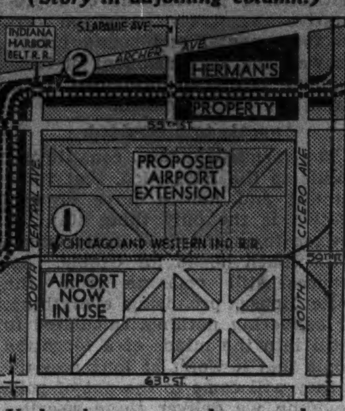
L. P. Bonfoey, chairman of the state aviation commission, yesterday assured THE TRIBUNE from his home at Quincy, Ill., that he would do everything in his power to aid the airport enlargement plan.

The governor, reached at Springfield last evening, said:

"The matter has not been presented to me formally but when it is I will consider it carefully. However, I believe that the city already has the necessary condemnation powers."

Snag at Airport

(Story in adjoining column.)



Under the present plan to enlarge the Chicago airport tracks of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad (1) would be moved (2) to parallel the Indiana Harbor Belt railway. Difficulty has arisen, however, because land needed for this purpose (shown in black) will revert to its original owners if given up by the Indiana Harbor Belt, which acquired it by condemnation.

Gloved Bandit Jumps in Car; Steals $2,100 Gem

When Richard C. Cook stepped into his car in front of 1500 South Western avenue yesterday, a bandit wearing gloves sprang in beside him. Cook, a former automobile dealer living at 2570 Sheridan road, was forced to give up a $2,100 diamond ring and $85 cash. The bandit leaped out, entered an unlicensed sedan, and drove off.

NEW FIRE BOAT SAVES CITY 1,880 BRIDGE OPENINGS

Lower Costs to Pay for Tug in Ten Years.

Motorists and pedestrians have been spared the inconvenience of 1,880 bridge raisings during the first year of service, ending yesterday, of the new Diesel fireboat Fred A. Busse. The boat is low enough to pass under all city owned bridges.

One thousand bridge raisings would have been necessary for fire alarms and 880 for visits to the coaling dock with the old type steam fireboat, according to Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan.

Saves 125 Hours in Year.

Since trafic is delayed an average of four minutes each time a bridge is raised, the boat thus saved 125 hours for busy Chicagoans.

While the new boat was saving time for the city it was also saving money—so fast that Corrigan said its economies would pay for its $134,000 cost in ten years.

The 6,835 gallons of oil it consumed for fuel the first year cost $444. The fireboat Joseph Medill, which the Fred A. Busse replaced, burned 1,594 tons of coal at a cost of $7,410 in its last year of service.

This $6,966 saving almost was matched by the pay roll reduction. Government regulations required that the steamboat carry a minimum crew of nine, while six suffice for the Diesel boat. This means a pay roll economy of $6,519, making annual savings in pay roll and fuel of $13,485.

Never Out of Service.

Repairs and government inspection kept the Medill out of service 125 days in its last year. The Busse never has been out of service.

The Busse has been in actual fire service 84 hours and 9 minutes, as compared to 20 hours and 53 minutes for the Medill in the year before it was placed in reserve.

HOOVER TO DISCUSS SPENDING PROGRAM IN SPEECH THURSDAY

A promise that he would discuss the administrations five billion dollar spending program during his speech at Oklahoma City Thursday night was given by Herbert Hoover when he arrived in Chicago yesterday afternoon from the west coast on the City of Los Angeles. He is to talk on "The Dangerous Road for Democracy" before the Oklahoma "Grass Roots" convention.

Raymond Moley, former administration brain truster, arrived on the same train and car with the former President. Mr. Hoover said he and Prof. Moley discussed the Roosevelt administration and related subjects. The former President will leave for Oklahoma City Wednesday night.

SHARKS' BATTLE GETS CREDIT FOR SAVING AIR PILOT

New York, May 2.—[Special.]—A battle between two sharks probably saved the life of Capt. J. H. Hart, Pan-American Airways pilot, after he had stuck to his plane until it sank off the Island of Jamaica April 25, Norton V. Ritchey, a passenger on the lost aircraft, reported on his return to New York today.

Thrown from the tail of the plane in its final plunge to the bottom of the Caribbean, Capt. Hart landed in a school of sharks, Ritchey said. One shark headed for him, but was attacked by another. The battle diverted the school until Hart struggled into a rubber lifeboat that had been tossed into the sea. The sharks' attack caused the only real alarm among the twelve passengers, who were then safe in a lifeboat of the British steamship Covina.

RIVAL UNIONISTS FAVOR PRIMING BUSINESS PUMP

Green and Lewis Talk to Congressmen.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—[Special.]—After hearing President William Green of the American Federation of Labor and John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., stress the gravity of the industrial situation, the house appropriations committee late today resumed the complicated task of putting the President's five billion dollar pump-priming program into form for presentation to congress. Green said the economic situation faced today had exceeded the worst expectations.

Favors Works Program.

"We have gone through most of the spring season, usually marked by an upturn in industrial activity, without registering a significant revival in employment," Green told the committee. "The hour calls for decisive action, for careful, but quick judgment, and unreserved coöperation of every group of American people."

The appropriation of one and a quarter billion dollars for the Works Progress administration is essential, Green asserted.

"In addition to the WPA appropriation, the President recommended the extension of the public works program by the expenditure of $350,000,000" Green declared. "The A. F. of L. already is on record in support of this step. I believe it is imperative to revitalize our public works program and initiate its expansion in the next few months.

"In doing this, serious consideration should be given to the placing of the Public Works administration on a permanent basis."

Lewis offered somewhat similar views. He asserted a permanent recovery program should be considered.

Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York told the committee a permanent program should be drafted for enactment at a special session next fall. He indorsed the President's program, but said it could be regarded only as temporary and not a permanent solution.

La Guardia Sees Danger.

"We must act quick if we are going to save America," La Guardia said. "We've got to get the best minds of the nation to work on this and we've got to do it damn quick."

La Guardia proposed that a special congressional committee to study the problem be composed of the senior members of the house committees on ways and means, appropriations, judiciary, labor, agriculture, interstate commerce and banking. That special committee should meet during the summer, he urged, and call in leaders of all branches of industry, labor, and agriculture, and have a program ready for a special fall session.

CAPITAL FAVORS SUBWAY IN LOOP, MAYOR DECLARES

Mayor Kelly returned to his desk in the city hall yesterday with the distinct impression that federal authorities in Washington, where he spent several days last week, are favorable toward granting funds to a number of Chicago projects that have been planned for several years.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes seems willing to grant 10 million dollars for a loop subway and $9,400,000 for a south side filtration plant, if and when funds are available, the mayor asserted.

While in Washington, Mayor Kelly also urged the Illinois congressional delegation to speed passage of the wages and hours bill that would set minimums of from 25 to 40 cents an hour in southern factories, enabling midwestern industries to compete with them.

FATHER DROWNS SELF AND 3 SONS IN RIVER PLUNGE

Bedford, Ind., May 2.—[Special.]—Lester Etchison, 32 years old, drowned himself and his three young sons tonight by driving his car into thirty feet of water in White river, near Williams, a fishing resort ten miles west of here. The sons were Max, 3 years old; Russell, 8, and Donald, 10.

The car and the bodies were recovered two hours later. Etchison, who had been a meterman for the Public Service Company of Indiana for ten years, left notes in his pockets addressed to his wife, Mabel, and his brother, Louis, of Shelbyville, in which he wrote that he had been "wrong all the way through" in some domestic trouble he had with his wife, from whom he was not separated. Etchison had a nervous breakdown a year and a half ago, but kept working.

"TODAY I'm Going to FLY!"

"I'm Going to NEW YORK on an AMERICAN FLAGSHIP!"

HERE'S the way it happened . . . I've always dreaded the long, tedious trip to New York . . . Sure, I know planes make it in only three hours and fifty-nine minutes, but I never associated flying with my own travel needs.

Then, George Sheridan got hold of me. "Look," he said, "I've flown to New York a dozen times. I'm keen about flying and so is my wife. She says now that it's the only way to travel."

He went on to tell me about American's choice of three routes to New York—how I could go one way and return another at the regular round trip fare—and their great Flagship Club Planes that are nature-cooled in flight. Here's the way George put it—"A dandy meal aloft, a chat or a good book . . . perhaps a snooze in a comfortable lounge chair . . . and the stewardess says, 'Wake up! Here's New York.'" . . . It sounded pretty good. So I called American Airlines and made my reservation on the non-stop ARROW leaving at 5 pm standard time. I was surprised at the low fare—only $44.95—and the saving of 10% on round trip tickets. On my return I'm going to stop over at Washington at no additional fare.

Now I'm going to know what it's like to be in one of those mighty Flagships—to eat a meal a mile or so above the ground, to walk around the cabin, to smoke or read or chat with other passengers as the plane flies on at nearly 200 miles an hour yet seems to be standing still.

OFFICIAL COUNT CONFIRMS EARLY PRIMARY TOTALS

Election Board Delays Certification.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Proclamation of the official returns from the Cook county primaries three weeks ago was delayed further yesterday by Chairman Alexander J. McKay of the Chicago election board.

It had been planned to send the board's certificate, covering the vote in its territory, to County Clerk Michael J. Flynn during the afternoon so that he might add to those figures the returns from the suburban precincts under his jurisdiction and then proclaim the results for the entire county. Chairman McKay, however, announced that the board's figures would not be transmitted to Flynn until today.

Under these circumstances the City News bureau compiled the results by combining the board's figures with Flynn's, thereby producing the figures that will appear in the official proclamation when it is published.

They failed to show any upsets in the outcome of contests for nominations as they were indicated by the unofficial returns immediately after primary day.

The new figures for the winners in the contests of both parties for local offices, showing the winner's plurality where there was one and showing the totals of winners of places for which there were no contests and for group offices were as follows:

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

Gypsum company, who lives at 1106 Osterman avenue, Deerfield, saw them off.

JUDGE WILSON TURNS FOE OF SLOT MACHINES

Circuit Judge Edwin L. Wilson of Joliet, who for nearly a year kept in force an injunction protecting slot machines and as a result narrowly escaped impeachment proceedings, yesterday joined State's Attorney James Burke in declaring he is against further operation of the machines.

"I will not hesitate to empanel a special grand jury to investigate the slot machine racket if conditions warant such a move," he declared. Prosecutor Burke had declared that any slot machines found in operation will be confiscated and destroyed. Sherif Michael J. Breen said he is coöperating with the prosecutor. Several of the gambling devices were seized during the day in Will county.

Most of the machines in Joliet township were said to have disappeared yesterday.

CALLS JARECKI OPEN PRIMARY VIEWS BRAZEN

Julius Miner Cites Many Court Decisions.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Julius H. Miner, originator and director of Chicago's four big annual observances of Constitution day, expressed his opinion yesterday of County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki's conduct during the primaries of April 12 and the Jarecki proposal that party restrictions be removed from all future Illinois primaries.

As one of the unofficial advisers of the Cook county Republican committee in its futile effort to stem the stampede of Republicans into the Democratic contest this year, Attorney Miner bitterly condemned the ruling creating the "Jarecki year" and its companion instruction directing precinct judges to disregard the mandatory command of the primary law requiring affidavits from challenged voters.

Trend to Closed Primary.

As a lawyer, he argued, and supported his contention with records, that the entire American trend in recent years has been away from the open primary and toward closed primary in which voter is restricted to the established membership of a single party.

To complete his picture of Judge Jarecki in unmistakable colors, Attorney Miner raised the question of the motives that may lie behind the statement that open primary legislation will be considered soon by the general assembly.

"Those motives," he said, "may be as brazen as his orders directing judges of election to violate the laws which he and they had solemnly sworn to uphold and enforce—to reject bona fide challenges honestly made as provided by law. That action calls for the severest reprobation."

Quotes from Jarecki Statement.

Miner quoted from a recent interview in which Judge Jarecki asked this question:

"Why should a voter be restrained if, in his judgment, the interests of the state, the county or the city would be served best by the nomination of a group of candidates in another party?"

"Why concern yourself about the law at all?" asked Miner in return. "Why not merely extend the 1938 practice and order the judges to make it a free-for-all?

"Are we to believe that Judge Jarecki now has run the full course of his self-serving interpretations when he asks for the passage of a law to give an ex post facto pat of approval to what he did last month, or are we to suspect rather that he and his associates perhaps hope to gain control of the mayoralty nominations of both major parties in 1939? Do they propose to send some of their Democrats into the Republican primary next spring? Nothing can be considered impossible after what was done on April 12."

Condemned by Supreme Courts.

Attorney Miner said the Jarecki idea of an open primary has been condemned by the Supreme courts of several states, and quoted the Supreme court of California in its disapproval of that state's primary act of 1899 which failed to include any test for party membership. The court said in that case:

"A law which will destroy party organization or permit it fraudulently to pass into the hands of its political enemies cannot be upheld. . . . The control of the party and its affairs, the promulgation and advocacy of its principles, are taken from the hands of its honest members and turned over to the venal and corrupt of the other political parties or of none at all."

"The Oklahoma Supreme court in 1912," continued Attorney Miner, "held that a refusal of a party test would be 'putting a premium on deceit, dishonesty, and fraud,' would involve the people 'in political anarchy' and would make the primary system and laws wholly unworkable.

"In discussing the legality of a provision excluding voters from the primaries of parties to which they do not belong, Justice Holmes of the Massachusetts Supreme court held it impossible as a matter of law to say that 'this is not a reasonable precaution against a fraudulent intrusion of members of a different party for sinister purposes.'

No Denial of Rights.

"The courts of Oregon, South Dakota, New Jersey, and other states have declared that the exclusion of members of other parties from the primaries of a given party does not constitute infringement or denial of any constitutional right or privilege and does not interfere with the freedom of elections.

"The law is intended as a protection against impostors rather than as a test of electors. In the words of Prof. Floyd Russell Mechem, 'a man has a constitutional right to be a partisan but he has no constitutional right as a nonpartisan to participate in partisan proceedings.'"

Miner contended that both Democrats and Republicans may complain justly against Judge Jarecki's rulings which permitted the wholesale switching of parties three weeks ago.

"The half million citizens who voted for Judge John Prystalski as a candidate against Judge Jarecki" he said, "have a right to resent the intrusion of Republicans who, by their intrusion, defeated the will of the majority of the Democrats. The Republicans also may rightfully protest against the borrowing of 150,000 or more of their voters to reinforce one Democratic faction against another.

Effect on G. O. P. Contests.

"True, the Republicans had no contest for the nomination for county judge, but the borrowed voters probably would have changed some of the Republican nominations for which there were contests.

"To allow persons who are antagonistic to the principles of a party to participate in its primary elections and thereby control its nominations inflicts a greater injury to the party system than would be possible through a return to the old convention method. Under the old convention plan, those who dictated nominations were at least members of the party.

"Under Judge Jarecki's plan of open primaries, how in the world would he confine voting for the county committeemen, the state committeemen, and the national delegates of a party to members of that party? Or is he anxious for outside help in such matters as he was last month?"

Miner said that nearly all primary laws passed in the last three decades—the life of the primary system on a large scale—provided for closed primaries and that at least five states during that time abandoned the open primary for the closed primary.

"Colorado originally enacted an open primary law," he said, "but changed to a closed primary in 1927. Idaho did likewise in 1919, and so did Vermont in 1921. Massachusetts started out with a closed primary in 1911, amended its law to establish an open primary in 1914, and returned to the closed primary in 1916. Michigan also first chose the closed primary in 1909, shifted to the open primary in 1913, but finally enacted a closed primary law in 1915.

"These changes are significant and should be convincing that the open primary is absolutely unsound in principle. It would destroy all political organizations and convert primary elections into mockeries. To maintain our system of free government, the people must organize into political parties. The parties nominate; the entire people elect."

HOUSING PLAN PROMOTERS EYE OLD AGE FUNDS

See 48 Billions as Aid to Bond Sales.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—[Special.]—In their aspirations to put the United States into business as a landlord on the scale of billions of dollars, leaders of the federal housing drive are casting hungry eyes on the billions which the government is collecting from working men on the promise of paying them old age benefits.

Warren Vinton.

For the present their hope of cutting into the social security reserve fund, estimated to mount to 48 billion dollars during the next forty years, is slight, because that fund is being pumped out as fast as it is collected to finance the Roosevelt deficit. However, the power of the United States Housing authority to tap these funds exists. That was brought out in the hearings on the Wagner-Steagall bill, which established the authority.

What Minton Revealed.

Warren Jay Vinton, then an official of the resettlement administration but now head of the project review division of the United States Housing authority, so testified before the senate committee on education and labor. After extolling the proposed United States Housing authority securities as a vehicle for private investment, he said:

"In addition to private sources, there is also the possibility of securing capital from public sources other than the United States Housing authority. With the growth of social insurance there will be large reserves which might appropriately be invested in low rent housing bonds.

"A beginning has already been made in Pennsylvania where one of the public trust funds has already invested a portion of its funds in a low rent housing project. [This was wholly a state, not a federal transaction.] . . . The carefully drafted provisions of the Wagner bill which facilitate the use of such funds in public housing are extremely valuable features."

Further Light on Law.

The sections of that bill, since passed, to which Vinton referred were summarized during the hearing of the house committee on banking and currency, by Representative Fred L. Crawford [R., Mich.], who said:

"Section 20 of this bill says that 'the authority is authorized to authorize obligations, in the form of notes, bonds, or otherwise, which it may sell to obtain funds for the purposes of this act.'

"Subsection [c] says: 'Such obligations shall be fully and unconditionally guaranteed upon their face by the United States as to payment of both interest and principal. . . .'

"Subsection [d] states: 'Such obligations shall be lawful investments and may be accepted for security for all fiduciary, trust, and public funds, the investment or deposit of which shall be under the control of the United States or any officer or agency thereof.'

"To me that specifically says that these social security funds can be specifically invested in these bonds issued by the treasury."

Must Look to Subsidy.

United States Housing authority projects do not even contemplate charging sufficient rents to pay off the bonds which finance construction. The only source to which buyers of the housing bonds can look for repayment is the annual subsidy paid the housing projects out of the federal treasury.

In other words, the only hope which the wage earner, whose social security taxes are invested in housing projects, has of getting his benefits when they are due is that the government will go out and collect some more taxes to pay the housing subsidies and liquidate his bonds.

[This is the tenth of a series by Mr. Ator. The next will appear in an early issue.]

OUT OF MONEY, 320 U. S. AGENTS ARE LAID OFF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—[Special.]—Half of the nation-wide force of 640 agents in the bureau of investigation, under J. Edgar Hoover, went on a month's furlough at the close of business today, the department of justice announced. The agents were laid off because of insufficient funds to maintain the full force during the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30.

Department of justice officials are making vigorous efforts to obtain a deficiency appropriation of $173,000 to meet the debt by the bureau of investigation in recent criminal investigations, including the Mattson, Fried, and Levine kidnapings. Director Hoover made a special plea before the budget bureau last Thursday. Investigations on which the 320 furloughed agents were working will be suspended until they return.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 2.—[Special.]—Demands for an accounting of an estimated 2 million dollars extracted from Pennsylvania's 27,000 state employés for the primary campaign of Gov. George H. Earle arose here today.

Backed by the regular state organization, Earle is seeking the Democratic nomination for United States senator in a bitter fight against Senator Joseph F. Guffey. The 2 million dollar war chest for the Earle ticket, it is charged, was raised by levying a 3 per cent assessment on state employés making less than $1,200 a year and 5 per cent on all those receiving a larger income.

Task for Grand Jury.

It was announced that the forthcoming special grand jury investigation into the mounting charges of graft, which reach into high places and include the governor's office, would embrace the gathering of campaign cash from state employés on threat of dismissal if they refused.

Maj. Lynn G. Adams, a veteran of thirty-three years of state police service, who was forced out by the Earle administration, was picked today to head the investigating force for the special grand jury. Adams agreed, with the understanding he would serve without salary and that his results be made public.

Late this afternoon Adams conferred with District Attorney Carl Shelley of Dauphin county here and with Charles J. Margiotti, who was ousted as attorney general of Pennsylvania last week by Earle.

Considerable important information had been collected by Margiotti and a few hours before the governor, in a rage, removed him as the state's chief law officer he had taken steps toward the grand jury action.

The grand jury, called for May 11, will have at the top of the list a charge that Gov. Earle borrowed $30,000 from Matthew H. McCloskey, political contractor who later was awarded nearly 10 million dollars in public works contracts by the state's general authority, headed by the governor. Earle said he received $26,500.

Acts as Earle's Angel.

McCloskey also is the chief financial angel for the Earle ticket. Running for governor on the Earle slate is Charles Alvin Jones, a Pittsburgh lawyer, while Lieut. Gov. Thomas Kennedy is seeking the same nomination with the support of Senator Guffey and C. I. O. Czar John L Lewis. In the senatorial race Earle is fighting it out with Mayor S. Davis Wilson of Philadelphia of the Guffey-C. I. O. camp.

IS THERE A "LITTLE BLACK BAG" IN TVA?

"Dishonesty"... "intrigue"... "conspiracy" ... those were the charges brought against his associates in March by the chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority. The President promptly removed him. Congress voted a far-reaching investigation. Why did Chairman Morgan wait five years to make his accusations? Is there a "little black bag," such as featured the Teapot Dome scandal, somewhere in TVA—or is there a more fundamental dishonesty present? Why has the TVA one power policy before the courts, but another in actual practice? Read in today's Post the story of TVA and why, after five years, it still does not know what the cost of its power is.

HITLER IN ITALY.

When Mussolini visited Hitler in Berlin he made the usual courteous guest's remark on leaving, "You must come over and see us some time." And so the Furor is now visiting Il Duce. Between visits a good deal has happened, much of which was not within the expectations of the two great friends when they met in Berlin. At least it wasn't in the expectation of the Italian friend that his German ally would make an appearance at the Brenner pass, in a manner clearing a road for his present triumphal entry into Italy.

Herr Hitler traveled the all-German way to see his friend in Rome. The taking of Austria was like the spreading of a carpet for the feet of the German head of state. Beyond the Brenner is an Italianized German population of two hundred and fifty thousand devoted Germans who have disliked or detested everything that has been done to suppress their language, their place names, their traditions and habits, and natural instincts.

Herr Hitler was obliged politely to ignore the fact that for these wards of his recapture policy, successfully worked out in Austria, pending as to Czechoslovakia, and intimated as to Danzig, his program is in complete abeyance and nonoperative. The Italian Germans may have had a peep at a promised redemption, but as yet they have received no encouragement to believe that in anything like the immediate future will they be rescued from the Italian overlord. Shortly before the arrival of the honored guest Mussolini announced that the Brenner pass had been hermetically sealed against all time.

The visit will give Mussolini his opportunity to strut his stuff in town. In Berlin he was asked to feel Hitler's muscles and now he can flex his own and ask the German to admire the steel development of the new Roman empire. The display of imperial muscularity is even more important now than it was before German troops appeared in the Austrian mountains and before Mussolini made his accord with the British and his approach to the French and British understanding. The two dictators have additional reason for impressing each other with the strength of their legions.

Mussolini has taken precautions to insure his guest's safety. The Italian police have taken charge of six or seven thousand persons, arresting them, detaining them or sending them to out of the way places. These are some of the people the Italian police think might be glad to do Hitler an injury or to assassinate him if they had a chance. And Italy is supposed to be a friendly country rejoicing in the alliance with its brother Fascist dictatorship.

Mussolini could hardly have paid his fellow tyrant a greater back handed compliment than to give him such a commentary on the hatred in which he is held. Six or seven thousand arrests must be made to insure Hitler's safety and dignity in the home of his friend. Il Duce apparently thinks he is host to a German Caligula for the week.

THE CORN BELT PROTESTS.

The widespread protest against the AAA's restrictions on corn planting came to a head in Illinois. A great massmeeting, attended by thousands of farmers, was held in Macomb and adopted resolutions demanding an end to government dictatorship over farming. Illinois was heard from first because Illinois farmers have been the victims of the sharpest discriminations in allotments of corn acreage. Similarly, the Illinois miners suffered most from the coal prices fixed by the Guffey coal commission.

For purposes of corn control the dictators in Washington divided the country into two parts, one of which consists of Illinois and Iowa and certain counties in ten other states, which altogether constitute the so-called corn belt. The restrictions apply only in this part. The rest of the country forms the other part where no restrictions apply. The restricted district normally accounts for something less than half the corn acreage of the United States and something like three-fifths of the total corn production. Corn can be grown and is grown commercially in every state in the union, without exception.

The restrictions imposed within the corn belt were not uniform. Thus, farmers in Illinois and Iowa, the premier corn states, were most sharply limited. In Illinois the reduction imposed is something like 20 per cent and in Iowa only slightly less. Naturally, the first protest came in Illinois, which was the hardest hit.

The theory appears to have been that compelling the farmers within the restricted district to grow less corn would lead the free farmers to take advantage of them and grow more. Therefore, to create the desired scarcity, the farmers within the restricted district must be compelled to reduce their plantings still more.

LILACS TO THE SICK ROOMS.

Friendly people fortunate enough to have lilacs will cut the blossoms this week and Wednesday and Friday will see that they are given to the distributors of the Chicago Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild of THE TRIBUNE. The guild and this newspaper join in collecting the flowers. TRIBUNE trucks will carry them from railroad stations to the hospitals and other institutions.

This spring has been generous, exceptionally so, with an early start and few backsets. Some vagrant impressions of its loveliness may steal into rooms where there is illness and invalidism, but these air borne intimations may only make the walls seem more confining. The lilac blossoms will be ambassadors from blooming gardens and the sunlit flowering woods.

The lilac is a bounteous bush. It flourishes as it gives. It prospers as it makes its gifts. Cutting helps it. To many people it is a symbol of American friendliness, unpretentious, sweet scented and equally at home at the cottage door and on the large estate. Although an Asiatic bush or tree, a seventeenth century importation to Vienna, it has taken like a native to American soil and its roots are deep in American sentiments.

The lilac was in bloom when the young men of the north were laying aside their work to respond to the call to save their nation's unity, and in many parts of the land it is still in bloom when the memorial services are held each year to commemorate devotion to country. So it has much endeared significance. Many memories and much fine sentiment are attached to it.

In the spirit of friendliness the people who cut the blossoms for distribution this week will send messages into sick rooms, messages from a world which is abloom into places which are cut off from it with only a bridge of wistfulness from one world to the other.

CIVIL RIGHTS IN AMERICA.

The mayor of Vincennes, Indiana, being annoyed by criticism in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for state senator, admits his responsibility for a police raid on a printing shop where pamphlets opposing him were published. The chief of police entered the shop and when its owner demanded to know whether he had a search warrant, replied that what he saw was evidence and proceeded to seize type from the forms. The police chief's theory of his authority, if adopted by the courts, would be a handy cover for any official who does not like criticism or exposure. But the guaranty of the federal and most state constitutions against unreasonable searches and seizures still has meaning to the courts as an essential to liberty and to honest government.

We do not know what the local magistrates will do in this case, but we have no doubt what any respectable court would do if it were brought before it. And no loyal American will doubt what the citizens of Vincennes ought to do, for they have a recourse without any reference to courts. They can deliver their own free judgment at the polls. No community that understands its own vital interest in honest government or in the protection of the individual from official tyranny will fail to rebuke this abuse of force at the polls.

The Vincennes incident is unfortunately only the latest exhibition in this country of contempt for civil rights. The other day Norman Thomas was denied his constitutional right of free speech in New Jersey. It was one of a series of denials of civil rights in that commonwealth and the American people cannot afford to ignore them. In Rhode Island civil rights have been repeatedly outraged and overridden and the state is under a dictatorship. It no longer enjoys a republican form of government. The real responsibility for this condition lies with the people of Rhode Island. The responsibility for the preservation of civil liberties lies with the American people. The courts can and do put up barriers for their defense, but in the end the people themselves must defend them.

There is reason for serious concern in every attempt by arrogant officials who, possessing a little brief authority, seek to suppress criticism and disclosure by various means. The press is repeatedly under fire for this reason. Laws are devised for the suppression of newspapers and other publications, such as the gag law in Minnesota. The process of contempt of court has been utilized by local judges as compliant tools of political machines. The taxing power was tried in Louisiana under the Long régime. Newspaper men have been put in jail. In Minnesota two were murdered and the crimes still go unpunished in that commonwealth.

There is much talk of the alleged abuses of the press. There are and always have been abuses, and there are laws to punish them. But the worst abuses of the press are as nothing to the abuses to which a free press is the chief check. This has been demonstrated in every country whose people have won freedom and preserved it. It has been and is today demonstrated in every country whose people has surrendered to despotism. When the American people lose their free press and their free speech, no other liberty will remain to them.

Great issues are often fought upon small battlefields. The community of Vincennes is but one of thousands and tens of thousands in this republic, but it is confronted by a duty which concerns every American citizen.

WHY PALACES?
[Detroit Free Press.]

The statements made by Representative Albert J. Engel of this state about plans for the erection of two "palaces" for use of the Philippine high commissioner at a cost of $750,000 are at least highly interesting.

The present high commissioner, Paul V. McNutt, appears to have washed his hands of the matter. He says his predecessor, Gov. Murphy, was the parent of the idea. Gov. Murphy at this writing is yet to be heard from.

However, it is evident that the matter has gone beyond the dream stage, since the war department has made an estimate of costs, and the immediate question is why any new high commissioner's residence of any sort at all?

If the United States is going to withdraw from the islands eight years hence in accordance with the present understanding, why is it necessary to have anything for the American representative except modest temporary quarters?

NOTE ON MAN'S PROGRESS.
[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Here's an interesting commentary on the progress of civilization in Europe:

S. Gestetner, a manufacturer and yachtsman of Bosham, Sussex, England, has just built a gas and bombproof shelter under his house. It is not an ordinary shelter, like those being built all over Europe. It is de luxe.

Mr. Gestetner, whose home is within close range of two airports, evidently intends to make much use of it. The 50 foot passage is decorated with watercolors and the central room, 15 by 20 feet, is fitted with ultramodern furniture, a cocktail bar, and an arrangement for indoor games. There are a radio and a tropical fish aquarium, and even temperature is asured through a bombproof boiler.

Eons have passed since prehistoric man crawled out of his cave, and now modern man is crawling back into it.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

THE MOST UNEXPECTED PERSON encountered at a musical show opening, amid the dinner jacketed first nighters and the glamor girls of the town in satin wraps and silver fox capes, was Carl Sandburg, in gray tweeds, his spectacled blue eyes gleaming beneath his famous gray forelock. Sandburg, who had come across the lake from his home in Michigan for the day, is approaching the end of his six volume biography of Lincoln, the longest biography ever written. The first two volumes, "The Prairie Years," and the last four, "The War Years," comprise some 1,600,000 words.

CARL SANDBURG, minstrel of the industrial age, whose verse and prose throb with love and understanding of his land and time, does his writing in clement weather on the rooftop of his home in Harbert, Mich., in the blazing sun, wearing a bathing suit and blue glasses. His numerous notes are thumbtacked to a board, a system he invented and which other authors have followed. Occasionally a pet goat—for the Sandburgs run a Toggenburg goat farm—is permitted in his rooftop sanctum. The goat is trained not to nibble Lincoln notes.

CARL SANDBURG WEARS a bathing suit when he writes and Negley Farson once told us he wrote "The Way of a Transgressor" in an old corduroy bathrobe. Other well known authors have had sartorial eccentricities. Bulwer-Lytton wrote in evening clothes; Balzac in a monk's cowl and robe. We remember a former Chicago author who donned a woolen robe when the muse was alight. He hung a whistle about his neck, and when he wanted a word looked up in the dictionary, blew the whistle. At the blast his wife would trot in and look it up for him.

REFERENCE to Biographer Sandburg's Lincoln notes bring to mind the special preparations that had to be made for the reception of Gov. Horner's Lincoln library when he moved into the executive mansion at Springfield. Gov. Horner's Lincoln library is the most extensive in existence, with the possible exception of that in the library of congress. Steel rods were inserted on beams above and underneath the book shelves in the executive mansion library to safely hold the Lincoln books.

But when it pales and dwindles
And goes down with all the dead—
Why, we'll still be together
And watch the stars instead!

Gowenlock told them he had been talking to Pat O'Brien, famous war ace and author of "Outwitting the Hun." So he hunted him up and asked him to take a hand. The first deal was O'Brien's. He dealt five cards all around. There were murmurs of complaint that the game was bridge, not poker, and O'Brien put his hand to his brow in a gesture of thought. "Bridge," he said reflectively. "Now I've played that game somewhere. . . ."

VACATION OBJECTIVES.

It will not be long before we will be thinking about summer vacations and the lure of distant places. There is a natural explanation for the so-called holiday—the desire for a surcease from one's accustomed duties with a change of scene, perhaps of climate. Fatigue pulls the string that reminds us of the necessity for rest, and the old adage of eight hours for sleep, eight for play and recreation, and eight for work holds good as a health supporting régime. The essentials are quiet for the mind and relief from the ever present weight of responsibility.

I am satisfied that we would have fewer nervous breakdowns if we had more frequent interludes of mental relaxation—periods in which the eyes could not identify a single familiar object. Likewise we probably would have fewer instances in which tuberculosis reappears because of lowered resistance. Then there are the worn out hearts that are obliged to plod along day after day. When overtaxed—an hour or two may be required, even after their owners are asleep, before they will quiet down to a normal rhythm. After they have recovered sufficiently, perhaps on the succeeding day, they may be called upon to renew work at an extra pace.

It is a grand thing to find fun in one's work. That is about as near an ideal mental state as one can hope to attain. But there is one fallacy in the dictum. No amount of emotional or mental satisfaction can provide the body with an opportunity to store up reserve. Agriculturists have learned that a field must be allowed to lie fallow every few years. The one who is convinced that he can drive himself incessantly without a letup is drawing upon his physical savings account just so much year after year. It is not that some cannot do so—for a while—but they would be better and stronger were it not attempted.

Some of my cronies complain that they are unable to relax in a strange environment. There is much to be said for going each year to the same spot, where one feels as though he were in a second home, where sights and sounds are not wholly distracting. Others may feel in duty bound to enlarge the horizons of their knowledge, to acquire new experiences, amid new scenes, mingling with different people. This plan of jumping from place to place may be ideal for a time, but it is rarely wise for those who need repose. In other words, the environment should be one in which relaxation for mind and body can be obtained.

I once sent a friend south for a much needed rest. On his departure he was full of promises as to how he would use the time. His wife wrote that on the second day after arrival he had a private wire installed in his room and until the market closed was absorbed in studying its trends and in making trades. He carried his business to bed with him and as a result slept fitfully. Although a great success financially, his early death, which occurred from heart complications, was a matter of course.

Another chap, a desk worker, who rarely walked five blocks a day, filled all of his vacation period with strenuous sports. Such a schedule never will work. Any one unaccustomed to physical exertion, who plunges into four or five hours of hard play each day, is bound to come to grief with his heart muscle. This man kept it up for a few years, but on his return he was obliged to recoup his exhausted frame with half duties for several weeks. The program finally claimed him as a victim of senseless effort. For the nonexerciser common sense dictates that activity must be assumed slowly. But once a moderate amount has been achieved it should be maintained.

Vacations are looked upon by many as only for the athletic, the robust; those who can stand not only physical punishment, but late hours and too much and too rich food. The word "vacate" means "to quit, depart, resign, abandon," and it applies to one's business—the humdrum of life. The program demands that the participant return invigorated for the tasks ahead.

RECOVERY TAKES TIME.

S. C. writes: I had a duodenal ulcer for eight years. I was on a milk and cream diet for a long time, but never got better, and finally was operated on in 1936. Since then I have followed the diet faithfully, gained weight, and look good, but can truthfully say that I don't feel 100 per cent. The doctor says it is nothing but nerves. Could you give me any advice on how I can get well?

REPLY.

You were ill for years and a long interval may be required for recovery. If your physician says you are all right physically, you probably are. Mental hygiene may help you. If the digestive tract presents no symptoms and the ulcer has healed, endeavor to ignore minor complaints.

PART OF ROUTINE.

Mrs. M. P. writes: Would a blood count show whether a baby had whooping cough?

REPLY.

PROPOSES A PEONY DAY.

Arlington Heights, Ill., May 1.—There are to be so few lilacs this year that I would suggest that you have a peony day also. We hope the peonies have not suffered from the same freeze which the lilacs have. Peonies keep just as well and are quite as fragrant, I feel sure the sick folks would enjoy them equally as much as the lilacs. Why not have both days? I for one will have several hundred peonies and a mere dozen or two of lilacs from three bushes which provided several hundred last year.

A WORD FOR SIMPLE COOKERY.

Chicago, May 2.—In a recent editorial concerning the banquet of Les Amis d'Escoffier you say that native American cooking, simple though excellent, lacks the refinements of the art as developed in France.

It is said that the ancient Romans excelled even the French in the art of cooking. Banquets of twenty or more courses were commonplace. Appreciation ran so high that emetics were administered to diners between courses to enlarge their capacity for enjoyment of the fine food.

With the leadership of the Les Amis d'Escoffier we Americans may some day reach their high state of refinement.

As for myself, I'm in perfect accord with Archestralus, gourmet, when he wrote:

"Many are the ways, and many the recipes for dressing a hare, but this is best of all: To place before a set of hungry guests a slice of roasted meat fresh from the spit, hot, seasoned only with plain, simple salt.

"Not too much done. And do you not be vexed at seeing blood fresh trickling from the meat; but eat it eagerly. All other ways are quite superfluous, such as when cooks pour a lot of sticky, clammy sauce upon it."

OUR HELIUM.

Chicago, April 29.—Our government is considering selling large quantities of our unique and very precious helium gas to Germany for her use in safely floating her Zeppelins from Germany to the United States. Germany has agreed and promised not to use the helium gas in war.

Would it not be wise for us to bear in mind before selling our helium that the German attitude toward her interests is that they are superior to all other interests, and that any promises and agreements that might injure her during a war would be considered mere scraps of paper?

Our helium gas sold to Germany will without doubt be used to carry weapons of death and destruction to France and England, and perhaps also to New York, Washington, and other eastern cities. Why, therefore, should our government believe in the reliability of a promise made by Germany in regard to her use of the helium gas?

Surely is it not only too evident that we should keep every ounce of our helium gas safely stored in our country, even if German Zeppelins never again fly over here?

CAMPAIGN FOR SMALL SPENDING.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 30.—I have been traveling for a number of years with a "luxury" line over a considerable area, and for the last several years through Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana. Throughout this so-called recession, after speaking with a good cross chart of people in many industries and walks of life, I have concluded that every one is waiting for something important to bring us into a prosperous era.

Why not try a nationally planned campaign of small spending? Begin with a basic industry such as cotton and linen goods. Every family in the United States can use a dish towel. Organize national dish towel week or day. Manufacturers and retailers would be glad to coöperate in sales and advertising. Make women feel it is a patriotic duty to buy a dish towel—go on from there to other small and inexpensive but necessary household equipment, bed sheets, new cords for worn out electric cords, etc.

Plan a program for every week, taking some low priced essential that the great mass of people not only can buy but actually need. This would soon change the cagey waiting for something big to happen. The whole program should be well planned, with stress on publicity to reach the entire people; every one made anxious to contribute his and her part, small or large. The result would be that the nation as a whole would wake up.

EDWARD B. RHODES.

HALTED A FUNERAL PROCESSION.

Chicago, April 30.—I want to congratulate Chicago's "public hero No. 1," a large, heroic, courageous motorcycle policeman who operates in the vicinity of 87th and Loomis boulevard. I believe his badge number is 3,227.

On April 29 we had the sad occasion to bury our mother. At approximately 10:45 a. m., trafic very light, he bravely stopped the car carrying the flowers and arrested the driver for a minor trafic violation. He held up the whole funeral procession until he questioned the driver and wrote out his ticket. No doubt by now he has been promoted to sergeant for this valiant deed. His action made a lasting impression on our out-of-town mourners, who come from cities where they have officers who show respect for their dead.

R. E. DOTY.

WPA MEN IN A BALL GAME.

Chicago, April 30.—As I was walking down the 7800 block on South Marshfield avenue yesterday at 1:30 p. m. I saw a crew of WPA men taking out trees. Seven of the workers were playing ball out in the street. It sure was disgusting to see the taxpayers' money wasted foolishly like that. Where were the officials not to see what was going on? Probably they did not want to see.

MRS. BESS KOESTER.

IRKED BY OUR MUSIC CRITIC.

Chicago, April 30.—This is to call to your attention a condition I am sure you are not aware of. I think THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is the most honest, courageous, and finest newspaper. It stands behind what it advocates.

On the front page you give us the most gifted and finest cartoonist today, I refer to Mr. Orr. His drawings are a newspaper in themselves. And what truth they depict!

You give us the finest editorials and above all, bless your soul, you fly our beloved flag above your building every day. I look with admiration every time I pass.

But in the music criticism department you allow two communistic minded men to cover musical events and to give out some of the most poisonous criticisms that have ever come from any paper. Especially Cecil Smith, who is a young University of Chicago man and seemingly knows nothing of music. He even attacked our old and esteemed Chicago Oratorio society, for which there was no reason.

Others feel the same as I do. Every musician in town hates him. Personally I don't think you realize it. You are constructive. Then can you not see to it that we have constructive criticism, not destructive attacks as Cecil Smith gives? O, for another Mr. Moore!

A. A.

HOW TO REGULATE TRUSTS.

Paris, Ill., May 2.—I am wondering how industrial trusts can be regulated as long as the labor trust is given free rein. The main commodity in which all manufacturers deal is labor. It is said to constitute 85 per cent of their outlay. Over this commodity they have practically no control. They cannot reduce wages; they cannot speed up production; they cannot even discharge incompetent employés without endangering their plants. Competition among them, then, must be confined to their ability to manage and manipulate their affairs within the remaining 15 per cent margin. So it seems to me that all efforts to control our trusts will be futile unless the huge basic trust behind all trusts is properly regulated. And this our politicians are not likely to undertake.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER.

SHOVELING DIRT IS TEDIOUS.

Chicago, April 27.—I want to thank Mrs. Ethel Rosborough for her letter in the Voice of the People sympathizing with us WPA workers. There are, of course, shirkers, but the majority are conscientious citizens who would like to be at their own trades or professions. It gets mighty tedious shoveling dirt eight hours a day, especially for those [if conditions were normal] who would be at their highly skilled trades and earning a living wage.

1,100 ENGLEWOOD PUPILS TO TAKE SYPHILIS TESTS

City Physicians Resume Mass Program.

Eleven hundred students of Englewood High school, one of the largest groups to volunteer thus far in the board of health's anti-syphilis dragnet, will take free blood tests today.

Resuming a mass testing program begun among the schools last fall, city physicians will follow up with 400 tests at the Hyde Park High school tomorrow and 400 at Lane Technical High school on Thursday. Two hundred students of the Illinois College of Chiropody and Foot Surgery will be tested tomorrow night.

Thus far 3,425 school children have been tested. Seventy-eight were infected with syphilis.

Each Has Parents' Permission.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, emphasized that every minor tested has had the written permission of his parents or guardian. Identities are kept secret.

In the first three weeks of public testing at 37 neighborhood stations 2,415 have volunteered, according to a report submitted to Dr. Bundesen by Lawrence Linck, director of the WPA syphilis control project.

"Nearly 30,000 have volunteered for tests this year and our field program is just getting started," said Dr. Bundesen.

4.4 Per Cent Found to Be Infected.

Of the 1,773 whose test results have been tabulated, 79 or 4.4 per cent had syphilis. The total comprised 1,270 men and 503 women. The largest age group, 400, was between the ages of 20 and 24, where syphilis contagion is the heaviest.

The stations administering the greatest number of tests thus far are 33 East 31st street, 232; 43 East 51st street, 203, and 113th street and Ada avenue, 147. Each of the 37 are open at least one day each week from 3 to 8 p. m. Schedules may be obtained from the municipal social hygiene clinic, 1121 South State street; the WPA syphilis project office, 200 Merchandise mart, or the 20 district stations of the Chicago Relief administration.

Amendment Discussed.

An amendment to the 1937 Saltiel hygienic marriage law requiring physicians to test every expectant mother for syphilis was discussed yesterday at a City club meeting in the Sherman hotel. Dr. A. J. Carlson, University of Chicago physiologist and head of the club's public health committee, recommended that no penalties be included in the proposed law until the public is sufficiently educated to the dangers of congenital syphilis.

State Representative Edward P. Saltiel, author of the law requiring couples to take venereal disease tests before marriage, said that such a measure, without penalties, could be passed without much opposition. Eventually it should be stronger, he said.

News of Radio

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Good news for listeners: Leopold Stokowski, Deanna Durbin and Adolphe Menjou are reported signed by Eddie Cantor's late sponsor for a new radio production for next fall tentatively titled "A Hundred Men and a Girl," after the successful movie by the same name. Stokowski's ninety-odd men are to blend symphonic and popular music, according to present plans.

Sponsors of We, the People program are launching a nation-wide poll on peace on their broadcast tomorrow night. Listeners will be asked two questions: 1—Would you be willing to fight to defend the United States from invasion? 2—Would you be willing to fight overseas if the United States becomes involved in another war?

The University of Chicago Round Table, aired for seven years at 11:30 Sunday mornings, will move to 9:30 p. m. starting next Sunday, with WMAQ as outlet. The popular discussion program, it was felt, came at an unsatisfactory hour—church time in the midwest, lunch or dinner time in the east, and too early for far western listeners. Hitler's visit to Mussolini in Rome is to be the subject of next Sunday's discussion. Hitler's arrival in Rome is to be broadcast over WENR-NBC at 3:15 p. m. today.

Cuff notes from radio's corridors: For all those who have asked: The Hoosier Philosopher [Carlton Guy], who recently left WAAF, may now be heard at 8 a. m. Tuesday, Thursdays, and Saturdays on WLS. . . . Betty Caine, NBC actress, has joined the ranks of cry-babies. Thus, Dolores Gillen, who impersonates babies on the air, will have competition. There ought to be room for both. Readers have been complaining that too many heroines of serials have been having babies [via radio] this spring. . . . That re-creation of Dizzy Dean's opener here against the Cardinals, as pitched up by Bob Elson and Charlie [Fits and Starts] Wilson on Your Sunday Date was plenty funny. If you haven't been catching this new Harold Stokes feature it's worth hearing. You'll be hearing more about Ruth Glascott who does those Minerva Dimwittie lectures on this show.

This program makes a good one to top off the night of listening if you proceed as we often do: Jack Benny at 6, Musical Steelmakers at 6:30, Charlie McCarthy and company at 7, Manhattan Merry-go-round or the Sunday Evening Concert hour at 8, Ahen Album of Familiar Music and Phil Spitalny's All-Girl orchestra.

The Stroud [twins] bouts have been a lot punchier since Don Ameche has taken up the cudgel against the gabby one. . . . WHIP believes it has another Bobby Breen in Jackie Woodworth, a freckle face songster from the seventh grade at the Harvard school.

GRANDCHILDREN AND SON SUE TO SET WILL ASIDE

Suit to break the will of the late Henry Churchill Edwards of Waukegan was filed in the Lake County Circuit court yesterday by a son and two daughters of another son of the late Judge Claire C. Edwards of the same court. The plaintifs are Erskine C., Avis, and Eleanor Edwards of Waukegan. Their attorney is Sidney H. Block.

The suit is directed against Judge Edwards' sister and three brothers, heirs to all but $500 of the $50,000 estate: Mrs. Maude Coulson, Harry J. Edwards, Russell H. Edwards, and John Edwards, all of Waukegan. Mr. Edwards' will stated that he had left nothing to Judge Edwards' children because he had advanced a full share to the judge in his lifetime. This the children deny. The suit also asks an accounting of $19,000 worth of property alleged to have been distributed before Mr. Edwards' death.

A compromise between the eighteen heirs to the $104,000 estate of James T. Kelly, lodging house miser who died in 1935, and Attorney Irwin N. O'Connell in the Probate court approved the settlement, which gives Walker $24,000 in fees, of which the attorney has received $5,000. A group of the heirs agreed to dismiss their appeal from the court's award.

The heirs, most of whom live in Boston and Newfoundland, will receive about $2,500 each. Frauds and attempted swindles in connection with the estate have resulted in jail sentences for four persons and in the disbarment of an attorney.

BY JUDITH CASS.

ANOTHER June wedding is scheduled with the announcement of the engagement and marriage on June 18 of Miss Fidelia Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus D. Richards of Winnetka, to William Winston Roper Jr., son of Mrs. William Winston Roper of Philadelphia.

Young Mr. Roper spent last weekend in Winnetka with his fiancée and her parents. He was graduated from Princeton in 1936, having prepared for college at Hotchkiss. Miss Richards, a debutante of the 1936-'37 season, attended the North Shore Country Day school and Miss Hall's at Pittsfield, Mass.

Miss Richards just has returned from six months in Europe, where she studied painting and languages in Switzerland, France, and Italy. Mrs. Richards went abroad to join her daughter, and the two returned together the middle of last month, stopping in New York to see Miss Marie Louise Richards, who is a student at Smith college, and who is to be a debutante of next season.

Tell Engagement of Madeline Bliss.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. George Edison Bliss of Highland Park are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Madeline, to James M. Kittleman II., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Kittleman of Evanston. Miss Bliss was graduated from the Roycemore school and then attended Pine Manor Junior college and the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts.

Mr. Kittleman was graduated from the college of architecture, Cornell university. The wedding will take place in the fall.

The former Lydia Coonley and her husband, Thomas Nickerson Jr., and their two little sons, are arriving from their home in Honolulu tomorrow to spend a month or six weeks with Mrs. Nickerson's mother, Mrs. John S. Coonley of 1130 Lake Shore drive. From here the Nickerson family will go to New York and then to Lake Sunapee, N. H., where the Coonley family has spent many summers.

Mrs. Nickerson's sister, Mrs. Thomas I. Underwood, and Mr. Underwood, had planned to go to Honolulu this spring to see the Nickersons and the junior John Coonleys, but they gave up their trip in order to be here to welcome the Nickersons.

Mrs. Carpenter Will Go to Mount Vernon.

Mrs. George A. Carpenter has to be in Washington several days before May 12th, when the annual meeting of the Mount Vernon Ladies' association will be held, so she will not be at home to celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary with Judge Carpenter on the 10th.

Mrs. Carpenter has been vice regent for Illinois since 1916, so she has missed spending their wedding anniversary with her husband several times since then because the annual

Good Morning!

It's been a long time since the four little Crosby boys' crooning papa has had as entertaining a picture as "Doctor Rhythm." . . . For which fact a foaming tankard of thanks should be handed Miss Beatrice Lillie.

Not that she's the whole show—for she isn't. But she's the cream in its coffee and the salt in its stew, so to speak.

She comes in bright and early with a new song and dance, eases in now and then with a novelty, and has a big, bright spot in the action, during which time she presents her famous "Two Dozen Damask Dinner Napkins" skirt, ably abetted by Franklin Pangborn and several others.

You all know how funny Miss Lillie is, but have you ever realized that she's an extraordinarily graceful person? Be she ever so slapstick, there's rhythm to her every movement. Which mention of rhythm brings us back to discussion of the show as a whole.

This engaging olio has in it, broadly speaking, everything from gnus to gangsters. It starts with the yearly reunion of four P. S. 43 [Public School-43] alumni in the zoo, where one is a guard. The other three are, respectively, a doctor, a policeman and an ice cream vender.

The night, spent in much beer drinking, fades into a morning after when we find the doc [Bing] wearing the guard's [Rufe Davis] cap and singing with the birdies, the cop [Andy Devine] freeing caged inmates and going swimming with the seals.

Vender Luke gets going all right and Guard Al comes to his senses sufficiently to recognize an order from police headquarters when handed to him. It is an order for Policeman O'Roon to act as body guard for Mrs. Lorelei Dodge-Blodgett who is heading a policemen's benefit that night. . . . It turns out that it's the niece who requires a guard, she being about to run away with one Gangster LeRoy. WELL—

A seal bites O'Roon and Dr. Remsen, rents a uniform and does some pinch hitting, not wotting till later that he and his charge have met and exchanged smiles before. . . . There you have the setup. Not bad, what?

Mr. Crosby comports himself with customary bonhomie, crooning several not bad songs, best of which is "On the Sentimental Side." . . . Little Mary Carlisle, who has developed from a plump little dumpling into a slim, assured girl with a charming smile, carries the honors of the romantic feminine lead on capable shoulders.

Andy Devine is funny. Fred Keating as the gangster is gay, resourceful and wicked. Laura Hope Crews handles a "bit" part expertly.

Smooth direction, bright dialog and effective staging bring out the best of the "different" story and make "Dr. Rhythm" a movie that will linger pleasantly in your memory.

Summer Styles to Make It Fun to Dress Up

BY RHEA SEEGER.

It promises to be the best summer since pre-war days for coquettish clothes. While a cool, serene sanity prevails in the best American uniform, the daytime dresses that obligingly whirl any one through 8:30 to 6, the dinner and party clothes have gone fluttery and very clinging vine-ish.

Maybe the swarms of interested escorts caused the reversal. Whatever it was, the clothes are here, and any mortal woman is going to have the time of her life dressing up.

Long sleeved, slinky cocktail costumes are smooth up to the tops, where they suddenly go frilled, with chiffon, shirred into corded bands, mere scraps of transparent tops made of rows and rows of lace, bands that end in small, flirtatious bows, tucks and all manner of frivolity.

Long sleeves end in wide ruffles that almost cover the hands, waistlines are defined with ribbon belts, sashes and buckles, and skirts boast flounces the like of which we haven't seen since the pictures of the heartbreakers of 1890.

Ball gowns worthy of the name swirl around the ankles with dozens of yards of material, and hundreds of yards of lace edging. Taffeta is tucked, quilted, gathered, and flounced into creations that billow widely. Net is fluted in graduated series of flounces, more fluted net is pushed off the shoulders to fashion the top of a fitted bodice, bows of ribbon velvet or lace are attached in dozens of unexpected places.

There are underskirts for both silk and cotton ball gowns. They're of lovely bonbon colors. There are gowns that are perfect examples of romance, ivory or white silk, festooned with deep flounces of spider web black lace; the same trick in pink with black. Summer can't come too soon.

Business Men Give Accurate, Vital Concert

BY EDWARD BARRY.

On the stage of Orchestra hall last night were 115 men drawn from every economic stratum and from a dozen or more professions. Rich men and poor men and moderately prosperous men, salesmen and cashiers and accountants, architects and dentists and doctors, a shirt maker and a tarif man and a manufacturer of incinerators — all of these disparate conditions and professions are mingled in the membership of the Chicago Business Men's orchestra, which last evening, under George Dasch, gave the last concert of its 1937-'38 season.

In the playing of these nonprofessional musicians is a vitality which the work of fully professional units often lacks. They play because they like to play and they are generous with effort and with rehersal time. A pure love of art, not the desire to make money, presses these bows to these strings and sends enthusiastic columns of air through these oboes and flutes and bassoons. No wonder that meters often boast a genuinly intoxicating lift, that the music as a whole possesses an especially contagious aliveness!

Besides the delight in his work typical of the nonprofessional musician, the playing of the Business Men's orchestra is marked by an accuracy that would do credit to a group with twice as much experience. The development section of the first movement of Beethoven's Seventh Symphony enjoyed the attention of musicians who were quite capable of dealing with its intricacies.

Besides the Beethoven the program offered Mozart's "Magic Flute" overture, a suite from "Délibès' "Sylvia," the prelude and Liebestod from "Tristan," the song "Träume" and the aria from Gluck's "Orfeo." Soloist of the evening was Sonia Sharnova, contralto, whose performance of the great Gluck air was noble of line and charged with feeling. Her voice was not at its best last night, and the texture of the Gluck suffered somewhat in consequence.

During the intermission Ralph McCallister of the Adult Education council presented Mr. Dasch with a season box for next year's Musical Arts

A Baby Costs $10; Seek Cash for 5,000 at Maternity Center

Under the slogan, "A Baby Costs $10: How Many Do You Want?", the Chicago Maternity center is making its first public appeal for funds in its 43 years. The appeal, with a goal of $50,000, opens next Sunday, Mother's day. Long known as the Maxwell street dispensary, the center has no endowment. Its needs usually have been met through teas, benefits, or casual donations.

The center was founded by Dr. Joseph B. De Lee, who later launched the Chicago Lying-In hospital. Besides caring for thousands of women and establishing a reputation for safety for mothers, the center now teaches obstetrics. Two weeks' training there is required for graduation from the medical schools of Northwestern, Loyola, and Wisconsin.

Bringing a baby into the world costs the maternity center $17.50. Eliminating clinical treatments before and after birth, the cost is only $10—hence the slogan.

At a Mother's day luncheon, held yesterday at the Palmer house by the Mothers' Aid of the Lying-In hospital and dispensary, Dr. De Lee was the principal speaker. He declared the assistance and support of the Mothers' Aid had made possible the completion of his work.

Unfamiliar Faces

By Alice Grant Rosman

[Copyright: 1938: By Alice Grant Rosman.]

SYNOPSIS.

Elizabeth Sandal inherits an unexpected fortune on the death of her husband. A will made early in their marriage makes no mention of their children, Dorothea and Oliver.

INSTALMENT II.

"SELFISH LITTLE BRUTES."

Mrs. Vickery had left the gate open and Elizabeth walked down the path and closed it.

Daffodils bloomed along the borders, but otherwise the garden was a monotone of shrubs and grass, though she lingered in it, glad of the cold air on her face and the freedom to move after sitting so long with her visitor.

She looked up with pleasure at the tracery of trees against the sky where dusk was falling, but the mass of the house as she neared it looked suddenly monstrous. Too many windows to be cleaned, too much heavy furniture to be moved, too many ornaments to be dusted and washed, too many stairs to climb.

She would have liked to walk out of the house and never come back, abandoning everything, but she knew that it was impossible. There were things which, even as she formed the wish, cried out against this sacrilege—old family silver and china, packed away in safety from the smash and grab habits of her succession of overworked servants, and rare pieces which once, at least, had seemed beautiful.

"Mother! What do you mean by wandering about in the dark and cold like a lost soul?"

Dorothea, slamming the taxi door and then the gate, and coming with firm steps up the graveled path, expressed her personality by all these things.

"Was I?" asked her mother. "I came out to get some air because I was tired of the house."

"But why stay in the dam' house? You must brace up and go about," protested her daughter. "No one in these days is expected to sit with drawn blinds, wrapped in grief and woe. It's morbid. And now I have to leap into an evening frock and dash off again. Dinner and theater with Val, all sudden and last minuteish, or I'd have rung you up."

"How nice, dear."

Pushing her mother into the house, Dorothea reached out and snapped on all the drawing room lights with just such a gesture as her father had been used to turn them out, revealing her slim young body in its up-to-the-minute suit and the charm of her clear skin and hazel eyes.

"You must leave this house and get it out of your bones," she said. "A little place in the country, not too far from town, is what you want, my dear."

"Would you children care to live in the country, darling?" asked her mother in surprise.

"O, as far as I'm concerned I should have to have a roost in town and come out for week-ends. Don't you worry about that. I'll find you a secretary-companion-chauffeuse, you know the kind of paragon, and a house with an orchard and rose garden. You'll love it."

"There's Oliver," said Mrs. Sandal doubtfully. "It does sound attractive, I know, but it would be too much for him coming in and out every day, wouldn't it? We might have a flat in town, however."

Suddenly she was eager. Here was the change she most desired made possible because Dorothea also desired it, and Oliver, too, no doubt. Planning the new home together would be a real delight, giving her the occupation she needed. She might begin looking at flats tomorrow, find out about rents, consult Oliver tonight as to a pleasant situation. But this dream was quickly to be demolished by Dorothea. She laughed it to scorn.

"Why, you would simply loathe a modern flat," she exclaimed. "Box-like rooms, low ceilings, no space for any of your possessions . . . you've no idea what it would be like. And besides, my dear, I've promised to share a studio flat with Val just as soon as we've got you settled and I can't go back on that and let her down. I've always meant to do it directly I could afford it because it is a business move for one thing. We want to be able to demonstrate our ideas. It's anachronistic to spout about homes of tomorrow and live in a home of the generation before last."

"I see, dear," said her mother faintly.

"But I must fly, or I shall be late," declared the girl, and leaped for the stairs.

Downstairs her mother stood in the middle of the drawing room trying to understand the blow which had befallen her. Dorothea was going to leave her—to share a flat with her friend. This possibility had never entered her head, yet Dorothea had always meant to do it, and this difference in their point of view and her own incomprehension were a troubling undertone to the sharper pain.

She took up a copy of this journal on which Dorothea had a responsible, though not a well paid, post, and turned the pages. Homes of Tomorrow, a title which Dorothea often deplored, was designed for the intelligentsia, the cognoscenti, or the unemployed and empty headed rich, according to one's private definition of these terms. Beautifully produced and printed with illustrations in color, it devoted its pages to the æsthetic education of the moderns. Details of all the newest experiments in furniture and house decoration were expounded here by Dorothea and her colleagues.

Mrs. Sandal closed the magazine. It was no use. She was merely trying to delude herself. She had made up her mind and she would go. Arguments and protests would only make it harder for both of them.

The idea of the flat in town need not be abandoned because Dorothea chose to live with her friend, for there was still Oliver, who would almost certainly welcome the change. Perhaps when he came in they would talk it over, and she hastened to poke the fire into a blaze, thinking with pride of her son.

Almost at the same instant the telephone rang and she went to answer it, knowing she would hear his voice, guessing with a pang what he was about to say.

"Is that you, mother? Look here, Sir Michael wants me this evening. It's a sudden emergency or I'd have let you known earlier. Awfully sorry, but you know how it is. Had a good day?"

She said that she had and told him not to worry, she quite understood. That at least was true. Sir Michael Bryce's interest in Oliver was his great good fortune and he could not afford to quarrel with it. Besides, he went often to his chief's house and it was useful for him to meet clever and important people there.

"The dinner will be wasted then," she thought in a dismay that had become mechanical, and rather stealthily, because this was something of which Dorothea would disapprove, she went along to the kitchen to break the news to the maids, sorry that they had had this unnecessary work.

"Just bring me a little sole and some asparagus on a tray as soon as it is ready. I shan't want anything else," she ordered. "And as I shall be at home this evening you may both go to a cinema if you feel inclined."

Spoiling them, Dorothea would call it.

Mrs. Sandal, having no delusions about the joys and dignity of domestic toil, heard with pleasure as she returned to the drawing room the cheerful clatter which her stimulus had produced in the kitchen.

Mrs. Sandal's day was not over after all, for suddenly the bell rang and her friend and neighbor, Sarah Lawrence, appeared.

"Family out?" she inquired, observing her hostess with a critical eye. "Selfish little brutes!"

GASOLINE ALLEY—LESSON ONE

M. P.s Worry About Neglect of Lady Loves

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"My friend and I are in a predicament, and up to date we have not noticed any case similar to ours. Our problem is as follows:

"Returning from Honolulu recently, we fell in love with two of the most beautiful girls we ever saw. They were from New York. We are military policemen, located some sixty miles from New York, where the transportation facilities are not so good. Our jobs require twelve hours of daily attention, and we have but one week-end off in every seven. We believe that we are depriving the girls of the attention that they should receive from us, as we know that they are staying home week-ends while other couples have the day out together. We do have some time off, but it usually is on a day when the girls are working, making it almost impossible for us to get around with them.

"What do you think? That we will get anywhere with the two girls or will we eventually be discarded because we are not able to be on the job oftener? HELPLESS US."

You have more faith in the endurance of the boat romances than most people, young men. However, many of them do wind up at the altar. And here's hoping yours does not flounder because of the distance that may lend enchantment but more often lends indifference.

But what's the matter with your writing hands? Aren't you good at putting it down on paper?

Goodness knows how many romances have been conducted on the steady correspondence plan! Here's your opportunity. Get the girls in the habit of looking for the cheerful letter.

You are sure, of course, that the girls' week-ends are one long period of wishing for your presence? Can you trust them when they hint they see other couples off for the day while they abstain from other male company?

Well, gentlemen, you must have heard that old bromide about love finding a way. Or, haven't you heard it? If the girls are so interested, they certainly could arrange time for you. Girls in love are magicians when it comes to wangling time for the object of their hearts. They'd even manage to put themselves on the train a Sunday or two, wtih pressure and the invitation from you.

In fact, men aren't backward, either, when it comes to getting nearer the girl in whom they're interested, and are afraid they might lose to a rival. We think you boys are just a bit slow, or without incentive. Either that, or you are spoofing us about the heart pangs you pretend to suffer.

BY NANCY CABOT.

One of the most quaintly charming old pieced patterns is the "Antique Tile Block," which was set together for the first time in 1857. Red and white homespun, combined with red and white printed material, was the original color combination, while the present day choice turns to blue, white, and blue printed material. Years ago names were stitched in the white squares, the names being those of members of the family and friends.

Today the names are omitted and the pieced blocks are set together to form an all-over design. A coverlet containing eighty pieced patterns, surrounded by a 9 inch border and ½ inch bias binding measures 90 by 108 inches.

Miss Fidelia Richards Will Be June Bride

meeting always is held on the second Thursday in May.

The 30 vice regents and the regent remain at Mount Vernon for ten days each spring, occupying a house built especially for them, so Mrs. Carpenter will be away at least a fortnight.

Mrs. John H. Noyes is entertaining at luncheon Friday for her sister, Mrs. Albert H. Tippens of Cleveland. Mr. and Mrs. Tippens are visiting another sister of Mrs. Tippens, Mrs. Raymond J. Coke, in Winnetka. On Friday when the visitors return to Cleveland Mr. and Mrs. Noyes will go with them to spend the week-end.

F. D. Montgomerys Join May Movers.

Today is moving day for the F. Dorsey Montgomerys, who are leaving the house in Lake Forest they have been occupying and moving to Barrington.

Mr. Montgomery's brother, James R. Montgomery, and his family will call Barrington home from now on, too, for they moved last Friday from 229 Lake Shore drive to the charming little farmhouse they occupied last summer. They have given up their town apartment and will live the year around in the country.

The Jimmy Montgomerys' place is on the Penny road, not far from the Fowler McCormicks' large farm, which is looking its loveliest now with the fruit trees in bloom, the grass and trees such a fresh green, and the fields such a rich brown. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. McCormick is at home, however, to enjoy it, for they both are in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Salisbury are joining the year around colony in Lake Forest next month. They have leased Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Hodges' home in Westminster road for one year.

Mrs. Horace W. Armstrong and her daughter, Miss Jean Armstrong, have returned from California, where they had been since the Christmas holidays. Mr. Armstrong returned early last month.

News of Spring Vacation Travel.

Mrs. C. Morse Ely and Mrs. Albert B. Dick have motored to French Lick Springs for a brief holiday. When they return Mrs. Ely will spend several days in Lake Forest with Mrs. Dick before returning to her Astor street apartment.

Mrs. Charles G. King, who went to Santa Barbara recently for a visit with the Clarence Mitchells, will return to Chicago on May 9.

The junior William M. Collinses are vacationing at Sea Island, Ga.

Mrs. Peter Dudley and Miss Sarah Hinde are expected in Chicago this week. Miss Hinde accompanied Mrs. Dudley's daughter, Mrs. Dudley Root, when the latter returned to her home in France early in February, and she has spent the last three months motoring in Europe.

Mrs. Dudley is coming to Chicago to visit old friends and to take her granddaughter, Miss Denyse Root, home to France. Miss Root has spent the months since her mother left Chicago with her father, John W. Root, and his wife.

Prenuptial Parties for Joan Walker.

Miss Joan Hulburd Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Finley Walker of Highland Park, will be married to Jackson Anthony Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wilcox of Benton Harbor, at 8:30 o'clock on May 14 at the Exmoor Country club with a reception following at the club.

Robert F. Walker Jr., brother of the bride, will come from Washington and Lee university to be an usher. Mr. Wilcox will arrive from Chanute, Kas., a week before the wedding to be present for the parties.

Parties for the bride begin next Sunday, with a supper and a treasure hunt to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Beresford Beck, who will be an usher and a bridesmaid. On May 10 the ushers will give a dinner-dance at the Drake hotel and the following evening Miss Carola Kellner, who is to be the maid of honor, will give the spinster dinner at her home in Highland Park. Mr. Wilcox will give his bachelor dinner the same evening at the Chicago Athletic club. On May 12 Miss Isabelle Tennant will give a cocktail party at her home in Highland Park, followed by a picnic supper to be given by Miss Frances Kelly, who is to be one of the bridesmaids. The bridal dinner will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Walker on May 13 at their home.

Needlework Guild Holds Tea Today.

Mrs. A. Thomas Taylor, Mrs. Potter Palmer III., Miss Pauline Palmer, Miss Nancy Ryerson, Miss Mary Paul Welling and Miss Peggy Clow will pour at a tea the Needlework and Textile guild of the Art institute is giving at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Goodman Studio theater.

Miss Marion Clark of the faculty of the University of Chicago will speak on "The Development of Design in Textiles of Asia Minor and Europe."

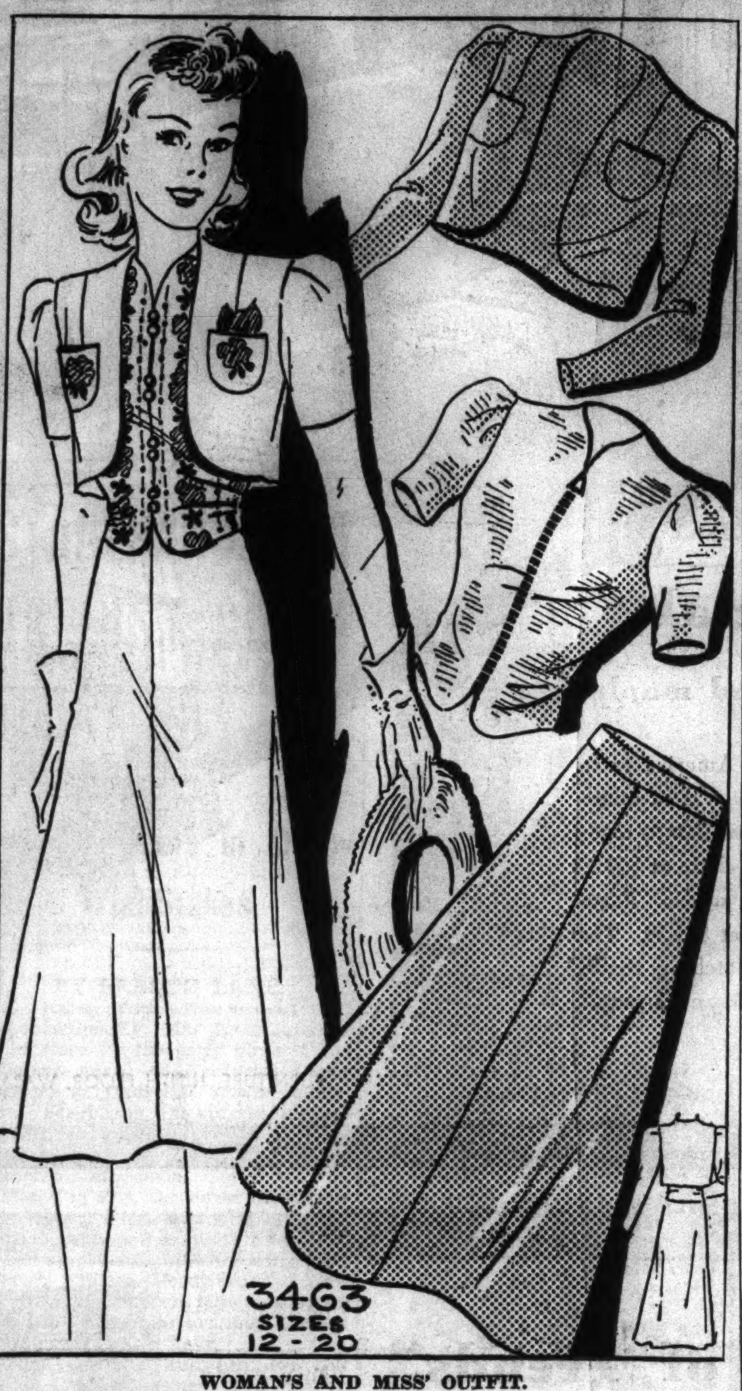
Mrs. Frank S. Porter is giving an informal tea at home this afternoon for Miss Marjorie Walsh of Brookline, Mass., who is engaged to Mrs. Porter's son, Lefens Porter. Only relatives and intimate friends have been invited to the party. There are a number of other small parties for Miss Walsh, who will be here until the end of the week.

Mrs. James E. Baggot Jr., Mrs. Henry R. Pope, Mrs. Robert A. Black, Mrs. Clifford G. Roe, Mrs. Charles Rittenhouse and Mrs. Edwin A. Weary are a few of those who have taken tables for the annual luncheon, card party and fashion show of La Rabida Jackson Park sanitarium, to be held today at the Palmer house.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Bodfish of 219 Lake Shore drive gave a dinner party at their home last night for Sir Harold Bellman of England, whom the Bodfishes visited last summer at The Treetops, Finchley. Tonight there will be a dinner at the University club in Evanston for the visiting Englishman.

HAROLD TEEN—THE STAGE IS SET

A Complete Summer Outfit



WOMAN'S AND MISS' OUTFIT.

This pattern really is a bargain. It furnishes a complete early summer outfit, an indispensable one that will carry you through a varied program of informal social activity. It's a perfect little bolero costume, consisting of the jacket, a blouse, and a darling skirt. All of the garments may be used separately with the others in your wardrobe.

The original of this ensemble was made of dusty pink crêpe with the blouse in a harmonizing print. Any color you select will be all right, for although fashion has some pet shades, she is sponsoring all conceivable tones this season.

The bolero is brief and collarless and has puffed sleeves and two patch pockets. The collarless blouse is fitted snugly to the figure and has a high neckline. The skirt is a paneled one, gracefully wide near the hem, but beautifully fitted at the hips. You will find that the costume is just as pretty in cotton or linen as it is in silk.

Style No. 3463 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, and 38 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires two and three-quarters yards of 39 inch material for the bolero and skirt, with one yard of 39 inch material for the blouse.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Here are those dwarfs again!

Snow White and her engaging little playmates are giving cosmetic manufacturers just as much fun as they do the fascinated public. The newest offerings in the Disney motif are for children—and they have the kind of cuteness that appeals. So often, you know, cuteness can go much too far.

These are charming. There is a wishing well of fairy dusting powder, with the seven dwarfs prancing across the silk band on the fat powder puff. This is the right kind of a dusting powder for youngsters—pure as can be—and the package will delight them.

Then there is some magic bubbly bath. This too will charm them; it makes billions and trillions of frothy white bubbles in the tub. Grownups and children must find this great fun; bath-bubble preparations sell like crazy.

There is also a "dunker" kids will love. It's a fat ball of good white soap strung on a white cord that slings round the neck. The seven dwarfs, all in hilarious attitudes, are etched into the soap ball.

Our pet, though, is the box of six cakes of soap. Each cake is in its own little compartment, neatly labeled with the picture of the dwarf whose face is etched on the cake. The seventh compartment is a fooler; its legend reads, "Grumpy wouldn't take a bath so he gets NO SOAP!"

These are all inexpensive, but of excellent quality. And if the children in your life are mad about those dwarfs and their playmate they'll adore them.

Real Reasons Back of Child's Bad Behavior

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS
[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Blanket advice isn't easy to give. There are, after all, so many things that may be the cause of a little girl's sullenness, or an older boy's defiance.

Sometimes several things work together to bring about a state of mind we cannot understand in a child. There was a little girl of 10 who had dispirited spells, who wept often, and who was seldom her busy, ebullient self. Her mother made all sorts of efforts to bring her out of this state.

A couple of years later her daughter was once more as she used to be. This fact suddenly dawned on the mother one day, and she sat down to think it out. At last she pieced the puzzle together, and it looked something like this:

Several years before the family home had been broken up. A move had been made to a strange and undesirable neighborhood and small quarters. A latent physical weakness of the child's at the same time flared into action. And week-ends in the country were temporarily discontinued.

All these things, not any one alone, working together must, the mother decided have contributed to the emotionally low state of her child, for now an attractive home had been found, the little girl's physical condition had greatly improved, week-ends in the country were resumed, and she had once more a happy child.

But it can happen, too, that just one unfavorable thing in a child's life will permeate a great deal of her behavior, and if cleared up, will result in an equally far reaching improvement. There was the little girl of 4 [we seem to be running to little girls today] who rather suddenly began to act like a child half her age, or less. She must have some one stay with her after she got into bed; she fussed about her food till some grownup in the family sat down and fed her; she cried and whined about putting away her toys, which she had always done capably and willingly; and worst of all and to her mother's intense chagrin, she had what we call a reversal of toilet habits, causing as much washing as the new baby brother himself.

What could be the matter? Simply, it was figured out, the new baby brother! The first boy in the whole family—a beaming, cooing, contented cherub, adored by one and all, and taking most of the time of a not-too-strong young mother—it was quite enough to cause unhappiness in the small breast of the sister of the crown prince. The cause pointed the cure, and big sister [still little] behaved and lived happily ever after.

If things are wrong with your child, whatever his age, look for one cause or a combination. Then right them if you can.

The Housewife

Have you seen a Louisiana rice ball? If you have you've probably wanted to own one. And that's easy to do, for you don't have to go to New Orleans to get one. They are now available in Chicago.

These balls, which are made of a fine sieve, are ideal for cooking rice. If you use one you avoid all the mess of washing the rice in a pan or bowl, for you place the quantity you wish to cook in the ball, fasten it shut, then immerse it in running water and wash the rice quickly and easily.

Then, you place the ball in boiling water for the cooking period. And when finished, it's so easy simply to remove it, avoiding the scorching steam that comes when you pour off the water from the rice. You simply open the ball, and there you are.

These handy gadgets cost very little. Several recipes are furnished with each one. EDITH WEIGLE.

CONSIDER THE VULNERABILITY.
[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

Few players pay the proper attention to the conditions of vulnerability. The correct bid when vulnerable may be decidedly incorrect when not vulnerable and, of course, vice versa. The hand shown below is a type that should be studied, particularly by duplicate players.

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♥ J 10 7 5
♦ Q J 6 2

EAST

♦ A 9 4 3

SOUTH
♥ Q 8
♦ K 10 7
♣ A K Q 6 3 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 spade	2 hearts
Pass	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	5 hearts	5 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

This bidding ruled at several tables of a recent duplicate game, and the match-point score which the unmakable five spade contracts brought North and South were not so hot. It was, of course, North's selection of a mere one spade response that led to the bad result, inasmuch as it opened the way to profitable sacrifice bidding by East-West. These particular Norths were voluble in their own defense, pointing out that a three or four spade bid in response to one club might easily have prevented their reaching a laydown slam, if South's hand had been stronger. This type of argument holds no water. Why should North feel that a three or four spade response to the opening bid would silence South if the latter had the values for a slam try? Obviously, with the hand South actually held, a pass would be very much in order, but if South held enough additional strength and additional controls there would be nothing to prevent his making another bid over three or four spades.

North should have realized that the makeup of his own hand was such as to suggest that the opponents, also, would have at least one good suit. Considering the vulnerability conditions, namely, that North-South were vulnerable and East-West were not, North's one spade response was virtually an invitation to the opponents to start bidding.

As may be seen, East accepted this invitation with alacrity. Then, when North made his belated jump to game, West conceived the sound notion that five hearts, not vulnerable, hardly could be defeated as much as a vulnerable game was worth, and acted accordingly. The moment the five heart bid came North was "fixed," no matter what he did. The fact that he actually went down one trick at five spades was not of vital importance. To have doubled the five heart contract would have been almost equally bad on a match-point basis; a 300 point penalty would not have begun to compensate North-South for the laydown vulnerable game of which they were robbed. Under equal vulnerability conditions North's spade bid would not have been so bad, since North could count on going to four and, further, assume that a five bid by the opponents might be punished commensurately. But when North could see a minimum of 620 points to be had from a four spade contract, he should have realized that the opponents could afford to go down as many as three tricks in a paying sacrifice, and should not have permitted that to happen. Obviously, East would not have been able to bid over either three or four spades.

EVENTS of the STAGE

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

Musical comedy in Yiddish may be found at the Studebaker, where a company from New York began a week's engagement last night in a lyric romance called "Semele's Bar-Mitzvah" ["Sammy's Confirmation"]. This entertainment tells a story of frustrated lovers in Jewish-American middle class life as sad and sweet and incidentally comic as the plot of any early Victorian novel.

The players are better singers, in general, than the principals of any typical Broadway musical show and are also capable in characterization. Herman Yablokoff, a new star on the Yiddish stage, leads the cast and gives an attractive account of himself in a sentimental rôle. English is used in the dialog more frequently than is customary in Yiddish theatricals and the non-Yiddish playgoer who happens to know a little German will find the story of "Semele's Bar-Mitzvah" easy to follow.

These Yiddish performances follow on the heels of a German revival of Meyer-Foerster's "Alt-Heidelberg," which was given in the same theater on Sunday afternoon and evening. This is apparently foreign language week at the Studebaker.

The Chicago bureau of the American Theater society [an activity of the Theater Guild and its allies] opened its subscription sale for next season yesterday. It promises six bookings including Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in "Amphitryon 38," and "The Sea Gull," "Of Mice and Men," by John Steinbeck, and "Shadow and Substance," by Paul Vincent Carroll.

Cheese fondues and soufflés are similar dishes, the chief differences being that fondues are built on a bread crum base and soufflés upon a foundation of thick white sauce. Both dishes must have careful blending and careful baking to be at their best. Both should be served piping hot, fresh from the oven, or they will lose volume and become somewhat limp.

Cheese Fondue.

1 cup scalded milk
1 cup soft bread crums
1 cup grated cheese
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne pepper
3 eggs, separated

Pour scalded milk over the crums. Add grated cheese and seasonings and heat in the top of a double boiler until cheese is melted, stirring constantly. Remove from the heat and stir into the beaten egg yolks. Beat the whites until stiff and fold them in. Turn the mixture into a greased baking dish, place the dish in a pan of hot water and bake at 325 degrees, slow oven, until the fondue is firm. This will require 30 to 45 minutes.

Green Pepper Fondue.

1 cup scalded milk
1 cup soft bread crums
1 cup grated cheese
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
Sprinkling dry mustard
2 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper

Scald the milk and pour over the crums. Add cheese and seasonings and stir over the hot water until blended. Beat the yolks until thick and add the mixture to them. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Grease a baking dish and sprinkle with pimiento and green pepper. Turn the fondue into the dish and bake until firm at 325 degrees, with the dish set in a pan of hot water.

Cheese Soufflé.

1 cup grated cheese
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
Sprinkling pepper
3 eggs, separated

Add the cheese to a thick white sauce made by blending butter and flour, adding milk and seasonings and cooking over low heat until thickened. Continue to cook gently, stirring constantly until the cheese has melted. Remove from the heat and add slowly to the egg yolks, which have been beaten until thick, stirring at the same time. Cool slightly and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into a greased baking dish, place the dish in a pan of hot water and bake at 325 degrees, slow oven, until firm, about an hour. To test for doneness, touch the soufflé lightly with the finger, and if the surface springs back readily, the dish is done. Serve at once or the soufflé will lose puffiness.

TOMATO SOUFFLE.

Use tomato purée in place of milk in the recipe just given. This gives a pleasant flavor variation.

Soufflés and fondues may be varied by changing the kind of cheese used in them from time to time. American cheese is the standard, but pimiento, old English, Swiss, and other readily meltable cheese will do quite as well.

Business Men Give Accurate, Vital Concert

NEW RADIO SERIES

In its cheery blue and silver audience studio W-G-N launched last evening a series of performances of standard operas in condensed form. The choice for the first evening was "Martha," and an audience which filled the room clapped delightedly throughout the forty-five minute period at the gay and spirited tunes of the Flotow masterpiece.

Kathryn Witwer, soprano; Elizabeth Brown, contralto; Attilio Baggiore, tenor, and Mark Love, bass, took the solo parts. Henry Weber conducted and the W-G-N orchestra and vocal ensemble completed the musical scheme of things.

An interesting feature of the presentation was the use of a separate set of actors and actresses to take the spoken parts of the drama. By this means the process of telescoping a two and a half hour work into forty-five minutes was greatly facilitated. Often a few exchanges on the part of the actors would take care of a scene whose musical peformance would require a quarter hour or so. Pierre Andre served as announcer and helped to carry the story.

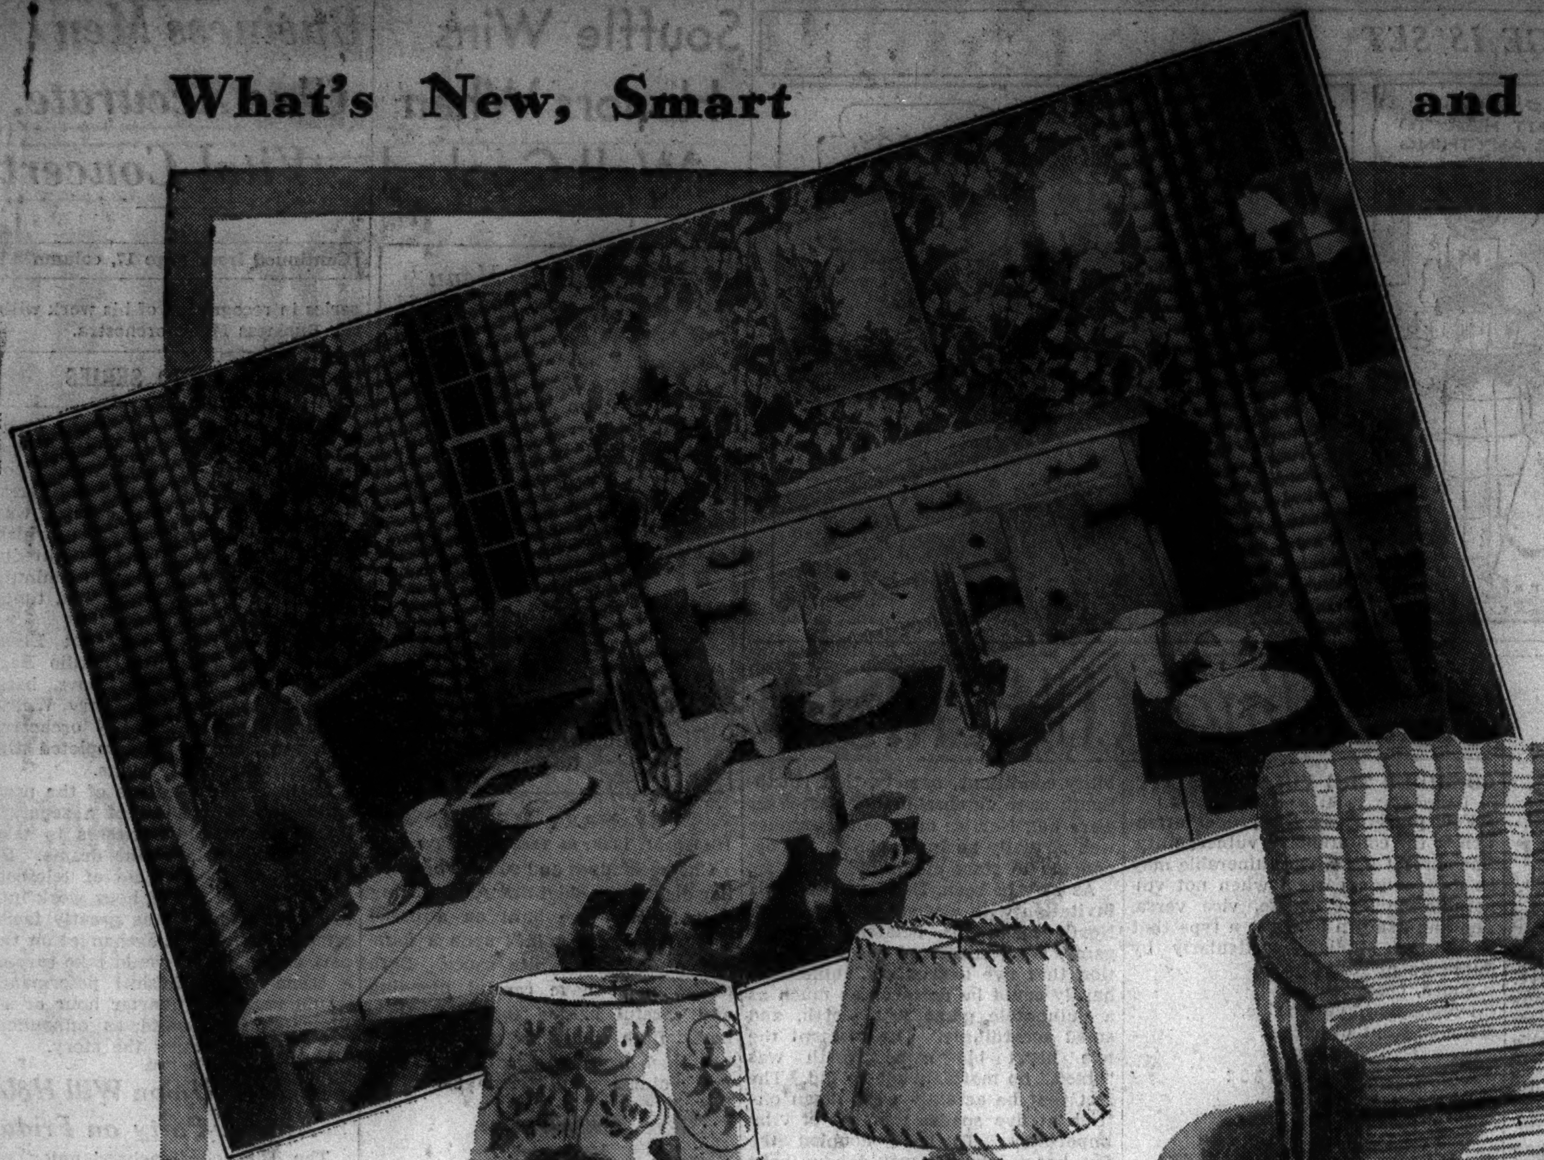
What's New, Smart and Different on Carson's Homefurnishing Floors



California Provincial

sophisticated cousin of New England maple

We found it in California—this solid maple as native to America as its New England cousins, but utterly different in character. It was so immediately popular that we went right back to California and had lamps made to go with it. Here we show a sofa at $89.50 and a lounge chair at $69.50—both in the "Farmhouse" finish with homespun covers; also a "Farmhouse" end table at $13.95, and a "Farmhouse" secretary at $37.50. The lamps include a "Fiesta" painted pottery lamp with matching shade, $16.95; a maple bucket with gayly decorated shade, $16.95, and a maple "Wagon Wheel" lamp with leather-thonged shade, $17.95.

CHAMPIONS OF EUROPE SEE PARIS; SAIL TOMORROW

ALL IN PERFECT CONDITION FOR CHICAGO BOUTS

Plan Daily Drills on Shipboard.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 2.—Ten rugged, pink complexioned young men, the greatest amateur boxers in all Europe, bounced around Paris today with the speed of so much bad news, trying to see it all in forty-eight hours. They are stopping here for two days, waiting for the Queen Mary to steam into Cherbourg, from where they will sail for America and the biggest adventure of their lives Wednesday evening.

The squad arrived late last night after a fourteen hour ride from Berlin, where on Friday night they won the right to represent Europe in the annual International Golden Gloves match against Chicago's champions in Chicago May 18. It probably was the largest single importation of good health ever unloaded in Paris. You could hear their corpuscles snapping at one another this morning as they strolled along the Rue De La Paix, picking up bric-a-brac for friends back home.

Honor Another Champion.

One call they made today was at the tomb of Napoleon, who also was a champion fighter in his day. From there they went to Notre Dame cathedral, the Louvre and Versailles. They were accompanied by officials of the European Boxing federation wherever they went.

This probably is the most orderly group of young men that ever has been banded together. The four German members, Adolf Baumgarten, Richard Vogt, Herbert Nurnberg, and Herbert Runge, can talk to one another, but are unable to speak the languages of any others on the squad. Similarly, Ulderico Sergo and Guido Nardecchia of Italy can converse only with each other. Olli Lehtinen of Finland, John Saunders of Ireland, Antoni Kolczynski of Poland, and Miholy Bondi of Hungary aren't able to talk to any one, which may or may not be fortunate for team harmony.

It's a Universal Language.

The important thing is that all ten have no trouble speaking with their fists, and they intend to prove it in Chicago Stadium.

Dr. Franz Metzner of Germany, Count Gerardo Leonardi of Italy, Arthur Kankovszky of Hungary, and Oscar Soderlund of Sweden, who have been appointed by the European federation to accompany the boys to Chicago, were luncheon guests of Paul Rousseau, president of the French Boxing federation, today. M. Rousseau saved the party no little inconvenience upon arrival last night by meeting it at the train with private cars.

Taxis were off the streets because of a one day strike.

Start Drills Thursday.

No workouts are scheduled for the boxers until Thursday on the Queen Mary. If the sea is reasonably calm they will drill twice daily until they reach New York on Monday. Two or three have minor cuts incurred in the Berlin tournament, but all will be ready for rigorous training Thursday.

Tomorrow will be devoted to more sightseeing. The group will leave Gare St. Lazare for Cherbourg at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon.

If Europe fails to whip Chicago on May 18 officials will be ready to admit the futility of the task. They regard this year's team as the best ever assembled in Europe. It was your correspondent's observation, while watching the young men hammer one another in the European finals, that the officials' appraisal is right. We are not certain at all, however, that the combined fighting talent of Europe can match Chicago's. New York will tell you those 1938 Chicago Golden Glovers are no push-overs.

SITTIN' PRETTY!

Thousands of amateur fight fans have purchased their tickets for the seventh international bouts between Chicago's Golden Gloves champions and the champions of Europe in the Stadium the night of May 18. They wouldn't miss this show for anything.

If you'd like to join the fortunate, it's not too late. Seats are now on sale in the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Mail orders should be addressed to Golden Gloves ticket manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago. Make check or money order payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. The prices:

THE GUMPS—JEKYLL AND HYDE

Favorite Runs in Derby Trial Stakes.

BY FRENCH LANE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—A full day is in store for the early birds in the advance guard of Kentucky Derby visitors at Churchill Downs tomorrow. Stagehand, the storybook horse of this year's Derby, goes through his final tuneup in the Derby Trial stakes tomorrow afternoon.

Fighting Fox, the horse the artists are raving about, attended by a full retinue, will pull in from New York some time during the morning. His owner, William Woodward, the New York banker, expects him to carry on for the colt's big brother, Gallant Fox, 1930 Derby winner.

Then there is Bull Lea, the colt from Chicago owned by Warren Wright, which Kentuckians say is the most perfect specimen of a route runner developed in America in many a year. He will thrill the sunrise railbirds with a serious training move early in the morning if Trainer Frank Kearns goes through with his plans.

It Gets Tougher Hourly.

After all this happens, it no doubt will be more difficult than ever to pick the Derby winner or even the horse that will rule as the favorite when the field parades to the post.

Stagehand meets nine Derby rivals, including his own roommate, The Chief, in the Derby trial at a mile. Stagehand probably will rule as the 4 to 5 favorite. If he is beaten, his chance of going to the post on Derby day as the favorite will be dimmed considerably. In that event, Fighting Fox more than likely will be the Derby day favorite at 5 to 2, and Bull Lea may be the second choice at 7 to 2, with Stagehand at 4 to 1, unless he completely disgraces himself in tomorrow's endeavor.

The Chief May Not Start.

Trainer Earl Sande assured everybody this afternoon that Stagehand will go in the Trial, but said he may withdraw The Chief from the race because the latter scored an impressive victory in his Derby tuneup on Saturday afternoon. Sande said Jocky George Woolf will ride The Chief in the Derby.

That adds anotner peculiar twist to this year's Derby, which already has developed into the most unusual in the last dozen years. Woolf rode Seabiscuit in the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby, when Stagehand got up in the last jump to defeat the far western handicap champion.

Woolf is coming on from New York and it is understood that in the event either Stagehand or The Chief wins the Derby, he and Jocky Jack Westrope, who will be aboard Stagehand, each will receive the same riding wage from Maxwell Howard, owner of the two colts.

Bull Lea Steps Out.

Nearly everybody except Sande believes the mile route of the Trial is too short for Stagehand, a famous stretch runner. Still they are afraid to bet against him in the face of the workouts he has turned in lately.

Three Derby colts which attracted attention this morning were Bull Lea, Lawrin, and Menow. Bull Lea traveled a half mile in 49 seconds in preparation for his more serious training move tomorrow. Those who lined the rails were inclined to believe he likes the Derby track as well as he did the Keeneland course, over which he already has shattered two track records this spring.

Lawrin was driving hard to finish three-quarters in 1:13. "He's sulking again," his trainer, Ben Jones, remarked sadly after the drill. Menow, very much at home on the Churchill Downs course, breezed a mile in 1:44.

Simplicity to Be Stressed in Golf Lessons

The gospel of sound fundamentals will continue to be the text of THE TRIBUNE'S free golf school sermons in the sixth annual session opening one week from tonight on the four courses of the Chicago park district.

Adherence to the A. B. C.s of the game has been a regular feature of the school, largest system of group instruction in the history of golf, since its inception in 1933. The best teachers in the game long ago accepted the fact that it can be taught to better advantage from the primer stage than it can by attempting to confuse the student with complex explanations of the various phases of the swing.

Simplicity Is Stressed.

The true aim of the school through its six year career has been to stimulate interest in golf, with particular attention directed to those who have never swung a club in their lives. That is the reason for this emphasis on simplicity in the course of four lessons, and the members of the Illinois section of the professional golfers' association who form the faculty of the school will follow that program throughout.

Matriculation in the school is the simplest part of its curriculum. Merely go to that park district course most convenient to you, bringing a golf club. Promptness is imperative. All lessons at each course will start at 7 p. m. and will last about one hour.

The first lesson will be held next Tuesday night, the second on Thursday night, May 12, the third on Tuesday night, May 17, and the fourth and last of the regular classes will be conducted on Thursday, May 19. The finals, in which the thirty-two prize students from the four courses will compete, will be held Sunday afternoon, May 22, at a course to be announced later this week.

Pick Finalists May 19.

These finalists will be determined after the last regular lesson on May 19. The head instructor at each of the four courses, aided by his associate teachers, will choose the student in each division—men's, women's, boys', and girls'—who are adjudged to have progressed most aptly in their lessons, and those rated second. This will give each course a representation of eight in the graduating exercises.

The first of the fundamentals to be dwelt upon will be the grip, which will be taught in the opening lesson next Tuesday. On this occasion there also will be given an introduction to the stance. The latter will be completed with primary instruction on the pivot and back swing in the second lesson on May 12. The May 17 lesson will be devoted to the completion of the backswing, with the downswing and follow through reserved for the final lesson on May 19.

BOXER INJURED IN CRASH DIES ON OPERATING TABLE

John Prowich, 22 years old, who fought under the name of Jack Fargo, died on the operating table in the Evanston hospital last night after a collision between the motorcycle on which he was riding and a car driven by a neighbor girl, Miss Grace Erickson, 16 years old, who was turning into the drive at her home, 710 Green Bay road, Wilmette. Prowich lived at 724 Green Bay road.

The youth had appeared on fight cards in neighborhood clubs in Chicago during last two years and was regarded as a promising heavyweight prospect. He was scheduled to meet Max Marek, C. Y. O. boxer and former Illinois heavyweight champion, in a ten round bout at the Rainbo Fronton May 13.

In 1937 his record included ten victories, three draws, and three defeats. He drew with Carl Vinciquerra, former Golden Gloves champion, in their first meeting and then lost a disputed decision to the Omaha, Neb., boxer in a return match. He scored the outstanding victory of his short career last Jan. 17, stopping Tom Kenneally, promising young C. Y. O. heavyweight, in the first round.

Dean Expects to Hurl Today Against Phils

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., May 2.—There are a few "ifs" about it, but Dizzy Dean expects to pitch tomorrow when the Cubs return to Wrigley field in the opener of a three game series with the Phillies. Diz threw a few in practice before today's game with the Cardinals and then repeated his previous speech about "There is nothing wrong with the arm, but the charley horse is still in my leg." When Diz mentions the alleged charley horse every one laughs.

Diz's start tomorrow, his fourth as a Cub, depends on how he looks when warming up. If his actions aren't satisfactory, Manager Charley Grimm will call on Larry French, who was yanked in the fourth inning of Sunday's game.

Dean is more than anxious to get in there tomorrow and show something worthy of his fame. Owner P. K. Wrigley will be back from California in a few days and Diz wants to have a good argument for the boost in pay he has had in mind since the Cubs bought him from the Cards.

The splint which has been around Bill Jurges' jammed right thumb for several days will be removed tomorrow, but even if the injury has vanished, Bill will not be restored to his shortstop job. He'll have to wait until Tony Lazzeri slows down as a hitter.

DAY OUTPOINTS CARA; JOYCE DEFEATS AGNES

Davey Day, Chicago lightweight, hammered out a decision in ten rounds over Pete Cara of New York in Marigold Gardens last night. Cara lost every round except the eighth, according to Referee Davey Miller and Judges Ed Klein and John Bray. Bray scored the eighth round even.

Day weighed 138 to Cara's 139.

Willie Joyce, Gary 131 pound boxer, scored his second victory over Frankie Agnes of the west side in the five round semi-final.

Lou Laurie, Cleveland featherweight, made it seven successes in eight starts by beating Eddie Shapiro in a four round preliminary match. In two other contests of four rounds Eddie Maleski stopped Sam Terry in the second round and Phil Saeli scored a three round knockout over Frankie La Porte.

$1,290 DOUBLE PAY-OFF OPENS RACING SEASON

Silver Palm, Margaret Nadi Win at Aurora.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Ten thousand members of the turf faithful who journeyed out to Aurora yesterday to witness the opening of the Fox Valley Jocky club and the inauguration of a six months campaign in the Chicago district were thrilled by one of the wildest opening days in local racing history.

They came prepared to see Aurora's new totalizator, their pockets lined to make it ring up row after row of digits. They were set to pick winners, whether they were favorites or long shots. But they were not prepared for the following highlights of the perfect afternoon:

1. A daily double which paid $1,290.80, one of the highest combinations on record in the Chicago district. Six tickets were sold on the winning pair, Silver Palm in the second race and Margaret Nadi in the third. Five of them were held by individuals, while the sixth was a syndicate among four men who arrived at the right combination by throwing dice.

Three Riders Fall.

2. A spill which saw three horses throw their riders fifty yards from the finish wire. Most seriously injured was Jocky Albert Bodiou, who was taken to the track hospital with a seriously cut left eye. Joe Hernandez, the second jocky, was knocked unconscious, while little Hank Hauer, after being thrown to the track, sat up and crawled to the infield.

3. Miss Dolphin, four year old filly owned by Mrs. A. M. Creech, furnished another thrill by coming within two-fifths of a second of the track record while winning the $1,500 Fox Valley Inaugural handicap, feature race of the program. Miss Dolphin, ridden by R. Conley, had won three of her previous eight starts this year.

Four holders of the daily double tickets will have to be known herewith as Donald Duck, Michael Mouse, Grumpy, and Dopey, as they refused to identify themselves on collecting their $1,290 portions. Fifth of the lucky ones was Mrs. Edith Arvey, 1326 Independence boulevard, who took away her winnings in a check. Mrs. Arvey is the wife of Ald. Jacob M. Arvey of the 24th ward.

This Is One Way.

The sixth ticket was held by Jerome Miller, a tavern operator of Batavia, Ill., and three associates. Before the daily double this quartet solved the dilemma of which horses to play by throwing a pair of dice. One of Miller's friends tossed a four. The No. 4 horse in the second race was Silver Palm. Miller then essayed the fateful second fling and threw a 6, indicating Margaret Nadi in the third race. He thought so well of the number that he placed a personal two dollars across the board on her.

Silver Palm rewarded the quartet by winning the second race and paying $18 to win. A sixteenth from home in the third it looked as if Sun Dora would beat the Batavia foursome out of its double, but Jocky Gene White, son of a Chicago baker, gave Margaret Nadi a nudge. It was enough to give her the decision by a nose. It also deposited an extra $343 in Mr. Miller's wallet, for in the mutuels Margaret Nadi paid $239.80 to win, $77 to place, and $26.20 to show.

Sun Madras Starts It.

The spill occurred in the fourth race, in full view of the grandstand and lawn customers. Sun Madras, ridden by Bodiou, was running in the middle of the field of eight when he stumbled and threw his rider. Busse Trumpet, with Hauer up, cleared Sun Madras and the prostrate Bodiou, but didn't regain his footing properly, and Hauer found himself on the track, wherefrom he arose and staggered to the infield. Ultidue, last to go down, stumbled right at the finish line and deposited Hernandez over the rail and into the infield.

WARNEKE WINS AS LEE FOLDS UP IN EIGHTH INNING

Collins Hits 2 Home Runs, Demaree One.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., May 2.—After four consecutive victories the Cubs came up with another of their fatal fainting spells today. Bill Lee, who had been a brilliant performer and appeared destined to accomplish his first full nine inning job of the year, swooned in the eighth inning and the Cardinals plunked the ball for a cluster of four runs. This last minute surge erased a Cub lead and hoisted Lonnie Warneke to a triumph over his former teammates. The score was 6 to 3.

Until he ran into this rally Lee had handled the Cardinals as if they were so many humpty-dumpty athletes. He throttled them on four hits for six innings. In the seventh they added two more. Then the eighth started with Lee committing a fielding error on the simplest sort of chance. Before Big Bill could bury his grief there was a series of hits, among them Ducky Medwick's first home run of the season. So Bill was carried away. The last of the four runs was scored on a wild pitch by Rescuer Clay Bryant.

Lon Has Stuff.

Warneke, although a run behind at two stages, wasn't lacking in skill. His big difficulty was the home run ball. He threw one to Rip Collins for the tying run in the fourth. He threw one to Frank Demaree in the same inning and this put the Cubs in front. He threw another to Collins in the eighth and this restored a one run Chicago lead, the Cards having tied it in the seventh. Except for these three homers, the Cubs didn't have the veteran right hander in any serious jams.

What hurt Cub ambitions considerably was Warneke's good fortune in taking care of Billy Herman. Billy was up five times and failed five times, although he came so close once that he was stopped only by a spectacular catch on the part of Medwick. There was a run waiting to score when Ducky pulled this stunt. And in the seventh and ninth Herman was the victim of the third out with two mates waiting on the bases.

Lon Starts Well.

Lee's first inning really was a bit more boisterous than indicated by the lone run scored against him. J. Brown opened with a three base drive between Demaree and Marty. He hiked home on Bucher's single to right. Herman picked up Slaughter's roller and threw to Lazzeri to force Bucher. Then Medwick ripped loose a whistling liner, but happily for the Cubs it traveled straight to Herman, who purposely dropped the ball to start a double play.

Warneke was so hot in the first inning that he fanned Hack and Collins while setting down three in a row. He remained hot until after two were gone in the second when a pass to Galan let the Chicagoans enjoy their initial venture on the bases. The fun was short lived because Lazzeri flied to Pepper Martin. In the next inning Warneke surrendered the first hit. It was a single through short by Lee with one out, and Lee might have scored if, for the third out, Medwick hadn't dashed back to the fence and made that leaping one handed catch on Herman.

Those Heavy Smacks.

By way of proving that Lee had nothing on him as a hitter, Warneke opened the home third with a double to right center. Lee made his job tougher by walking J. Brown, but he emerged with his hide intact. When Bucher endeavored to sacrifice, his bunt was directly in front of the

KAINRATH GRINS; GETS HIS SECOND CHANCE AT SERGO

Revenge Motif to Prevail in Stadium May 18.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

When the Chicago Golden Gloves squad reports tomorrow in the Illinois Athletic club to begin training for the international bouts in the Stadium May 18, no boy will be more seriously intent upon winning than Capt. Frankie Kainrath. It is unfair, of course, to assume that the other members of the Chicago squad will not strive as diligently as Kainrath, but the fact that Ulderico Sergo of Italy, once more will represent Europe in the 118 pound class, is an incentive not found in other pairings.

Some American must stop Sergo's long winning streak and that American may be Kainrath. Sergo's domination of Golden Glovers began in 1935 when he was a member of the Italian championship squad which was beaten in the Stadium, 5 bouts to 3, in one of the greatest international shows sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. That night Sergo whipped Johnny Brown, who represented the Chicago Catholic Youth Organization, as does Kainrath.

Wilson Knows Him, Too.

In 1936 Jackie Wilson of Cleveland, after winning the Chicago Golden Gloves 112 pound championship and whipping his New York opponent in the intercity series, advanced to the bantamweight division and won the Olympic trials in Chicago. Jackie then swept through the bantamweight class in the Olympic boxing tournament in Berlin until he reached the finals. There again was Sergo and it was this sturdy Italian who whipped his American opponent and took the Olympic title.

Last year Sergo won the European tournament, which was held in Milan and you remember, of course, how Sergo received the decision over Kainrath in the international tournament in the Stadium. But Sergo's margin of victory was slight, so slight, that Kainrath is not at all discouraged at the prospect of meeting him.

"If I could have picked my opponent," Kainrath said yesterday, "it would have been Sergo. I believe I can whip him and if I do, I will have cleared up my record."

May Revise Chicago Lineup.

The Chicago coaches may find it necessary to rearrange their plans for the flyweight and bantamweight classes as Europe will bring two contestants in each of these divisions. All ten members of the European championship team will box in the Stadium, but the matches in which Olli Lehtinen of Finland, 112 pounds, and Miholy Bondi of Hungary, 118 pounds, appear will not count in deciding the international title.

Kenny Lottman of Peoria, the Golden Gloves flyweight champion, quite likely may advance to the bantamweight division. When Lottman fought in New York he weighed in at 112¾ pounds. In international competition, there will be no weight allowance of one pound, as is the rule in Golden Gloves. The coaches do not believe Lottman can make 112 pounds without weakening himself. If this is true, he will move to the 118 pound division.

Should Help Team.

Walter Cavalieri of the C. Y. O., and Jesse Salzar of Omaha, are the other 112 pounders on the Golden Gloves team. It also will be a strategic move to advance Lottman a class, for Clayton Johnson of Sioux City, Ia., the bantamweight alternate who fought on the intercity team, cannot report for training.

Chicago also will be without the services of Cornelius Young, middleweight champion, who finds it impossible to leave his studies at St. Norbert college for the training period. Young was prevented from meeting New York's Golden Glove champion because of an injury and so Joe Benna of Valparaiso, winner of the Michigan City tournament, and Booker Beckwith of Gary, will fight it out in the I. A. C. to determine which shall face Adolf Baumgarten of Germany.

Europe Is Stronger.

This European squad is stronger than that which held Chicago to a tie last year. Three of the ten boys—Sergo, Herbert Nurnberg, lightweight, and Herbert Runge, heavyweight, the latter two of Germany—fought in those bouts. Sergo won, as did Nurnberg, who defeated Ed Kozole of Detroit.

Word has been received from the sixteen members of the Chicago team that they will register for training tomorrow. All will be on the road for the first workout Thursday morning and that afternoon they will have their first gymnasium drill in the I. A. C.

Infantry Wins Pimlico Stake from Jay Jay

Baltimore, Md., May 2.—(AP)—Twelve thousand fans, the largest opening day crowd in five years, were greeted by a parade of long shot winners and an upset in the $2,500 Baltimore Spring handicap at Pimlico today.

Millsdale stable's Infantry accomplished the major surprise with his photo finish victory in the feature. Backed down to third place in the closing odds, he broke second, moved into first by a narrow margin at the quarter and held the lead while standing off a drive by Howard Bruce's Jay Jay, the favorite.

Preëminent Is Third.

Hal Price Headley's Preëminent, second choice in the betting, was a close third. Infantry, carrying 110 pounds, covered the six furlongs in 1:12 to pay $12.20. The winner's purse was $2,340.

Today's victory stamped Infantry as a horse to watch in the $20,000 Dixie handicap May 11, next in interest to the $70,000 Preakness in Pimlico's twelve day program.

The long shots started with Post Luck, winner of the first race at $8.40. Idyllic won the second to pay $33.50, and combined with Post Luck in a daily double worth $110.30.

CEILING IS JAMAICA VICTOR.

New York, May 2.—(AP)—Ceiling, 5 year old gelding from P. Dinehart's stable, scored his third consecutive victory at Jamaica today as the final week of the Metropolitan Jocky club's spring meeting began.

The son of Ariel, held at 9 to 2, staged a strong finish in the six furlong Polydor handicap, a class C affair, to beat out I. J. Cohen's Noel H. and the favorite, Bob's Boys, representing J. D. Norris. Ceiling ran the six furlongs in 1:12 4-5.

Noel H., 16 to 5 second choice, held a comfortable lead going into the stretch. There Johnny Gilbert moved Ceiling up and caught Noel H. in the last few strides to win in a photo finish. Bob's Boys was three lengths behind.

CANOE TRIP ON DES PLAINES IS AN EYE OPENER

Surprises Greet Tourist on Southern Jaunt.

BY BOB BECKER.

The canoeist who takes the Des Plaines river trip starting at the Lawndale avenue bridge south of Riverside and paddles toward Lockport will be surprised when he arrives around Lemont. The old Des Plaines is a different river down there.

Surprise No. 1 will be the Hudson palisades effect, in miniature, formed by the high piles of rock which rise between the river and the sanitary district canal. This rocky wall curves its way down the valley toward Lockport. But on the right of the river, the canoeist looks far across a broad, green valley to the hills in the distance where wild crab apple trees and haws now are in blossom.

River Widens Out.

Surprise No. 2 is the way the river widens below Lemont. The channel is cut through low ground which gives the river a chance to stretch out until it has the appearance of a sizeable waterway. This part of the Des Plaines is so different from the narrow little stream Chicagoans see in the forest preserves west of Chicago that the canoeist may wonder if he hasn't taken the wrong route.

Below this wide part, the river again undergoes a big change. Instead of an open green marsh extending back from the stream toward highway 66, the low swampy bottomland is thickly covered with willows and other trees and the river breaks up into several channels. Sitting in the shade along these channels you'll see the fishermen patiently watching their lines and lures. Towering over all of this low wooded country is the miniature mountain range of jagged rocks and yellow earth which was piled up when the sanitary district canal was built.

Next, a Lake.

Still another surprise awaits the canoeist if he continues downstream past many small islands. The river widens out again, forming a lake of about 160 acres.

The canoeist who takes the Des Plaines river trip is bound to notice the difference between the sanitary district property that lies between the canal and the river in the upper part of the valley, and the land owned by the district in the vicinity of and below Lemont. In the upper part of the river the narrow strip of land between the canal and the river is less rocky and has more trees and shrubs on it.

There are inviting trails for hikes and possibilities for park use. In the lower river the country is rocky, less attractive to the recreationist and therefore has fewer possibilities for park purposes.

TRINER OPPOSED TO LOUIS-BAER BOUT IN CHICAGO

Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, would be refused permission to fight Joe Louis in a proposed title bout in Chicago next September, Joe Triner, chairman of the Illinois boxing commission, said yesterday. The commissioner made the announcement in the wake of word that Joe Foley, who was nominal promoter of the Louis-Braddock contest in Comiskey park last summer, is negotiating for Baer to meet the winner of the forthcoming Louis-Max Schmeling bout in New York.

On the other hand, Triner explained he would approve a Baer-Schmeling meeting "because Baer stopped Schmeling in their previous bout and he is a great fighter when he knows he can beat a fellow."

Triner recalled that Baer was counted out while on his knee in his first match with Louis three years ago.

REVISED YANKEE LINEUP BEATS SENATORS, 3-2

Di Maggio Hits Second Homer in Two Days.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—(AP)—Given a severe shaking up by Manager Joe McCarthy, the New York Yankees came through with ten hits today and just managed to beat the Senators, 3 to 2. Joe Di Maggio hit his second home run in two days in the fourth inning.

Frank Crosetti's double, his first hit in thirty-one trips to the plate, and Bill Knickerbocker's single accounted for the first Yankee run in the third, and doubles by Tom Henrich and Bill Dickey in the fifth brought home the other.

The shake up in the batting order dropped Lou Gehrig to sixth place, where he got a single, his sixth hit of the season, and moved Di Maggio into the clean up spot.

Monte Pearson got credit for the victory but had to be relieved in the eighth with two on and one out. Johnny Murphy issued a pass to fill the bases, then got the next two batters to fly out. Score:

INDIANS, 11; TIGERS, 3.

Cleveland, O., May 2.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians took to the warpath today in a manner befitting a first place club. In one inning—the fourth—they hammered three Detroit pitchers for nine hits and ten runs. The final score was 11 to 3.

The Indians batted around one and one-third times in their big inning, knocking out Jake Wade, who started and was the official loser; Harry Eisenstat and Al Benton. Behind the three unfortunate hurlers, the Tigers played errorless ball, but there seemed to be no stopping the Indians.

Dodgers Sell Winsett to Jersey City Team

New York, May 2.—(AP)—Before leaving on their first western trip that opens tomorrow in Pittsburgh the Brooklyn Dodgers today announced the sale of Outfielder Jack Winsett to Jersey City of the International league, a New York Giant "farm." Winsett, a left-handed hitter, batted only .237 for Brooklyn last year, and never lived up to his minor league promise.

Giants Polish Off Dodgers, 7-4; 11 in Row

New York, May 2.—(AP)—On home runs by Jim Ripple, Hank Lieber and Joe Moore and six hit pitching by southpaw Cliff Melton, the New York Giants today ran their winning streak to eleven straight with a 7 to 4 defeat of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Ripple clouted his homer, his fourth of the year, in the sixth inning. Two innings later he was carried to the clubhouse on a stretcher, after being hit on the back of the head by a pitch by Buck Marrow, third Dodger pitcher of the day.

At first it was feared the injury had been severe, but a medical examination revealed nothing worse than a bump, and the right fielder was able to leave for Cincinnati with his teammates.

COAST TO RULE FAVORITE OVER BIG 10 IN TRACK

The Pacific Coast conference will be a heavy favorite to defeat the Big Ten in the track meet between the two conferences in Northwestern university's Dyche stadium June 25, according to Director K. L. Wilson of Northwestern, who returned to Evanston yesterday with Mrs. Wilson after a two weeks' visit in California.

While in the west Wilson attended several track meets in Los Angeles and San Francisco and said that the Pacific coast marks are far superior to anything made in the Big Ten this year.

Wilson also conferred with athletic officials at Southern California, U. C. L. A., and the University of California concerning intersectional football games with Northwestern. While no definite dates were arranged, he said prospects were favorable for a game with one of the three schools in 1941. Northwestern's schedule is filled until that time.

Cardinals Rout Lee in Eighth to Beat Cubs

plate and it was easy for O'Dea to force Warneke at third. Then Slaughter poked a grounder to Herman and the second double play was put together.

As soon as the Cub fourth opened it was evident that Warneke had done himself no good by his exercises on the base lines. His first pitch to Collins was blasted onto the roof of the pavilion in right center. A moment later Demaree, with a 1 and 2 count, shot his homer into the left field bleacher. After Marty and Galan had been thrown out, Lazzeri hoisted a fly over left center, but Medwick and Pepper Martin were thinking about some new numbers for their hilly billy band and the ball dropped for a double. O'Dea closed the inning with a grounder to Bucher.

Warneke made his second hit—a single to right—after two were out in the fifth. Lee wasn't able to accept this challenge until the seventh when he singled to center with two out. It was the first Cub hit since Lazzeri's bargain double in the fourth. In wake of Lee's single came a pass to Hack. The inning ended peacefully for Warneke and profitless for the Cubs when Herman flied to Medwick.

Pepper Horns In.

Pepper Martin, who isn't the tough guy he used to be, finally got on the war path in the Cards' seventh and kept going until he had scored the tying run. After Mize had fouled to Hack, Pepper doubled to the wall in left center. He tarried there only while Gutteridge was fouling to Galan and then raced home on Bremer's double into the left field corner. Warneke tapped to Lee for the third out.

Collins' second homer, which opened the eighth and broke the tie for the moment, was similar to his earlier smack. It sailed to the right field roof and also was produced on Warneke's first pitch. Demaree followed with a single off J. Brown's hand, but there was no further progress.

Lee's collapse in the home eighth began on his own error. J. Brown bounced to Collins and Lee covered the base, but dropped a perfect throw from the Ripper. Bucher sacrificed the tying run to second. Slaughter singled to center and it went home. Then Medwick stepped into the argument with his knockout blow. He drove Lee's first pitch into the left field bleachers, the ball going fair by inches.

The Firing Continues.

The firing continued with Mize's single to left and Pepper Martin's second double which slipped through Lazzeri's hands. Lee was excused and Bryant summoned He purposely walked Gutteridge, filling the bases. Then he fanned Bremer and Warneke, but in between the strikes he threw a wild pitch on which Mize scored the fourth run of the inning.

WHITEHEAD IS LOST TO GIANTS FOR LONG PERIOD

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2.—[Special.]—Burgess Whitehead, convalescing second baseman of the Giants, will be lost to his club for an indefinite period, Manager Bill Terry revealed tonight, as the club passed through here on its way to Cincinnati.

He had a nervous breakdown following an appendicitis operation which made it necessary for Whitehead to take a complete rest.

Steinmetz and Morgan Park Nines Defeated

Steinmetz, which leads the west section of the Chicago Public High School league baseball race, and Morgan Park, undefeated in the south division, each were beaten for the first time yesterday, the former losing to Harrison Tech, 6 to 5, after eight straight victories and Morgan Park dropping a 4 to 1 decision to Harper.

The day's results left Lane Tech of the north and Lindblom of the central the only unbeaten teams in the league.

Jankas Hits Homers.

Harrison Tech tied Steinmetz at five all in the sixth inning on Jankas' second home run of the game, then won out in the seventh on a walk, a pair of singles, and a fielder's choice, Gotfryd scoring.

Other city league highlights on yesterday's heavy card were contributed by Austin, which scored a 27 to 5 victory over Foreman to equal the highest total of the season; Roosevelt, which won its first game in six starts, a 16 to 15 triumph over Senn; Hirsch's six run rally in the sixth which shaded Fenger, 7 to 6, and Kelly, which scored in every inning to rout Du Sable, 17 to 2, in a central section contest.

Oak Park Beaten.

In addition to Jankas, home runs were hit by Sarron, Austin; Marx and Richards, Lane; Slezak, Tilden; Strichich, Kelly; Ferslew and Riggs, Roosevelt; Dusek and Jacobson, Farragut, and Weaver of Crane.

Two games were played in the Suburban league, New Trier dealing Oak Park its second defeat in five games, 5 to 2, and Highland Park routing Evanston, 13 to 5. The loss was Evanston's fifth in succession. Yesterday's scores:

WHITE SOX RELAX BEFORE TAKING ON A'S TODAY

Remember Upsets That Woke 'Em Up in 1937?

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2.—The White Sox got here shortly after high noon today and relaxed, some of them even going out for a stroll under a bright sun. Tomorrow they engage the Athletics, who have been battling to get out of last place, and would have done so some days ago but for the fact the Sox have been keeping the St. Louis Browns in the league.

The A's have been socking the ball on occasions, but have been on no such victory jag as they enjoyed at the start of last season. You remember [or do you?] that last May 5 the A's horrified the Sox by whipping them, 7 to 6, in the first clash of the season, then aggravated matters in astounding fashion by slapping down the Chicagoans again on May 6, 3 to 1.

Then Sox Get Tough.

These two upsets served a grand purpose, however. On May 7 the Sox, entertaining Boston, still were stunned by their experiences with the A's and lost to the Red Sox, 5 to 3. Then they got tough.

On May 8 the Sox beat the Bostonese, 6 to 5, and then trimmed the Yanks, 2 to 1. On May 10 they relented against the Yanks, who won, 7 to 0, but on May 11 the Sox whanged the Yanks again, 7 to 2. On May 12 they beat Washington, 13 to 5, all of which just goes to show what happens when a team gets angry because it has been whipped by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Manager James Dykes, who had been wavering between John Whitehead and Merritt Cain, has just about decided on Cain. The throat ailment which has had Whitehead out of service for a week has disappeared. But the big fellow hurt his ankle or something in batting practice Sunday. The Sox expect to encounter George Caster.

Dykes May Play at Second.

Jack Hayes pulled a leg muscle in the eighth inning of yesterday's game. He can't tell how bad the injury is until he's taken a little exercise. He may play tomorrow or he may be out ten days. Manager Dykes thinks maybe he'll fill in at second if Jackie has to go to the sidelines.

Monty Stratton expects to do some pitching on this trip and if his trick arm proves as good as ever there's sure to be a big boom in Sox stock.

Maybe I'm Wrong—

in insisting that we never change our brewing methods . . .

but as long as the public buys more of our bottled beer than any other . . . I THINK I'M RIGHT!

by RICHARD SEIBOLD, Meister Bräu Brewmaster

NATURAL DRAFT BEER CARBONATION

We could save time and money by adding sugars or syrups—but we'll never do it

"A lot of foolishness" . . . that's what some people say about the care we take in making Meister Bräu. They think I'm just a stubborn Dutchman because I won't use "new" methods in brewing that would save time and money.

Well, we still make Meister Bräu the same way we made it 47 years ago. And I know the public prefers the flavor of an old-time brew because they buy more of our Bottled Beer than any other.

We pay extra to get the best Malt, and as much as ½ more to get the finest Hops.

We could save time and trouble by using sugars or syrups. That's a new method—and it makes a beer some people may like. But it may not give the "all-grain flavor." We prefer to rely on our skill in brewing our beer directly from the raw materials, rather than use "speed-up" methods.

Then we charge our Bottled Beer with Natural Draft Beer Carbonation created in the beer itself. This retains the real beer flavor. Gives it Sparkle, Foam and Zest. That's why Meister Bräu has the true draft beer flavor.

Please try this old-time beer made the slow, careful way that brings perfection. We promise you'll prefer it as others do. Ask for Meister Bräu in cans or bottles. That name assures you true beer flavor.

GERMANY LETS AUSTRIAN BOND ISSUES DEFAULT

Obligations Sold in U. S. Fail to Pay Interest.

New York, May 2.—(AP)—The German government failed today to provide funds to meet the May 1 coupon payment on two issues of Austrian dollar bonds, and the issues—the first to come up for interest payment since the mid-March Nazification of Austria—went into default.

The National City bank, fiscal agent for the City of Vienna 6 per cent bonds, and the New York Trust company, trustee for the 7½ per cent bonds of the Tyrol Hydro-Electric company, both said they had received no funds from the German Reichsbank to meet the coupon payments and were forced to default on them.

There are some $4,300,000 of the City of Vienna bonds outstanding and around $2,000,000 of the hydro-electric company issue.

Hope for Future Payment.

The New York Trust company said it expected some word "in a few days" regarding payment at some future time. At the National City bank, it was said that Vienna municipal authorities had made an effort to obtain authorization from the Reichsbank to meet the payment, but had been unsuccessful.

Full payment was made today on City of Graz 8 per cent bonds by the trustee, the Chase National bank. The bank, however, pointed out that the indenture of this issue required that the funds for coupon payments be deposited with the trustee at least forty-five days before date of payment, and that the funds had been received prior to the German seizure of Austria on March 13. There is only around $340,000 outstanding of this loan.

About 30 Millions Outstanding.

According to authoritative estimates, there are about $30,000,000 in Austrian dollar bonds outstanding—not all of which, however, are in the hands of the American public. Of this, some $20,000,000 is in the Republic of Austria 7 per cent bonds, on which the next coupon payment is due July 1. J. P. Morgan & Co. is the fiscal agent of this issue, but the money is not turned over to the banking house for payment until a few days before the date.

At the Morgan office it was said that inquiry had been made of the German government as to whether the coupon funds would be on hand for payment July 1. In the past payments have always been made in full on this issue, both as to interest and sinking fund.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Saving a Tree

May 2, 1938.

BRIDGE grafting has saved the life of a 15 year old apple tree that was completely girded by field mice two years ago on the Tribune's Du Page county farm. Today the tree is in full bloom. The success of the head gardener's tree surgery is indicated by healthy foliage and a good crop of open flowers that cover the wide spreading top.

In the winter of 1935-'36 the rodents, working under a deep snow, gnawed a ten inch band of bark off the trunk just above the ground. Since the sap flows through the cambium layer outside the woody portion of the tree, the food supply of the upper part of the tree was completely cut off. The tree would have died in the spring of 1936 if scions or young branches of the tree had not been grafted onto the bark to reëstablish the flow of sap.

Serve as Pipes.

The accompanying photograph of the bridge grafting work shows how the scions are becoming a part of the tree, serving as pipes to carry the food laden sap from the roots into all parts of the trunk and into every branch, twig and blossom.

The tree was only slightly retarded in its development after the mice gnawed away the bark. It is now about 16 feet tall; the trunk is approximately six inches in diameter. The exposed wood beneath the scions is beginning to decay. As soon as the scions become large enough to support the tree the gardeners plan to chisel away the rotten wood.

Six scions were grafted on this tree. Two years ago they were spindly, only about one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch in diameter. These scions have increased in size until today they are from one-half to three-fourths of an inch in diameter. The head gardener says that in a few years the scions will grow together and form a solid bridge across the ten inch gap left by the rodents. The scions are little longer than they were when grafted onto the tree.

Cuts from Old Growth.

The scions were cut from the previous year's growth late in March, 1936. They were still dormant and were kept in a cool place until the grafting was done late in April.

Apple tree saved by bridge grafting on Tribune's Du Page county farm.

The farm's gardeners find it necessary to cut the scions fairly early in the spring before the sap begins to flow in the trees and then keep them in a cool place until they are used. They also believe it is best to do the grafting the latter part of April or the first part of May, after growth starts and before the tree dies.

Ends of the scions were trimmed wedge-shaped so they would fit into the V notches made in the edge of the bark immediately below and above the exposed wood. The sap flows from the cambium layer of the tree below the injury into the cambium layer of the scion, thence through it and into the cambium layer of the tree above the wound. Grafting wax was used to cover the area where the scion and the bark were joined together.

A wire cable is used to prevent the tree from being swayed by the wind which often breaks the contact between the scions and the bark of the tree. Hardware cloth, or woven wire with one-fourth inch mesh, two feet high, is used to protect the trunk.

Gillette Safety Razor.

Investors' Guide: Please give me your comments on Gillette Safety Razor stock.—A. C. G.

Answer: Although faced with keen competition since expiration of its basic patents in 1921, the Gillette Safety Razor company has maintained its position as an important manufacturer of shaving materials by producing both low and high priced items, by introducing new products, and by building up its foreign business.

Razor blades constitute the principal line of the company, but razors and cutlery have contributed heavily to sales. The line of blades includes the regular Gillette blue blade, Probak, and Valet brands. A new brushless shaving cream has been recently marketed on a nation-wide scale and a new electric razor has been perfected.

The company has been engaged in much litigation since the expiration of its basic patents.

Foreign business is of growing importance, now accounting for half or more of total earnings. Factories are maintained in Canada, England, France, and Brazil, and the distributing organization is world-wide. A new British factory was opened in 1936.

Net income for the first quarter of this year dropped to $755,864, or 19 cents a common share, compared with $1,254,720, or 44 cents a share, in th corresponding 1937 period. Net income was $4,500,160, or $1.50 a share, in 1937; $4,975,889, or $1.72 a share in 1936; $4,568,805, or $1.51 a share, in 1935; $4,229,001, or $1.34 a share, in 1934; $3,659,022, or $1.05 a share, in 1933, and $10,244,243, or $4.65 a share, in 1929.

The company reported total assets of $27,030,300 at the end of 1937. Current assets were $6,900,082 and current liabilities were $2,375,582. There were 300,000 shares of $5 no par preference stock and 1,998,769 shares of no par common stock outstanding. Dividends on the common are being paid at the rate of $1 a year.

BYLLESBY FIRM CALLS WISCONSIN INQUIRY 'UNFAIR'

Assails Probing of Acts of Men Now Dead.

Madison, Wis., May 2.—[Special.]—Because men who are now dead engaged prior to 1930 in transactions of the H. M. Byllesby company, of Chicago, which the state banking commission is considering as a basis for revocation of the firm's securities license in this state, it is unfair to consider such transactions improper, H. H. Thomas, company counsel told the commission today.

William H. Spohn, special state counsel recommending revocation of the Byllesby company's license, told the commission that more than a million dollars paid out by the firm between 1925 and 1930 was unaccounted for by its books. The state's investigators, Spohn admitted, have discovered no evidence of improper disbursements by the firm's management since 1930.

Promises New Light.

State counsel, Thomas countered, was "going back into the graveyard of back generations." The evidence and testimony to follow the opening statements today, Thomas said, will account for a large part of the disbursements which Spohn contends were not listed on the firm's books.

Spohn explained the hearing had been asked after other investigations had revealed expenditures by the Byllesby firm for which it was claimed it could not account.

The Byllesby probe grew out of investigation of payments allegedly made to William M. Dineen, former secretary of the state public service commission. Spohn, in charge of the Dineen prosecution now pending before the Dane County Circuit court, said payments of $18,500 were traced from the company to Dineen, and another payment of $45,000 through a third party.

Concealment Charged.

The purpose of the latter item, he maintained, was not shown by the Byllesby books, and was therefore to be regarded as an attempt at concealment.

Pending during the time these payments were made, Spohn asserted, was a "very important matter concerning a Byllesby subsidiary, a Wisconsin utility."

Officers and agents of the company, Spohn said, received between 1927 and 1930 $268,511 in addition to their salaries. Also paid out by the officers was $844,182 during the same period which the firm's books fail to account for, he charged.

COTTON

American cotton markets showed a weak undertone yesterday. Contributing influences were lower prices in Liverpool, generally favorable crop reports and easiness in securities. Aggregate trade was not large, with support coming mainly from the trade and shorts. Closing prices on the Chicago Board of Trade were at net losses of .04 to .09 cent a pound, and other American markets were .07 to .11 cent lower.

Dispatches from Liverpool indicated a bearish feeling in the English trade, and reports indicated there was agitation for government assistance. Bombay was a free seller of futures in Liverpool, this being regarded as closing spreads between the English and the Indian markets.

Spot cotton closed .10 cent lower, with New Orleans, 8.80 cents; New York, 8.67 cents, and alveston and Houston, 8.50 cents a pound. Prices follow:

Where Stock and Bond Houses Find Advertising Profitable

EIGHTY-NINE STOCK AND BOND HOUSES advertised in The New York Times during March—43.5 per cent more than advertised in any other New York newspaper.

In March, too, The Times led every other newspaper in bank, bond and stock issue, financial notice and other financial advertising.

This marked preference of stock and bond houses and other financial advertisers for The Times is explained by the preference of America's primary financial audience for The Times also.

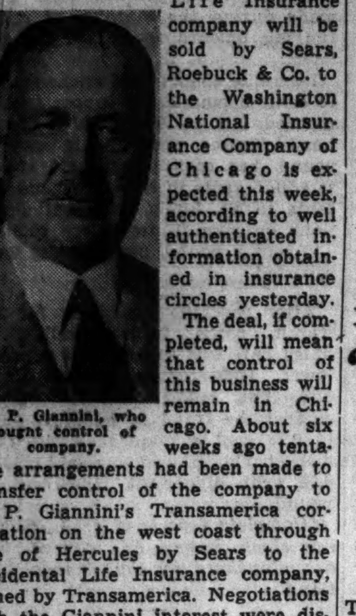
EXPECT CHICAGO FIRM TO ABSORB HERCULES LIFE

Retain 35 Millions Assets in City.

Announcement of a plan whereby the thirty-five million dollar Hercules Life Insurance company will be sold by Sears, Roebuck & Co. to the Washington National Insurance Company of Chicago is expected this week, according to well authenticated information obtained in insurance circles yesterday.



A. P. Giannini, who sought control of company.

The deal, if completed, will mean that control of this business will remain in Chicago. About six weeks ago tentative arrangements had been made to transfer control of the company to A. P. Giannini's Transamerica corporation on the west coast through sale of Hercules by Sears to the Occidental Life Insurance company, owned by Transamerica. Negotiations with the Giannini interest were discontinued April 14.

Want Assets Kept in Illinois.

At that time the management of Hercules announced that "public opinion appears to be strongly against the removal of the assets of the National Life so far from Illinois." Ernest Palmer, Illinois state director of insurance, was reported to be anxious to see control of the Hercules business stay in Illinois.

More than thirty-two million dollars' worth of the Hercules assets were taken over from the old National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, Chicago, which was thrown into receivership on Oct. 17, 1933. National Life policyholders were reinsured by Hercules in 1934 when the latter took over the former company's business subject to certain liens and restrictions.

Sears-Roebuck Abandons Field.

Sears, Roebuck & Co., sole stockholder of Hercules, announced in March that it had found that the writing of life insurance did not mix well with mail order selling. "We can't sell life insurance through a catalog," Gen. Robert E. Wood, president of Sears, explained.

Washington National Insurance company, it was learned yesterday, has already virtually agreed with the management of Sears-Roebuck to absorb the Hercules company through a proposed merger in the course of which the Hercules name would be eliminated. Both Sears-Roebuck and Washington National are expected to call special stockholders' meetings to ratify the deal.

The state insurance department is understood to have been informed of the details of the merger, although formal notification will not be made to the department until after the stockholders have voted.

Company Formed by Merger.

Washington National was formed in 1926 as a merger of several companies. It is a stock company doing business in forty-six states and the District of Columbia. It has more than 50 million dollars' worth of insurance in force.

Although the Washington National is officially listed as a Chicago company its executive offices were recently removed from Howard street to 610 Church street, Evanston. G. R. Kendall, president, said last night that the company was not yet ready to make a public statement concerning its negotiations.

Industrial Production in the United States as Reported by the Reserve Board Governors

'Pool' Upheld by High Court in Patent Suit

Washington, D. C., May 2.—(AP)—The General Talking Pictures corporation of New York has been infringing patents of the Western Electric company and others, the Supreme court decided today.

The decision, adopted by a 5 to 1 vote, brought a one-man dissent from Justice Hugo L. Black, President Roosevelt's first appointee to the court. Black contended the majority opinion "expanded the boundaries of patent monopoly" fixed by congress.

Justice Butler announced the court's decision. Justices Roberts, Cardozo, and Reed did not participate.

Amplifiers Involved.

The General Talking Pictures corporation contended that Western Electric, American Telephone and Telegraph company, and Electrical Research company products belonged to the "radio trust" which it said held a pool of electrical patents.

The patents at issue covered vacuum tube amplifiers which General Talking Pictures had purchased from the American Transformer company. American Transformer produced the amplifiers under a license from the so-called pool stipulating that they be used "only for radio, amateur, experimental, and broadcast reception." General Talking Pictures used the amplifiers in motion picture equipment leased to movie theaters.

Right to Sale Denied.

The majority of the court agreed with the patent holders' contention that American Transformer had no right to sell to General Talking Pictures. The sales were outside the scope of the Transformer company's license, the opinion said.

Black also dissented in a 6 to 1 decision in a bottle cap patent sent in which the Ferdinand Gutman Co., Inc., won from the Crown Cork and Seal company.

Black's remarks reminded observers that President Roosevelt, in his anti-trust message to congress last week, urged amendment of the patent laws to "prevent their use to suppress inventions and to create industrial monopolies."

Day's Sales on N. Y. Curb Are Smallest in 5 Years

New York, May 2. — [Special.] — Transactions on the New York Curb exchange today totaled 75,110 shares, the smallest volume since April 30, 1933, when 64,495 shares changed hands.

BETTER COLLECTIONS OF PROPERTY TAXES REPORTED BY CITIES

New York, May 2.—(AP)—Collection of general property taxes in the average American city, according to a Dun & Bradstreet survey issued today, for the fourth consecutive year in 1937 continued its rise from the low point of the depression. The business recession, however, was given as the cause of a slower rate of increase in 1937, compared with the three preceding years.

Compared with an average peak delinquency in 1933 of 26.35 per cent for 190 cities studied, the average in 1937 was only 11.3 per cent, the report said.

Changes in collection procedure or more vigorous methods were indicated as an influence in a majority of the 58 cities showing steady improvement.

Among cities listed, Miami, Fla., lowered its delinquency from 25.3 per cent in 1930 to 9.4 per cent last year. Madison, Wis., topped the list of cities with notably low tax delinquency last year with 0.5 per cent. Kenosha, Wis., came second with 0.6 per cent.

"The most distinguished record," said the report, "belongs to San Francisco with a delinquency of only 1.5 per cent."

MEXICO CUTS TARIF RATES 20 TO 125 PER CENT

MEXICO CITY, Mex., May 2.—(AP)—Mexican tarif rates were reduced today under terms of a decree by which they were raised drastically four months ago and Finance Minister Eduardo Suarez drafted legislation for further reductions.

The lower rates which become effective automatically were included in a decree issued by President Lazaro Cardenas in January. It increased duties on some 200 of Mexico's chief imports as much as 500 per cent for the first four months of the year and provided reductions ranging from 20 to 125 per cent for the remaining eight months.

$56,000 Suit Over Warants of Education Board Filed

Suit to recover $56,000 on Board of Education tax anticipation warants for 1929 was filed yesterday in Circuit court by the Boston Stock exchange on the basis of a recent federal court ruling that owners of educational and building fund warants should have been paid off on a prorata rather than numerical basis.

Goodyear Tire Omits Junior Stock Dividend

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber company omitted its common stock dividend, Standard Oil of New Jersey reduced its extra, and General Motors corporation ordered another 25 cent payment yesterday.

Goodyear directors decided to take no action on the common dividend "because of uncertainty as to business conditions and the future course of taxes." The regular $1.25 quarterly preferred dividend was declared.

Same as March Payment.

The General Motors dividend is the same amount as that paid in March, but sharply less than the payment a year ago. The corporation disbursed a total of $3.75 a share in 1937, including $1.50 in December, $1 each in September and June, and 25 cents in March. The usual preferred dividend was voted.

Standard Oil of New Jersey will pay its regular 50 cent semi-annual dividend and an extra of 50 cents on June 15. This compares with 50 cents regular and 75 cents extra in each of the three preceding half year periods.

Standard Oil of Indiana ordered payment of its regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents on June 15, the same as paid on March 15, when it discontinued extras. It paid $1.30 extra last year.

COCA-COLA CO., BARNSDALL OIL PROFITS HIGHER

Most Others Report Drop in Quarter.

Higher profits in the first quarter, compared with a year earlier, were reported yesterday by the Coca-Cola company and the Barnsdall Oil company. Most other firms reported lower earnings or net losses for the first three months.

Reflecting the sharp decline in the automobile business, Packard Motor Car company had a net loss, compared with a substantial profit in the March, 1937, quarter. Losses also were shown by Holland Furnace company, Granite City Steel company, and Schulte Retail Stores corporation.

Northern Indiana Public Service company showed a moderate decline in net income, compared with the 1937 first quarter. A heavy drop was reported by the Celanese corporation, maker of synthetic yarn and fiber, and the Sunshine Mining company, silver producer and the National Supply company, maker of oil field equipment, also showed a drop for the 1938 first quarter.

Vote 50 Cent Dividend.

Directors of the Coca-Cola company yesterday declared a dividend of 50 cents a common share, payable July 1, the same amount which was paid April 1. The report for the March quarter showed net income available for the common stock, after charges, federal income taxes, and class A dividend requirements, of $4,414,195, or $1.10 a share, compared with $3,803,289, or 95 cents a share, in 1937. March quarter net earnings before taxes were $5,945,995 in 1938 and $5,130,289 in 1937.

At the annual Coca-Cola stockholders' meeting yesterday, A. A. Acklin, vice president and assistant to the president, was elected a director, and all other directors were reëlected. Directors at the board meeting elected Price Gilbert Jr., now advertising manager, vice president. Other officers were reëlected.

Packard's Loss $389,430.

Packard's net loss of $389,430 for the first quarter compared with net profit in the 1937 quarter of $2,610,701, or 17 cents a common share.

Holland Furnace company's net loss of $196,412 in the March quarter reduced the corporation's profit for the twelve months ended March 31 to $1,402,052. In the first three months of 1937 net loss was $176,864, and for

Trafic of Air Lines in April Shows Big Gain Over Year Ago

Air lines yesterday reported large increases in April trafic compared with that of a year ago.

Charles A. Rheinstrom, vice president of American Airlines, Inc., said the company last month carried 3,685 passengers out of Chicago, an increase of 22.9 per cent over April, 1937, and 23.1 per cent more than in March. Last Sunday the company carried 203 revenue passengers out of Chicago, the largest number for any day this year.

United Air Lines estimated that passengers carried in April increased by approximately 45 per cent over April, 1937, and by 18 per cent over March of this year.

United Carries 172 In Day.

R. F. Ahrens, district trafic manager, said the total of 172 passengers carried Sunday from Chicago by United was the heaviest day's trafic of the year and a gain of 25 per cent from the best previous day of 1938.

Ralph L. Heininger, district trafic manager for Chicago and Southern Air Lines, reported that the number of passengers out of Chicago in April increased 52 per cent over last year and 18 per cent over March of this year. A third flight was added to the Chicago-New Orleans schedule the first of this month.

Eastern Air Sets Record.

Capt. E. V. Rickenbacker, president of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., announced the number of passengers carried by the company in April was 53 per cent higher than a year ago and that it set a new record for April travel. On April 29 a new peak of 643 for passengers carried in a single day was established. Revenue passenger miles flown last month were up 40 per cent from 1937.

Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., and Northwest Airlines, Inc., reported that April trafic figures were not yet available, but said substantial increases had been made.

SELL WHITNEY ASSETS; INCLUDE TRADING POST, 30 POUNDS OF ASPIRIN

New York, May 2.—[Special.]—The old United States Steel corporation trading post on the floor of the stock exchange, which had been the property of Richard Whitney [former head of the exchange] since 1930, was sold at auction for $5 today. It went to a machinery dealer, who said he bought it as a "speculation." Another interesting item, sold on the block for 50 cents, was a thirty pound can of aspirin tablets.

The sale, first public action in the liquidation of Richard Whitney & Co., bankrupt, brought $3,108. Company fixtures and equipment were put up.

The auction was held by order of the federal court for the benefit of creditors. Whitney is serving a five to ten year sentence in Sing Sing prison for misuse of customers' securities.

The steel post sold today was the one at which Whitney, acting as broker for the bankers' pool at the time of the 1929 market crash, offered to buy 10,000 shares of United States Steel common stock at $205 a share when the price on the ticker was $195 a share.

Customs Collections Sag at Chicago During April

Customs collections in Chicago last month amounted to $782,693, according to a report issued yesterday by Joseph A. Ziemba, collector of customs for the port of Chicago. This was $915,558 less than April, 1937.

TREASURY TAKES UP FDIC NOTES; AVOID BOND SALE

Washington, D. C., May 2.—[Special.]—Again avoiding open market sales of government bonds which might put a check on bond prices, the treasury revealed today that on April 29 it had redeemed in cash $10,000,000 of special notes held by the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

The Federal Deposit Insurance corporation was in need of cash after making several bank loans and had to sell securities to obtain funds. Two alternatives were open. One was to sell government bonds held in the FDIC account in the open market and the other was for the treasury to redeem a part of the special notes which it had issued to the FDIC.

The treasury announced a record high was paid for its 91 day bills today. The average price for $50,000,000 of the securities was 99.992 per cent for $100 face value. This is equivalent to borrowing money at 33-1,000 of 1 per cent.

Federal Suit to Dissolve Aluminum Group Delayed

New York, May 2.—[Special.]—The trial of the government's suit to dissolve the Aluminum Company of America and its association with subsidiaries and affiliates on the ground of alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, was postponed today because of the pendency of motions to set aside subpenas served upon both sides and issues raised by the Aluminum company and other defendants concerning the 605 interrogatories. No date for the opening of the trial was fixed.

STOP TINKERING FOR FEW YEARS, ALDRICH PLEADS

Declares Business Needs to 'Breathe.'

Washington, D. C., May 2. — [Special.]—A breathing spell of two or three years "during which both government and business can consolidate, modify, and assimilate what already has been done," was proposed here tonight by Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank of New York, as means for bringing lasting economic recovery to America.

Aldrich made this proposal, along with vigorous criticism of the administration, at a dinner of the American section of the International Chamber of Commerce, meeting in connection with the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

His suggestions were given added significance because he was one of the sixteen business men who signed the proffer of coöperation delivered to President Roosevelt last week by John W. Hanes of the Securities and Exchange commission.

Attacks Spending Program.

"If such a period of pause and quiet could be established," Aldrich said, "we would have in the industries producing capital goods and equipment an immensely promising prospect of private spending."

This, he implied, could be substituted for the President's newly proposed program of public spending, against which he launched what was called an "analytical" attack in the course of his remarks.

Also, he said, the proposed "breathing spell" would give time for quiet study on the basis of further reforms. But most of all it would give time for business to recover. Too much energy and thought has had to be given by business men during the

Bequeath experienced management, too

When you leave property to your dependents, by Will or otherwise, you may also be handing on a heavy burden. For estate management is a responsibility that often requires more time and experience than many individuals can provide.

Many men and women of means have discovered how to relieve their dependents of this burden through the medium of Trusts. For when you place your estate in the hands of The Northern Trust Company, you accomplish two things. You bequeath to your dependents the income and protection afforded by the principal of the estate. And you bequeath them also an experienced and responsible management.

In its 48 years, The Northern Trust Company has earned a reputation for efficient and considerate estate management—management that combines specialized understanding of estate problems with constant effort to carry out the spirit of the wishes of estate owners.

When you appoint this institution, your estate benefits from the long and varied experience of both the officers and the directors of the company.

At your convenience, you and your attorney are invited to discuss with the officers of the Trust Department, without obligation, the particular problems confronting your estate.

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 2—Lack of interest, combined with a week-end budget of unfavorable news developments, resulted in the fourth successive day of decline on the stock market today. Opening fractions to 2 points lower, prices stayed depressed until the third hour, when a feeble upturn enable the market to recover slightly.

Volume for the day was around 354,000 shares, the smallest in more than three years.

Most traders were loathe to leave their sideline positions in view of the uncertainty surrounding the financial situation. Those who did enter the market had to contend with continuing unfavorable earnings and dividend reports, the forecast of lower steel operations, and the resumption of the drive by the administration on the wages and hours bill.

Another result of the apathy was a considerable narrowing of the list, only 599 issues making appearances. Of these, 373 closed lower, 74 higher, and 152 unchanged from Saturday's finals.

Among the most active in the industrial division were Anaconda Copper, Chrysler, General Motors, International Nickel, U. S. Steel, U. S. Rubber, Bethlehem Steel, General Electric, Radio Corporation, Socony-Vacuum, Texas Corporation, and Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing. Railway stocks continued affected by the wage controversy, with the result that the group was neglected. Fractional declines were the rule.

Allied Chemical firmed a fraction in the chemical group, but others lost up to 1 point. Farm equipment shares lost fractions to 1¼ points, this loss accruing to Allis-Chalmers.

In the building shares U. S. Gypsum found some takers and jumped 2¾ points. Johns-Manville moved in the opposite direction, as did most of the others. Sears-Roebuck was a big loser in a fractionally lower merchandising group, slumping 1⅝ points.

American Telephone and Telegraph and Western Union in the communication group lost 1 point each.

New York Bonds.

New York, May 2.—(AP)—United States government issues took the leadership of the bond market today, but corporate loans failed to respond.

With trading at the lowest level in 20 years it appeared much of the list sagged from neglect rather than active pressure. Transactions totaled $3,597,450 face value against $5,000,500 Friday, and were the slowest for a full day since July 5, 1918.

Gains in the federals ranging from 1-32d to 9-32ds of a point carried this group back to around the high marks of the April advance. Last week prices dipped a little under profit selling. Signs of buying revival today were associated with predictions of further rise in excess reserves under the government's credit expansion move.

Some of the larger declines in the corporate list were attributed to unfavorable earnings statements or reports of currently unsatisfactory business.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stock prices were lower again yesterday, with only 12,000 shares traded. The TRIBUNE average of 20 stocks closed at 8.19, off 0.14.

Borg-Warner, most active issue, slipped ½ to 20 on 1,650 shares traded. Commonwealth Edison closed at 23, off ¼. Cities Service new common, in which trading began last week, broke 1⅞ points to close at 7⅞. Unchanged were Central and South West common at 1½, and Chicago corporation at 2. Butler Brothers common closed off ⅛ at 5⅞.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks were quiet yesterday and quotations were little changed from Saturday. Continental Illinois National slipped another $1 a share to $54.50 bid, $56 asked. City National also was $1 lower at $125 bid, $128 asked. Other downtown bank quotations were unchanged.

Commodities

Led by tin, export copper, and some other metals, most commodities for both immediate and future delivery again declined yesterday under moderate selling pressure and a general reluctance of consumers to make commitments.

Wholesale cash commodities, as measured by the Associated Press index of thirty-five staples, established a new 1938 low for the fourth consecutive day, falling 0.29 to 6655 [1926 equals 100], a new low mark since July 10, 1934. The Dow-Jones commodity futures index slumped 0.51 to 48.33 [1924-'26 equals 100], the lowest level since Dec. 29, 1933, when the index finished at 48.30.

Freely offered in the New York market, tin for immediate delivery fell 1.40 cents to 35.25 cents. Tin for future delivery sold 1.05 to 1.10 cents a pound lower at the close. In the export copper market sales were reported as low as 9.65 cents a pound, off 0.20 from the preceding close, although a few transactions were made during the morning at prices ranging upward to around the 9.85 level.

OUTLOOK GOOD, CREAMERY TELLS STOCKHOLDERS

Heads of Other Firms Discuss Conditions.

Addressing stockholders at annual meetings yesterday, the president of a large creamery business reported prospects reasonably good, the head of an eastern public utility company said prospects were favorable for dividend payments through the rest of this year and the head of a chain store company said the business decline was less than expected.

Clinton H. Haskell, president of the Beatrice Creamery company, Chicago, declared the immediate outlook of the company is good and said final results depend largely on weather conditions over the next six months. The larger part of the company's profits are obtained between May and October.

Current sales, Haskell said, are equal to those of a year ago and the volume during March was slightly larger. In the first six weeks of the company's fiscal year, or to mid-April, the company's ice cream business was 8 per cent larger than a year ago and the milk business increased 1.6 per cent.

Can Expand Lines.

Stockholders approved an amendment to the company's articles of incorporation authorizing it to engage in additional lines of business, including the distribution of unallied food lines, the sale of baking powder and the sale of the by-products of milk. The Beatrice company normally has a surplus of buttermilk and skimmed milk and is said to have a substantial promise in the by-products field. The company also is trying out the sale of frozen products in the winter months when less storage is required for ice cream and it is trying to develop a new baking powder.

John E. Zimmerman, president of the United Gas Improvement company, told the stockholders meeting at Philadelphia that he believes the company can maintain the present dividend to the end of the year if nothing unforeseen or of an unusual character develops. The company's dividend on the common stock is on a $1 annual basis.

Decline Under Expectations.

B. Earl Puckett told stockholders of the Allied Stores corporation, Paterson, N. J., that sales of the company for the quarter ended April 30 were approximately 7 per cent lower than in the corresponding 1937 period. He said the decline was less than expected, an earlier estimate placing the decline at 9 per cent. Inventories have been reduced 12 per cent as compared with a year ago, Puckett said. The company operates largely in the east.

A. Jacobsen, president of the Amerada corporation, a petroleum company, told stockholders meeting in New York that profits for the first quarter of this year were slightly below those for the first quarter of 1937. He explained that the company's production this year was close to that of last year, but that proration of oil was holding down earnings slightly.

At the annual meeting of the Tubize Chatillon corporation, rayon manufacturer, it was announced that the company had a net loss of $31,964 after all charges compared with a profit of $369,741 in the first quarter of 1937.

WHEAT RECEDES ON OPTIMISTIC CROP FORECASTS

Wheat prices declined ½ to 1¼ cents yesterday with the July delivery on the Chicago Board of Trade touching 77½ cents a bushel, the lowest at which any future had sold since May, 1934. May wheat showed the most strength, rallying 1 cent from the early low on short covering and closing at 78⅞ cents.

Liquidation by holders of future contracts, induced by further rains in the spring wheat belt and optimistic reports regarding the outlook for the winter sown grain, was responsible for the decline. Bearish sentiment was increased by the failure of the break to bring in large foreign orders for cash wheat.

September corn sold at a new low price for the season yesterday. Weakness in wheat and scattered liquidation combined with hedging pressure more than offset buying attributed to exporters. Closing trades were at net losses of ¾ to 1⅛ cents.

Oats and rye weakened in sympathy with other grains. Oats closed 1 to 1¼ cents lower and rye was ½ to ⅞ cent a bushel lower. Lard futures declined 5 to 7½ cents per 100 pounds.

SALES OF GRAIN FUTURES IN APRIL UP FROM MARCH

Speculative interest in grain at the Chicago Board of Trade showed a slight increase in April. Sales of all futures, as reported by the Commodity Exchange administration, aggregated 622,078,000 bushels, or 4,476,000 bushels in excess of March, but were nearly one billion bushels below the business transacted in April, 1937.

Average daily sales of grain futures in April, 24,883,000 bushels, were the largest since January, when they averaged 27,724,000 bushels. In April, 1937, daily sales averaged 61,600,000 bushels. Sales of bushels follow:

Business Failures Increase Over Week and Year Ago

New York, May 2.—(AP)—Business failures in the United States in the week ended April 28 totaled 278, a rise of 52 over the preceding week and 95 higher than in the corresponding 1937 week, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

Day of Diesels in Passenger Cars Is Far Off, Says Expert

Contrary to popular belief, it will be a long time before the Diesel engine is developed sufficiently to make it practical for general use either in passenger automobiles or in airplanes, Dr. D. P. Barnard, chief of the engine laboratory of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, declared yesterday.

Among the present disadvantages for passenger car use as compared with modern automobile engines are costs of the Diesel engine and its lesser degree of flexibility, Dr. Barnard said. Disadvantages for airplane use, he said, are liability to mechanical failure, weight, and vibration.

Dr. Barnard said the Diesel engine—compression ignition engine—can be used successfully only where its advantages justify greatly increased investment and various important concessions.

Fuel Injection Systems Costly.

"Present fuel injection systems for Diesels of small size cost about as much as a complete gasoline engine of the same capacity," he said. "And to date a cheaper and more successful type of fuel injection system is not available. For this and similar reasons a small Diesel costs inevitably two to three times as much as a comparable gasoline engine.

"The Diesel's most logical place on the highway is under conditions of continuous use and substantially constant scheduled speeds. Obviously, it does not fit the requirements for the great bulk of passenger trafic.

"It should be noted that the small Diesel, which has received considerable publicity recently, is not comparable to an average or even a large gasoline automobile engine. It is being developed to fill a place for which there is at present no other engine so logical. Although there is every indication that such engines eventually will be used in large numbers in commercial vehicles, their net effect will probably be to increase the total demand for petroleum fuels rather than to shift demand from gasoline to heavy fuel."

Small Diesels Are Finicky.

Barnard said that small, comparatively high output Diesels are in an embryonic state as far as their performance is concerned. Much experimenting will be necessary before the exactly proper method of fueling them will be known, he continued. He said that this type of engine is much more finicky about its fuel diet than the spark ignition engine. Large and heavy Diesels, he said, are less finicky and will burn heavy black oils.

"Diesels are very far indeed from supplanting gasoline, spark ignition engines," he continued. "This is nowhere more the case than in the air. They are at least ten years behind the gasoline engine in development.

COCA-COLA CO., BARNSDALL OIL PROFITS HIGHER

Most Others Report Drop in Quarter.

the twelve months to March 31, 1937, net income totaled $1,394,265.

National Supply's gross income from operations in the first quarter fell to $3,571,036, against $5,557,257 in the 1937 quarter, which brought a drop in net income to $1,094,854, compared with $2,851,617 in the 1937 period.

Net sales for 1937 of the United Cigar-Whalen Stores corporation amounted to $54,919,400, a decrease of about three-quarters of 1 per cent from 1936. The company's profit for the period from July 17 to Dec. 31, 1937, was $200,716. No comparable 1936 figure was available, because the company was operated by a trustee in reorganization proceedings until July 17, Allen L. Woodworth, president, told stockholders in the report. He said labor troubles had affected the company's operations in the period before and shortly after the reorganization was completed.

Peerless corporation, brewery operator, Cleveland, with higher profits for the six months to March 31, had an indicated increase in earnings for the March quarter, compared with a year ago. Its indicated March quarter net profit was $172,721, against $113,261 in the first three months of 1937.

Business Bits

Sir Harold Bellman, British authority on housing, will speak on "Business Recovery and the Housing Problem in Great Britain" tonight in Harris hall on the Evanston campus of Northwestern university. The lecture is free. Sir Harold is managing director of the $240,000,000 Abbey Road Building society, English equivalent of a building and loan association, whose president is Sir Josiah Stamp, internationally known economist. Sir Harold twice has been president of the International Congress of Building Societies. His American tour, also including speeches at Yale, Ohio State, and American university at Washington, D. C., is expected to interest those wishing to compare British with American housing methods and problems.

Sir Harold Bellman.

Charles A. Rheinstrom, vice president in charge of sales for American Airlines, Inc., announced that Ruthrauff & Ryan has been retained as advertising agent of the line. P. P. Willis, who formerly handled the account, has joined Ruthrauff & Ryan and will be account executive. The line plans to concentrate on newspaper and magazine advertising the rest of this year.

Shearson Hammill & Co. announce admission of Lawrence Howe to general partnership in the firm.

John H. Pitt, formerly grain market analyst for Thomson & McKinnon, has become associated with the grain department of Sutro Brothers & Co. Warren Danley will continue with Sutro, handling personal accounts.

Blair, Bonner & Co. announced appointment of Don G. Miehls as manager of its municipal bond department. Miehls has been assistant vice president of F. S. Yantis & Co. for the last five years.

BRITAIN, JAPAN AGREE ON USE OF CHINESE TARIFS

LONDON, May 2.—(AP)—The British government announced tonight a "temporary" settlement with Japan by which Chinese customs receipts will be used to meet in full the servicing of China's foreign loans based on such receipts.

The announcement was made in a communique which said duties levied in ports in Japanese occupied territory in China will continue to be deposited in the Yokohama specie bank.

[The Yokohama specie bank is Japan's semi-official foreign trade and exchange organ. Customs collections at Chinese ports which have come under Japanese control have been banked in it. Foreign loans and Boxer rebellion indemnities held chiefly by the United States, Britain, France, and Japan, total about $216,000,000.]

FREIGHT TRAFIC GAINS SLIGHTLY ON THREE ROADS

First carloading reports made public yesterday indicated that railroad freight trafic was slightly higher last week than in the preceding week. The Baltimore and Ohio, Rock Island, and Milwaukee roads recorded gains, but figures still were far behind those of last year.

The Rock Island reported a decline of 13.4 per cent from year ago figures, a better showing than in the week of April 23, when the decline amounted to 15.1 per cent. On line loadings of the Milwaukee were down 15.1 per cent, against 16.1 per cent in the week ended April 23.

Car loadings reported yesterday, together with comparisons, follow:

APRIL RECEIPTS OF LIVE STOCK AT 51 YEAR LOW

Only 679,577 Shipped to Chicago Market.

Receipts of meat animals at Chicago last month were smallest in 51 years for April. The total number of cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep received at 679,577 head compared with 731,963 a year ago and 682,085 two years ago, both abnormally low totals. Prior to 1933 April receipts were seldom below 1,000,000. The total in 1932 was 1,033,000 and in 1931 it was 1,204,000.

Cattle receipts were cut to 135,334, the smallest for April since 1887. This compared with 156,715 in 1937 and 166,759 in 1936. Calves at 31,069 were smallest for the month since 1901.

Hog Total Abnormally Low.

The hog total at 274,184 stood second lowest for April in 55 years. Sheep at 238,990 were above 1937 and 1936, but except for those years they were lightest for April since 1927.

Chicago handled 3,188,438 head of meat animals during the first four months of 1938, compared with 3,217,770 a year ago and 2,948,193 two years ago. All classes except sheep showed a decrease during the four months compared with 1937. Hogs and sheep receipts were larger than in the four months of 1936. Cattle and calves were smaller.

Live Stock Prices Decline.

Further declines were registered in live costs of most meat animals yesterday. Prices of the three principal classes averaged the lowest in four years for the first market session of May.

Hog receipts were largest in ten weeks and prices the lowest of the year. Losses of 10 cents were general, with some kinds as much as 15 cents under last week's close.

Price cuts of 10 to 15 cents were general in the cattle trade after a steady opening. The sharpest decline of the season swept the trade for old mutton sheep.

Railroads' Ills Are Linked to Straitjacket Regulation

Milwaukee, Wis., May 2.—[Special.]—There are five primary causes for the desperate financial plight of America's railroads, Donald D. Conn, executive vice president of the Transportation Association of America, Chicago, today told the Catholic Social Action conference in Milwaukee. These factors he listed as follows:

1. The accumulative effects of years of restrictive, rather than constructive legislation.
2. The inability of railroad managements to keep rising costs in line with costs in other industries and with changing price cycles, due again in large measure, to the strait-jacket of regulation.
3. Governmental policies which restrict production, especially of farm products.

Calls Rates Too Low.

4. A level of rates which has been indefensibly low in the public interest from 1910 down to the present time.
5. The unnecessary development and promotion of competitive forms of transportation by the government.

Conn said that the separately managed transportation enterprises in the United States consist of 139 class 1 railroads, the express companies, 500 short lines, 62,000 truck companies, 4,700 bus companies, 2,600 water lines, 19 air lines, and 52 pipe line companies, and of all these only the pipe lines are not in precarious situation.

As to the first primary cause, Conn said that the consolidation of railroads progressed satisfactorily up to the time they were stopped by the application of the Sherman anti-trust act. Asserting the Pennsylvania railroad is composed of more than 600 separate companies and the New York Central of more than 500, he said these railroads provide examples of what can be accomplished through consolidations such as are now forbidden.

Unrelated Laws Cited.

As a matter of fact, he said, all the major regulatory acts affecting each form of transportation are unrelated one to the other.

Discussing the second factor, Conn said that the railroads have been unable to reduce costs largely because of demands for legislation which would artificially and unnecessarily increase employment.

As to the third, he said the program of scarcity as applied to the farms has greatly reduced railroad freight volume. Concerning the fourth factor he said that the American public never has paid a fair value for transportation service.

SURFACE LINES' TRAFIC LOWER; BUSES, 'L' GAIN

Sharply lower trafic in April, compared with a year ago, was reported yesterday by the Chicago Surface Lines. Moderate gains for the month were shown by the Chicago Motor Coach company and the elevated lines.

The surface lines' preliminary figures showed a drop of 7.37 per cent in the number of revenue passengers carried last month, compared with April, 1937.

Passengers carried by the motor coach company numbered 1.9 per cent more in April this year than in the 1937 month. For the first four months of the year trafic was up 2.2 per cent over 1937.

The Chicago Rapid Transit company [the "L"] had 0.84 per cent more trafic last month than a year ago. Passengers carried in the first four months rose 1.11 per cent over 1937.

ASSAILS FEAR OF FUTURE IN BUSINESS FIELD

Belief that the present business outlook is essentially favorable was expressed yesterday by Howard W. Dunbar, president of the National Machine Tool Builders' association, at the opening of the associations 36th annual spring convention in the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Dunbar attacked the attitude of fear which he said pervades all business. He said elimination of this fear would bring a renewal of confidence leading to a release of capital into industrial ventures and ultimately to a renewed prosperity.

Col. Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, will address members of the association at this morning's session. Malcolm W. Bingay, editorial director of the Detroit Free Press, spoke at a dinner meeting last night. The two-day convention will end tonight.

IOWA PACKING CO. CITED IN REPORT OF NLRB OFFICIAL

A recommendation that the Iowa Packing company discontinue alleged domination, formation, or administration of labor organizations at its Des Moines, Ia., plant was made yesterday to the National Labor Relations board by Trial Examiner Peter F. Ward.

Examiner Ward made the recommendation in the action brought by the United Packing House Workers Local Industrial union against the packing company. The union, a C. I. O. affiliate, charged the packing company with unfair labor practices, alleging that the firm had interfered with a workers' election in April, 1937.

The company was granted a ten day stay in which to file briefs.

Western Electric Shows Public How Phone Is Made

The Western Electric company's "industrial house party," showing how telephones are made, opened last night at the Hawthorne works. The exhibit, which will be open evenings from 6 p. m. to 11 p. m. demonstrates actual operations in the manufacture of telephones, cable, and wire.

Founders' Shares.

Special stock known as founders' stock is sometimes issued to promoters and organizers of a corporation. The practice is more common in England than the United States, but a number of American corporations have founders' shares outstanding.

The stock frequently carries special voting rights, sometimes the sole voting power in a corporation. This is true, for example, of the New York Shipbuilding corporation whose 175,000 founders' shares have exclusive voting power. Founders' shares also may carry special dividend provisions, giving them preference over other stock.

Founders' shares may be issued to promoters of a corporation as compensation for their services. The usual object in creating such a special class of stock is to perpetuate control of the corporation in the hands of the original organizers and their successors.

FIRST QUARTER RAIL INCOME FAR BELOW YEAR AGO

The net operating income of the class 1 railroads—railroads with gross revenues of $1,000,000 or more annually—for the first quarter of 1938 totaled $19,276,663, against $147,514,808 in the like period of 1937, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday.

The 1938 first quarter net operating income represented a return of 0.39 per cent on the property investment, against a return of 2.95 per cent for the first quarter of 1937, the association said.

Gross operating revenues for the first quarter of 1938 stood at $813,334,757, against $1,031,172,599 for the corresponding 1937 period and $1,316,100,042 for the like 1930 period.

The trustees of the Western Pacific railroad yesterday said in their annual pamphlet report that the 1937 net loss was $3,450,965, against net loss of $2,421,134 in 1936. Operating revenues increased from $14,959,900 in 1936 to $16,310,973 in 1937 and operating expenses increased from $2,886,816 in 1936 to $15,311,709 in 1937. The Alton had a net loss of $231,769 in March, against a net income of $93,533 in March, 1937.

RAILS PREPARE PAY CUT NOTICES TO 21 UNIONS

Notices stating that the railroad managements will put into effect on July 1 a 15 per cent reduction in wages are being prepared by the individual railroads and will be placed in the hands of the 21 railroad brotherhoods within a week, it was announced yesterday.

After the brotherhoods have received the notices it will be possibly another thirty days before the railroad executives and officials of the brotherhoods meet to discuss the wage situation.

STOP TINKERING FOR FEW YEARS, ALDRICH ASKS

Pleads a Breathing Spell to Aid Business.

last few years in adjusting themselves to shifting governmental policies, he said.

Too much time has had to be spent with lawyers which could more profitably have been spent with engineers and salesmanagers, he added.

A part of Aldrich's speech was devoted to a sharply critical discussion of the government pump priming program.

Aldrich asserted the program was based upon an economic fallacy, derived from the writings of Karl Marx, and said it held possibilities of a "crash of the government credit and a debauch of the currency."

Lumping the lending-spending plan with its allied program for making some $2,000,000,000 additional lendable funds available to the banks, Aldrich said "we appear to be throwing away all safeguards, removing all brakes, and heading for disaster."

Questions Roosevelt Estimates.

He questioned the President's estimate that the treasury would have to raise less than $1,500,000,000 in new money between now and July 1, 1939, even with the new program. He said this calculation did not take into consideration the deficit on the basis of the existing spending program. Considering this and a number of other factors, he figured that the excess of spending over revenues would exceed $5,000,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year 1939, not taking into account the disbursements by the Reconstruction Finance corporation. In this connection he said:

"We have already increased our national debt to a dangerously high level."

Blames Policies for Slump.

He blamed the depression upon governmental policies which, he said, in the last few years had been directed at increasing the income of the consumers and at the same time diminishing savings for use in investments, in creating new capital, and in maintaining existing capital. Meanwhile, he said, reforms have come too rapidly.

Lammot du Pont, president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., told the chamber delegates that business and reëmployment are being held back by lack of "enterprise capital," which he defined as capital for long time investment. He said a "spirit of spending" and regulation of management by the government are making enterprise capital scarce.

Laws a Brake, He Charges.

"The regulations of government agencies act as a brake on the creation of enterprise capital," the industrialist said.

Asserting there was a lack of those who own capital who are willing to risk it, du Pont said, "no industry can long proceed without enterprise capital."

George A. Houston, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, said "there is no lack of investment resources, but there is a lack of willingness on the part of management to hazard funds in the face of constantly diminishing rewards to business."

Thomas J. Watson, president of the international chamber, hailed "a trend toward a spirit of accord and compromise in international relationships, and a decrease in international trade barriers." He deplored what he called "trade barriers within our own country." These, he said, were "excessive corporate taxes," "class feeling," "political strife," and "unjust criticism of business."

About 2,500 business men from all parts of the country are here for the meeting.

STEEL OUTPUT DOWN TO 30.7% FOR THIS WEEK

Steel production in the United States has declined to 30.7 per cent of capacity this week, compared with 32 per cent last week, according to estimates made yesterday by the American Iron and Steel institute.

Mills were operating at 32.6 per cent of capacity a month ago, a decline of 3.1 points having occurred from the preceding week, when production was at the highest level this year.

This week's decrease is of a seasonal nature, similar setbacks having been reported in each of the years 1934-'37.

A year ago the industry was operat- 1934-'37. A year ago the industry was operating at 91 per cent of capacity.

C.&O. Management Assails Banker Drive for Proxies

Cleveland, O., May 2.—(AP)—The Chesapeake and Ohio railway management urged stockholders in a letter today to resist a solicitation of proxies by Earle Bailie, banker. Bailie, who last week unsuccessfully attempted to bring peace between Robert R. Young and the Guaranty Trust company of New York in a battle which involves control of the road, yesterday started a proxy campaign of his own. He proposed to add himself, John L. Dickinson, Charleston, W. Va., banker, and John B. Hollister, Cincinnati attorney, to the C. & O. board.

May Dividend and Interest to Be Less than Year Ago

Sharply lower dividend disbursements and slightly lower interest payments for this month, compared with May, 1937, were forecast by the New York Journal of Commerce yesterday. The dividend estimate was $98,579,000, compared with $120,996,000 in the 1937 month, and interest was estimated at $192,940,000, against $196,835,000. The estimated combined total of interest and dividends amounted to $291,519,000, against $317,831,000 in May, 1937.

GEN. FOODS WILL SELL NEW STOCK TO BANK GROUP

New York, May 2.—[Special.]—Stockholders of the General Foods corporation at a special meeting today approved the company's agreement with a syndicate of bankers for the sale to the group of 150,000 shares of new $4 preferred stock at $98.25 a share.

C. M. Chester, chairman, revealed to stockholders that the issue price by the bankers will be 101. Proceeds to the company from the sale will be $14,737,500. There is a provision that the stock is redeemable at the company's option at any time on at least thirty days' notice at $110 a share on or before May 1, 1943, and at $107.50 thereafter, Chester pointed out.
